School Geography.
IN the Motoring World Wolverhampton continues to be noted for the excellent material it puts into its wares, and particularly is this true of the STAR CARS. These, alas, are little known in Ireland, yet no Cars are so suitable for hard usage. The STAR Works at Wolverhampton is nearly 30 years old; some STAR Cars over 20 years old are still in active service; 4 years ago the present Chassis design was perfected, yet in these four years, so good is the Wolverhampton material, 2,500 Owners have spent less than £1 each on spare parts! The 12/25 Four-Seater costs £460, delivered—this STAR is worth following! May we send you the Free State Catalogue, if you cannot immediately call for a trial run?

WOMAN AND HER HOME.

THE UBIQUITOUS UMBRELLA.

STATISTICIANS are wonderful fellows! One of them has actually estimated that in the past two years—during which time the newspapers have been able to forecast the day's weather with accuracy—a sum of £3,800,000 has been saved in umbrella wear and tear. Who was the man—or was it a woman?—who first invented the umbrella? Statues are erected to those who have spent their lives working for the good of humanity, but no memorial tells the tale of this unknown benefactor, no stone marks the spot where the first umbrella was unfurled.

The umbrella was originally used in hot countries as a shelter from the scorching rays of the sun—the word, literally, means a little shade—later it came into its true sphere of usefulness in our changeable climate as a protection from the rain.

Among the ancient Greeks and Romans the umbrella was used principally by women, as it was considered effeminate for men. It was certainly known in England as early as the 17th century, and a traveller named Jonas Hanway, who died in 1786, is credited with being the first Englishman who habitually used one. At first they were very heavy and clumsy, with thick ribs of cane or walebone, and an oiled silk covering—later Gingham became fashionable. In the National Museum, Kildare street, there is a huge silk umbrella, with whalebone ribs, which is belived to be the first of its kind ever used in Ireland, and a few weeks ago one of the original checked Gingham umbrellas, over a 100 years old, was presented to the museum, where it is now on view.

Some years ago umbrellas with very tall handles rejoiced in the name of "husband-beaters," and we may thank Dickens for the nickname of "Gamp," which is still applied to bulky or unsightly umbrellas, but who first called them Brollies is "wrop up in mystery." The greatest innovation of late years was the advent of the "chubby." Several other names, such as "Stumpy," were exploited by the manufacturers, but proved unattractive, and chubby they remain. At first people looked askance at them, and only the ultra-fashionable dared to purchase. An umbrella which could not serve as a walking stick on occasion was a daring experiment, but soon their sturdy usefulness conquered prejudice, and for travelling and shopping they are ideal.

In Dublin the only serious rival to the chubby is the umbrella, beloved of race-goers, and members of the R.D.S., with its convenient handle which opens to form a seat. Among the enormous variety of modern handles, wooden ones, carved and coloured to represent parrots and ducks, have been in great demand. Now dogs are competing for pride of place. In London the dernier cri is a carved portrait of some popular stage favourite or political leader. We have also seen the Shah of Persia, with crimson fez and long, black tassel, and a Chinaman, complete with pigtail; both these appendages supply a loop to slip over the wrist; and to make the picture still more realistic each chubby is finished off with two tiny feet in the place where the ferule used to be. Some of the thicker handles unscrew, and hold powder-puff, scent bottle, or cigarette holder.

But the umbrella has other uses. From very early times it was regarded as an insignia of royalty. In the sculptured tablets of ancient Nineveh and Egypt we see processions, in which slaves hold huge umbrellas over the heads of kings and high dignatories, and East of Suez they are still used on State occasions, and give an air of dignity and aloofness to the potentates under their shadow.

In the recently published pictures of the funeral procession of Queen Supayalat, widow of King Thibaw, last King of Burma, we see the golden coffin surrounded by a crowd of wonderfully decorated white umbrellas. It was to this queen that Kipling referred in "Mandalay," when he made the British soldier say:

"'Er petticoat was yaller, an' 'er little cap was green,
An' 'er name was Supi-yaw-lat—jes the same as Theebaw's Queen."

In the middle of the 19th Century tiny parasols, with folding handles, were carried by the crinolined leaders of fashion; but, as hats then were as tiny as skirts were voluminous, they answered their purpose of shielding pretty faces from the sun. At the end of the century no summer toilette was considered complete without a parasol—chiffon, lace, and the more serviceable chine silk shared the honours. Then came the practical en-tout-cas, and for some years the parasol suffered eclipse—except in the case of the sturdy cretonne. Gay umbrellas have cheered up our wet days, but have not succeeded in supplanting their pretty sisters; and the shops just now are full of dainty and alluring creations.

An appeal has been published in a French newspaper begging the Prince of Wales, as "the undisputed leader of fashion in France just as much as in England," to set the fashion of once more carrying an umbrella.

The writer bemoans the disdain in which it is held by the young people of France, and deplores the heavy bills parents had to pay for new clothes to replace those destroyed during the heavy spring rains.

He concludes: "It is on behalf of these fathers of families that we beg of you, Monseigneur, to intervene. Carry an umbrella when it rains; carry it with ostentation, with pleasure, with affectation, with chic. The act will be copied, and soon umbrellas will be seen again in Paris if you raise the standard in London."

VALENTINE DAY.

A detachable Jumper Cape in coffee-coloured Frisca over a two-piece suit of the Frisca and silk crêpe in harlequin pattern of bright cherry red on a flax blue ground.

AFTERNOON TEA DAINTIES.

PRUNE SANDWICHES.

Ingredients.—One pound prunes stewed to a thick pulp, with sugar to sweeten; half gill cream (whipped), quarter pound ground almonds, little vanilla essence, thin slices white bread and butter.

Method. — Mix all well together, and spread on the buttered bread. Sandwich.

WALNUT AND DATE SANDWICHES.

Ingredients.—Half pound dates (stoned and chopped), quarter pound walnuts (chopped), half gill cream, slices of thin brown bread and butter.

Method.—Mix dates, walnuts, and cream together, spread on the buttered bread. Sandwich.

MELTING MOMENTS.

Ingredients. — Eight ounces cornflour, one teaspoonful baking powder, six ounces butter, three ounces caster sugar, two eggs, flavouring of lemon or vanilla.

Method.—Measure out the ingredients. Butter two dozen small patty tins. Cream the butter and sugar together. Beat up the eggs, and add them alternately with the cornflour until both are used up. Last of all, add the baking powder and flavouring. Put a teaspoonful of the mixture into each of the patty tins. Bake for ten minutes.

SHORTBREAD CAKES.

Ingredients. — Four ounces cornflour, half ounce Raisley flour, six ounces flour, two ounces caster sugar, six ounces butter, one yolk egg, half ounce lemon peel.

Method.—Mix the flour, cornflour, and Raisley together. Rub in the butter lightly, and add the yolk of egg and the sugar. Turn on to a floured pastry board, and knead till smooth. Roll out quite thin, about a quarter of an inch. Cut into rounds with a fancy cutter. Put a strip of peel in the centre of each. Bake in a moderate oven ten minutes.

MACAROONS.

Ingredients. — Half pound ground almonds, one ounce rice flour, rice paper, one pound caster sugar, six small whites of eggs (beat, leave overnight), one teaspoonful vanilla essence, few shredded almonds.

Method.— Put the almonds, caster sugar and whites of eggs into a basin, and cream them well together for ten minutes. Add the rice flour and vanilla essence, then pour the mixture into a bag with a half-inch plain pipe. Put this out on to rice paper, in rounds about the size of a penny, decorate with shredded almonds, and bake in a moderate oven for about twenty minutes.

SANDWICHES (SAVOURY).
CHEESE SANDWICHES.

Ingredients. — One ounce cheese, one hard-boiled yolk of egg, one teaspoonful made mustard, half teaspoonful vinegar, one ounce butter, salt, pepper, cayenne, small rounds of brown bread and butter.

Method. — Pound the cheese, butter, yolk of egg, mustard, vinegar and seasoning together in a mortar, and rub through a wire sieve. Spread some of this mixture on to a round of buttered brown bread, and place another on top.

CHEESE CREAM SANDWICHES.

Ingredients. — Three tablespoonfuls grated cheese, two large tablespoonfuls double cream, a little crisp celery or a few shelled and peeled walnuts, bread and butter, cayenne.

Method.—Cut some thin slices of bread and butter, shred either walnuts or celery finely, and mix this with the cheese and cream. Make into sandwiches, cut them into pretty shapes—squares, oblongs, crescents or stars. Dish up, garnish with sprigs of parsley.

GINGER SANDWICHES.

Ingredients.—Preserved ginger, brown bread and butter, cream.

Method.—Slice the ginger, mix with a little syrup, spread on the brown bread, spread on a layer of cream, and sandwich. Cut into fancy shapes.

Sponge fingers may be used instead of bread and butter.

N.B. — Lemon curd, banana butter, apple and damson cheese may all be used for sweet sandwiches.

PEACH CREAM.

Ingredients. — Half pint of peach purée, half pint cream, one ounce caster sugar, one gill of apricot syrup, half ounce of leaf gelatine.

Method. — Pass sufficient peaches through a hair sieve to make the required amount of purée. Dissolve the gelatine and sugar in the purée, and stir in the stiffly-whipped cream. Turn into the prepared mould, and let it remain on ice or in a cold place until set.

SWISS ROLL.

Ingredients.—Three eggs, three ounces caster sugar, three ounces flour, one small teaspoonful baking powder, flavouring (as liked), hot jam.

Method. — Beat the eggs and sugar together for five or ten minutes, add flavourings. Mix baking powder and flour, sift into mixture, fold lightly together, turn into prepared tin; bake in a hot oven five to six minutes till firm to touch and a golden colour. Turn out, spread with hot jam, roll up tightly.

THE METHODIST CHURCH.

The missionary summer school recently held at Tullamaine, Upper Leeson street, one of the residence houses of Wesley College, Dublin, proved decidedly successful. One hundred young persons, representing every part of Ireland, were present. The presidents of the school were Mr. Richard Jagoe, of Cork, and Mr. A. W. Ball, of Belfast, the Rev. C. S. Greaves, of Belfast, being the secretary. The Rev. J. A. Duke, B.A., chairman of the Dublin District, very cordially welcomed the members of the school.

An outstanding feature of the week was the series of addresses delivered by the Rev. John E. Neill, B.A., for twenty-one years missionary in Madras, on "The Approach of Christ to India." A considerable time was given daily to study circles, led by Mr. J. Deaville Walker, editorial secretary of the Wesleyan-Methodist Missionary Society; by Miss Monahan, of London, and others, Kenneth Maclennon's "The Cost of a New World" being the book studied. Amongst the other missionaries taking part in the school were the Rev. William Meara (South Africa), the Rev. R. H. Foster, B.A. (India), and Miss Elsie Shire, B.A. (Ceylon).

Advantage was taken of the school to say good-bye to Miss Dorothy Beckett, B.Sc., who is going out immediately to the mission field.

KILLALOE SYNOD.

FEWER DIGNITARIES IN FUTURE.

In his presidential address at the annual meeting of the Synod of Killaloe and Kilfenora Diocese yesterday, the Bishop of Killaloe (the Right Rev. H. E. Patton, D.D.) spoke of the power remaining in the Protestant communities of the West of Ireland, attenuated though they be, to further the building and the Kingdom of God.

The work of the Synod, he said, had its own importance, but what was more important still was that they should all realise what the Synod stood for, and that its work was but a sign and sacrament of something greater—the devotion of man to the Lord and to His Church. He supposed that it would be true to say that some fifty or sixty years ago, if an assembly of Christian men had been asked to define what was the supreme effort of life, good men and true among their forefathers would have answered that everybody was first of all bidden to see to the saving of his own soul.

"We hear this duty less frequently emphasised in our own day," the Bishop went on, "and it may be that the pendulum is inclined to swing unduly far in another direction amid the greater, wider range of our outlook upon the world to-day.

"We may sometimes, in the inspiring sense of our corporate life—and it is an inspiration, whether among the few thousands of Killaloe or the vast millions of London—be tempted to forget how vitally at the back and basis of all our Church assemblies is the personal relation of every individual soul to the Lord of the Church. Against such a mistake, against such forgetfulness, we must ever be on our guard."

THE FOUNDATIONS.

In the words of a foremost scholar of our age, the Kingdom of God must be built upon the foundations, not of institutions, but of individuals in whom God dwelt and who were glad to live for their fellows. A Christian life challenged the attention of the community and won its way.

They were, it was true, a very small body in that diocese, and enjoyed no advantageous standpoint from which to influence the life of the community. If the members of that Synod, however, would recollect the many changes which had taken place in their lifetime, the many reforms in the Church or in the bettering of the conditions of the masses, they would know that the most beneficent reforms had not been wrought by one or two giant intellects giving some stupendous lift, but by the continuous help of insignificant people in their co-operative efforts to further the Kingdom of God. There was no limit in a diocese or parish to the influence exerted by a consistent Christian character.

AMALGAMATION.

Archdeacon Yates, speaking on the report of the Diocesan Council (which was adopted), said that no trouble whatever had occurred in the carrying into effect of the various amalgamations of parishes. They had been able to arrange their own differences without other mediation, and the way in which the various inconveniences incident to amalgamation had been accepted was remarkable.

He noted that in spite of reduced numbers in the diocese the total amount of money subscribed to sustentation was greater than what it had been in the so-called "good old times."

It was announced that a diocesan secondary school would be opened soon in Ballymackey parish, Nenagh, with the diocesan curate, the Rev. H. S. Burd, M.A., as master. Sufficient guarantees of £5 each had been obtained to warrant the establishment of the school in accordance with a recommendation of the 1925 Synod.

The Synod approved a recommendation of the Diocesan Council to reduce the number of dignitaries by combining five of the canonries as vacancies occur with the offices of Dean, Precentor, Chancellor, Treasurer, and Archdeacon.

The bishop, explaining that the proposal was made in pursuance of a recommendation of the General Synod, and to anticipate and avoid direct action to the same effect by the General Synod, said that at the time of disestablishment there were 80 clergy and 12 canons. They now had 32 clergy (shortly to be reduced to 31), and it was absurd to have 12 canons. By the change they would increase dignity at the expense of dignitaries.

Colonel O'Callaghan-Westropp said that by continuing five of the canonries in combination with other dignities they were keeping them alive, and if in the future an industrial revival were to increase their strength in the diocese the step they were taking would be undone, and the number of dignitaries enlarged.

The ballots resulted in elections as follow:—

DIOCESAN COUNCIL.

Killaloe, East—Clerical—The Rev. E. Mitchell, Canon Lawrence, the Rev. G. A. Earle, the Rev. W. Daly, the Rev. R. McN. Boyd and the Rev. A. V. Smith. (Supplemental—The Revs. M. M. Graham, W. E. Grosso, G. F. Kent and B. Jackson. (Supplemental—Mr. W. J. Waller, Lord Dunalley and Mr. J. W. Mitchell.)

Killaloe, West, and Kilfenora—Clerical—Canon Griffin, Canon King, Canon Blood-Smyth and Canon Somers. (Supplemental—The Rev. F. G. Davis.) Lay—Mr. V. P. Perry, Major Lefroy, Captain Blood, Captain Tottenham, Mr. J. Cullinan, Mr. S. Studdert, Colonel Westropp and Mr. R. G. Ellis.

To the Diocesan Court were elected, for the clergy, the Archdeacon, the Dean, and Precentor, and for the laity Lord Inchiquin, Mr. J. C. Willington and Lord Dunalley.

DUBLIN DISTRICT COURT

ROBBERY OF GIRL CASHIER RECALLED.

CONSPIRACY CHARGE.

(BEFORE MR. COLLINS.)

A young man, Thomas Kirwan, 19 John Dillon street, was charged with conspiring to commit the offence of armed robbery, and with having participated in the armed robbery at Bridge street, Dublin, on June 25th, of Miss Eileen Coyne, cashier to Messrs. Fallon and Callanan, of £176 12s. 8d., the property of her employers.

Superintendent Ennis gave evidence of arresting the prisoner that morning. When charged and cautioned he made the following statement:—

"On Thursday, June 24th, I was approached by a man named John Dingley, who asked me if I would take a job on the following day. I agreed to meet him on Friday, the 25th, at 2.30 p.m., at the back of Power's coal bank. I was to get between £5 and £10 for the job for the half-day. I met him on Friday, and he told me to hang on with the motor car. He left me and went in the direction of John's lane Schools. At about 2.40 I heard two shots from the direction in which Dingley had gone. Some time later a man, whom I did not know, came to me and told me to start the car. I did so, and just then Dingley came on the scene carrying a bag and a gun, and with the other man jumped into the car. I was told by Dingley to drive ahead. I drove in the direction of the quays, on to Bridgefoot street, thence to Tenter's Field, where I dropped Dingley and the unknown man.

MONEY ON FLOOR OF CAR.

"Dingley, when leaving, said that he would see me at or outside Bowe's public-house, William street, that night at 8 o'clock, and square with me. I did not turn up. I drove my car back to the garage at South Circular road. In the back of the car I found an empty attache case. On the floor of the car I found a lot of silver, which, roughly, amounted to £17 12s. 6d., which I took possession of. Later on I saw in the evening paper an account of the hold up at Bridge street, and I realised the position I was in. I saw nothing else for it only to avoid arrest, as I heard the police were looking for me."

Mr. Collins remanded the defendant to September 6th in two bails of £100 each.

THE UNLABELLED BOTTLE.

SEQUEL TO SALE OF CARBOLIC ACID.

James Joseph O'Meara, 7 Whitehall terrace, Clontarf, was prosecuted by Mrs. Gertrude Rutland, Inspector of the Pharmaceutical Society of Ireland, for selling

KILLALOE SYNOD.

FEWER DIGNITARIES IN FUTURE.

In his presidential address at the annual meeting of the Synod of Killaloe and Kilfenora Diocese yesterday, the Bishop of Killaloe (the Right Rev. H. E. Patton, D.D.) spoke of the power remaining in the Protestant communities of the West of Ireland, attenuated though they be, to further the building and the Kingdom of God.

The work of the Synod, he said, had its own importance, but what was more important still was that they should all realise what the Synod stood for, and that its work was but a sign and sacrament of something greater—the devotion of man to the Lord and to His Church. He supposed that it would be true to say that some fifty or sixty years ago, if an assembly of Christian men had been asked to define what was the supreme effort of life, good men and true among their forefathers would have answered that everybody was first of all bidden to see to the saving of his own soul.

"We hear this duty less frequently emphasised in our own day," the Bishop went on, "and it may be that the pendulum is inclined to swing unduly far in another direction amid the greater, wider range of our outlook upon the world to-day.

"We may sometimes, in the inspiring sense of our corporate life—and it is an inspiration, whether among the few thousands of Killaloe or the vast millions of London—be tempted to forget how vitally at the back and basis of all our Church assemblies is the personal relation of every individual soul to the Lord of the Church. Against such a mistake, against such forgetfulness, we must ever be on our guard."

THE FOUNDATIONS.

In the words of a foremost scholar of our age, the Kingdom of God must be built upon the foundations, not of institutions, but of individuals in whom God dwelt and who were glad to live for their fellows. A Christian life challenged the attention of the community and won its way.

They were, it was true, a very small body in that diocese, and enjoyed no advantageous standpoint from which to influence the life of the community. If the members of that Synod, however, would recollect the many changes which had taken place in their lifetime, the many reforms in the Church or in the bettering of the conditions of the masses, they would know that the most beneficent reforms had not been wrought by one or two giant intellects giving some stupendous lift, but by the continuous help of insignificant people in their co-operative efforts to further the Kingdom of God. There was no limit in a diocese or parish to the influence exerted by a consistent Christian character.

AMALGAMATION.

Archdeacon Yates, speaking on the report of the Diocesan Council (which was adopted), said that no trouble whatever had occurred in the carrying into effect of the various amalgamations of parishes. They had been able to arrange their own differences without other mediation, and the way in which the various inconveniences incident to amalgamation had been accepted was remarkable.

He noted that in spite of reduced numbers in the diocese the total amount of money subscribed to sustentation was greater than what it had been in the so-called "good old times."

It was announced that a diocesan secondary school would be opened soon in Ballymackey parish, Nenagh, with the diocesan curate, the Rev. H. S. Burd, M.A., as master. Sufficient guarantees of £5 each had been obtained to warrant the establishment of the school in accordance with a recommendation of the 1925 Synod.

The Synod approved a recommendation of the Diocesan Council to reduce the number of dignitaries by combining five of the canonries as vacancies occur with the offices of Dean, Precentor, Chancellor, Treasurer, and Archdeacon.

The bishop, explaining that the proposal was made in pursuance of a recommendation of the General Synod, and to anticipate and avoid direct action to the same effect by the General Synod, said that at the time of disestablishment there were 80 clergy and 12 canons. They now had 32 clergy (shortly to be reduced to 31), and it was absurd to have 12 canons. By the change they would increase dignity at the expense of dignitaries.

Colonel O'Callaghan-Westropp said that by continuing five of the canonries in combination with other dignities they were keeping them alive, and if in the future an industrial revival were to increase their strength in the diocese the step they were taking would be undone, and the number of dignitaries enlarged.

The ballots resulted in elections as follow:—

DIOCESAN COUNCIL.

Killaloe, East—Clerical—The Rev. E. Mitchell, Canon Lawrence, the Rev. G. A. Earle, the Rev. W. Daly, the Rev. R. McN. Boyd and the Rev. A. V. Smith. (Supplemental—The Revs. M. M. Graham, W. E. To the Diocesan Court were elected, for the clergy, the Archdeacon, the Dean, and Precentor, and for the laity Lord Inchiquin, Mr. J. C. Willington and Lord Dunalley.

ROBBERY OF GIRL CASHIER RECALLED.

CONSPIRACY CHARGE.

(BEFORE MR. COLLINS.)

A young man, Thomas Kirwan, 19 John Dillon street, was charged with conspiring to commit the offence of armed robbery, and with having participated in the armed robbery at Bridge street, Dublin, on June 25th, of Miss Eileen Coyne, cashier to Messrs. Fallon and Callanan, of £176 12s. 8d., the property of her employers.

Superintendent Ennis gave evidence of arresting the prisoner that morning. When charged and cautioned he made the following statement:—

"On Thursday, June 24th, I was approached by a man named John Dingley, who asked me if I would take a job on the following day. I agreed to meet him on Friday, the 25th, at 2.30 p.m., at the back of Power's coal bank. I was to get between £5 and £10 for the job for the half-day. I met him on Friday, and he told me to hang on with the motor car. He left me and went in the direction of John's lane Schools. At about 2.40 I heard two shots from the direction in which Dingley had gone. Some time later a man, whom I did not know, came to me and told me to start the car. I did so, and just then Dingley came on the scene carrying a bag and a gun, and with the other man jumped into the car. I was told by Dingley to drive ahead. I drove in the direction of the quays, on to Bridgefoot street, thence to Tenter's Field, where I dropped Dingley and the unknown man.

MONEY ON FLOOR OF CAR.

"Dingley, when leaving, said that he would see me at or outside Bowe's public-house, William street, that night at 8 o'clock, and square with me. I did not turn up. I drove my car back to the garage at South Circular road. In the back of the car I found an empty attache case. On the floor of the car I found a lot of silver, which, roughly, amounted to £17 12s. 6d., which I took possession of. Later on I saw in the evening paper an account of the hold up at Bridge street, and I realised the position I was in. I saw nothing else for it only to avoid arrest, as I heard the police were looking for me."

Mr. Collins remanded the defendant to September 6th in two bails of £100 each.

THE UNLABELLED BOTTLE.

SEQUEL TO SALE OF CARBOLIC ACID.

James Joseph O'Meara, 7 Whitehall terrace, Clontarf, was prosecuted by Mrs. Gertrude Rutland, Inspector of the Pharmaceutical Society of Ireland, for selling poison (carbolic acid) to her, the bottle not being labelled with the name and address of the seller. There were three further summonses for keeping open the shop for retail or dispensing business and for compounding prescriptions contrary to the Pharmacy Act.

Mr. Collins imposed a fine of £18, with £15 costs, to cover all the summonses, and made an order awarding a certain portion of the penalties to the Society.

For the defence it was stated that the defendant had a thorough knowledge of chemistry, and, in a short time, would be qualified as a pharmaceutical chemist. In his establishment he employed a qualified chemist and a member of the Society, Miss Lemons, who was not present when the inspector called.

THEFT FROM TRINITY COLLEGE.

Detective Officer O'Connor charged Edward Sweeny (19), of no fixed address, with the larceny from 30 Trinity College, of a shirt, jumper and tie, the property of Mr. W. A. Knight.

Mr. Collins inquired if a serious view was taken of the case?—Detective Officer O'Connell replied in the affirmative. Nearly every week they had someone going into Trinity College and stealing things.

Mr. Collins—I will say two months' imprisonment with hard labour.

MILK DEFICIENT IN FATS.

(BEFORE MR. CUSSEN.)

The following fines were imposed on dairy proprietors for exposing for sale milk deficient in fats in the amounts set out:—Patrick Kavanagh, 17 Wood quay; June 23rd, 8.7 per cent. and 6.7 per cent.; June 25th, 23.3 per cent. Fined £1, £1 and £3 respectively. John Stringer, Heabeg, Newcastle, Co. Wicklow, June 16th, 20 per cent. Fined £1. John Keelahan, 15 Trinity street, Drogheda, June 9th, 15 per cent., and June 10th, 8.3 per cent. Fined £1 for each offence. Peter McGing, The Laurels, Clondalkin, June 9th, 16.7 per cent. Fined £1.

The special Services were continued last evening, and will be brought to a close to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock.

Sailor Killed.—At the inquest held in the Mater Hospital, Dublin, yesterday, on Alexander Sandison, able seaman of the ss. Chertsey, who died from injuries received through the falling of a derrick, the jury returned a verdict that death was due to shock and concussion, following on fracture of the base of the skull, and added that there was negligence on the part of whoever was responsible for the working of the derrick, because there was no evidence to the contrary.

Enforcing the Eggs Act.—At Dundalk District Court, Peter Dardis, farmer, of Newtownbalregan, who did not appear, was fined £2 for exposing dirty eggs for sale, and £1 for impeding the inspector. The Justice said that he would impose a sentence of six months' imprisonment in default of the payment of the fines.

Fishery Prosecution.—At Slane District Court, Charles Johnson, Slane, was prosecuted by the Boyne Fishery Conservators for, as alleged, using a net 23 feet in excess of the prescribed length. Mr. C. F. Watkins, Chairman of the Board of Conservators, deposed to inspecting the river, accompanied by Civic Guards and a bailiff on July 8th last, and finding at Rosnaree a boat, with no net in it. Some distance from the boat witness saw a net hanging on poles, and having sent for the defendant they measured the net. While they were doing so defendant was seen cutting the net. Defendant deposed that the net had never been in the river, and he had no intention of using it for fishing purposes, but to catch rats. Justice Goff said that while he had little doubt that the net was used for fishing he could not convict, because the actual use of the net had not been proved, and he dismissed the case without costs. He warned the defendant that if in future an offence was proved against him he would be dealt with severely.

Technical Education in Athlone.—Mr. E. O'Maille, B.E., held a sworn inquiry in Athlone with a view to ascertaining the most suitable purposes to which the old workhouse buildings could be put. Mr. Owen J. Dolan, Vice-Chairman Urban Council, said that there was a general feeling that the premises should be converted into a technical school and public library. Mr. M. J. Hughes, U.D.C., and a member of the Technical Committee, stated that the present school premises were inadequate. It was the intention of the Council to have, in conjunction with the new technical school, a lecture hall, where addresses by agricultural instructors could be given to farmers. Mr. W. Walsh, U.D.C., said that Athlone was so centrally situated they could develop the technical school in a big way. Mr. P. J. O'Loughlin, B.E., Borough Surveyor, estimated that £3,000 would provide the necessary improvements. The workhouse buildings would be more suited for a school and library than for flats. The Inspector said that it seemed the town and district could be improved by the establishment of the classes suggested. He was inclined to report favourably on the scheme.

County Wexford House Burned.—The house of Mr. John Purcell, Killurin, County Wexford, was destroyed by fire on last Wednesday night, and the damage, estimated at about £400, was partially covered by insurance. The fire-fighters were hampered by the inadequate supply of water in the locality.

Lifeboat to the Rescue.—During the week the Wexford lifeboat had to go to the assistance of a schooner laden with wheat for Messrs. Davis, Ltd., Enniscorthy, from Birkenhead, and three fishing craft which got into trouble in Wexford Harbour. All the vessels were successfully brought into Wexford.

Alleged Embezzlement.—At Dundalk District Court, Henry Francis Murphy, St. Mary's road, was charged by Superintendent Farrell, with having embezzled £535 13s., the property of the Dundalk Gas Company, with whom he had been employed as a collector. When arrested and charged, Murphy made no statement. Justice Goff remanded the accused, fixing bail at £500 and two sureties of £250 each.

Parish Priest Appointed.—The Most Rev. Dr. Codd, Bishop of Ferns, has appointed the Rev. A. McCormack, C.C., Kiltealy, to be P.P., Kilanerin, in room of the late Dean O'Neill. The Rev. W. Fortune, C.C., Ballyfad, has been transferred to Kiltealy, curacy.

Dutiable Goods Across the Border.—Patrick Cunningham, Armagh, was fined £30 0s. 6d., at Dundalk, for taking 12 bottles of whiskey, lemonade and cigarettes into the Free State. His daughter, Clare, was similarly fined, but the Justice said that he would ask the Revenue authorities to cancel one of the fines. The explanation was that the goods were being taken to Rassan House, where a dance was being given to celebrate the home-coming of another daughter of Mr. Cunningham, and that Miss Cunningham thought no harm would be done thereby. The Justice said that he accepted the explanation, but an offence was committed.

MUNSTER.

Price of Wool.—The price of wool in Nenagh on last Wednesday was 1s. per lb.

Farmer Committed.—Patrick J. Phelan, farmer, of Glenbower, Carrick-on-Suir, was committed to jail for two months at Carrick-on-Suir District Court for failure to pay instalment orders made against him a few months ago.

CONNAUGHT.

Roscommon Board of Health.—Mr. P. T. Jordon has been re-elected Chairman, and Mr. Michael Killian, Co. C., Vice-Chairman, of the Roscommon Board of Health.

The Late Rev. J. O'Malley, P.P.—Mayo Mental Hospital Committee, of which body he was Chairman, adjourned without transacting any business as a mark of respect to the memory of the Rev. John O'Malley, P.P., Bekan. Castlebar Urban Council voted sympathy to the relatives of Father O'Malley, the Archbishop of Tuam and the priests of the archdiocese.

NORTHERN IRELAND.

Derry Man's Sudden Death.—Mr. George Bryce, a partner in the firm of Messrs. Bryce and Weston, shirt and collar manufacturers, Derry, has died suddenly. He took ill when out walking, and was conveyed to his home, where he expired shortly afterwards.

Ratepayers' Protest.—Mr. David Wilson, solicitor, presided, and Mr. John White, T.D., was the principal speaker at a meeting of ratepayers in Raphoe. He denounced the parsimony of the Minister for Finance, and said that since the abolition of the old Poor Law system the cost of administering these services had greatly increased, adding 7d. in the £ to the rates.

Presbyterian Minister Installed.—The Rev. A. A. G. Kirkpatrick was, on last Wednesday, installed Minister of Clogherney Church, in Omagh Presbytery, in succession to the Rev. J. M. Patterson. The Rev. Mr. Kirkpatrick was Minister for Donegal Presbyterian Church for upwards of five years. A native of Kilrea, Co. Derry, he was ordained by Lacombe Presbytery, in the Province of Alberta, Canada, but returned to this country in 1919, when he was assistant for about two years in Nelson Memorial Church, Belfast.

Fell Over Precipice.—Peter Curran, farmer, Carrigans, Omagh, fell over a precipice when returning with a horse and cart from Cappagh Creamery. He was badly shaken and received injury to one of his shoulders. His horse backed over the cliff on the roadside, which is unprotected; but the horse and cart lodged in a tree on the embankment, and remained there till extricated. The creamery cans fell from the cart into the gorge beneath.

Devenish Abbey and Enniskillen Castle.—The Northern Ministry of Home Affairs has written to the Fermanagh County Council stating that they had now charge of Devenish Round Tower and Abbey, and arrangements were being made with regard to the caretaking of all ancient monuments which they trusted would be satisfactory. Regarding the Enniskillen Castle, the Ministry were in communication with the War Office on this matter. Lord Enniskillen called attention to the fact that Devenish Round Tower required a lightning conductor.

Enforcing Potato Disease Order.—At Cookstown Petty Sessions yesterday, Peter Gillen, of Broughderg, was fined £10, with a recommendation to the Ministry that it be reduced to £2, on a charge of unlawfully removing a quantity of potatoes from the townland of Glenriggan (County Derry), in the area scheduled under the Black Scab Order.

Fermanagh Slander Action.—Lord Justice Andrews, in the King's Bench Division, Belfast, yesterday, granted the application in a motion to remit the action to the County Court for trial at Enniskillen in October next, brought on behalf of Colonel Richardson, Rossfad, Ballinamallard, the defendant in a slander action, the plaintiff being Annie Thompson, Corkhill, Kilskerry, who was formerly employed as a servant by the defendant. Colonel Richardson and Mrs. Richardson, who were joint defendants, denied having slandered the plaintiff.

107 Years of Age.—William McCrea, a small farmer residing in the townland of Drumherriff, Loughgall, has attained the age of 107 years. He lives with his sister in the house in which he was born. Several years ago he lost his sight, but he is in possession of all his other faculties. All his life Mr. McCrea has been an inveterate smoker, and admits that he always appreciated a drop of good whiskey.

Hoist Victim.—A verdict of accidental death was returned at the inquest in Belfast yesterday on William Mullan (16), Unity street, a messenger in the firm of Messrs. J. and J. Haslett, Ltd., North street, whose spine was fractured in a hoist. Mr. S. Erant, Chief Factory Inspector, said that he considered this hoist, like all other hoists, to be a dangerous machine. How the accident had happened he did not know. Someone might have pulled the rope from another floor, or the boy himself might have been responsible, but, in any case, he would stress the fact that the greatest possible care should be taken when using these hoists.

Caught in the Act.—How two pickpockets, well known to the Glasgow police, were discovered in the act of putting their hands in the pockets of gentlemen waiting to take a return motor 'bus to Belfast at Bangor was described at a Special Court held at Bangor Police Barracks. The accused were Alex. Milne, of 100 Duke street, Glasgow, and John Joyce, alias Michael Duffy, of 34 Kent street, Belfast, and as it could not be proved that they had taken anything, they were charged with loitering with intent to commit a felony. Each was sentenced to one month's imprisonment.

Mr. J. R. Corbett, J.P., Crom Castle, and Mr. Gallagher, Carrowkeel, Tempo, have been appointed members of the County Fermanagh Agricultural Committee.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

PORTMARNOCK AND "GREATER DUBLIN."

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—The article by "Crusader" is an important contribution to the consideration of a problem that is rapidly reaching—indeed, has already reached—a very critical stage. Local feeling in Malahide and Portmarnock is running very high on the question of the closing of rights of way and the erection of fences, the action of the owner of the property adjoining the Velvet Strand being regarded as an unjustifiable hindrance to enjoyment of a source of pleasure bountifully provided by Nature. In such matters legal rights and wrongs are easily ignored, and, since the local sense of grievance is shared by many thousands of Dubliners who visit the Strand, there is an obvious possibility of trouble.

The opening of the half-disused road to which "Crusader" refers would go a long way to remove the right-of-access grievance; but it would still be only a beginning. Nothing is more amazing than the development which has transformed what was until a year or so ago a solitude into a teeming hive. Yet this is only part of the development. The whole area, from Coolock to Raheny outwards, is being rapidly populated permanently. Houses are springing up almost like mushrooms, and all the problems of roads, lighting, water, drainage, transport are pressing for solution. The æsthetic aspect also must not be overlooked; some of the recent temporary structures are eyesores.

The whole question is, of course, one that ought to have been, and presumably was, considered by the Greater Dublin Commission; but that Commission appears to have fallen asleep, and it is difficult to foresee whether, when it wakes, it will report a nightmare or a Kubla Khan vision. In any event, as "Crusader" points out, no action upon the Commission's findings can be expected for quite a long time; for the reorganisation of local government in the whole area of Dublin City and County is no light task. But the problem in this particular corner of the county is acute. It has already been allowed to drift for a year, at least. Is it to be allowed to drift for another year or two? The local authorities immediately concerned all appear to realise the gravity of the matter; they lack not the will to deal with it, but the power. In such circumstances it should not be impossible for the authorities to come to some agreement upon an interim arrangement by which their existing powers may be devolved upon, and any new powers that may be necessary vested in, some form of ad hoc authority. Such an arrangement would enable the urgent matters to be dealt with, while it would neither derogate from the responsibility of the existing authorities nor hinder any eventual reconstruction arising out of the report of the Greater Dublin Commission.

May I, in conclusion, call attention to another problem of the same kind a little nearer than Portmarnock? The people of Dublin have in effect taken possession of the North Bull at Dollymount, and every fine day sees thousands of pleasure-seekers dotted over the Bull Wall and all over the Bull itself. The situation is by no means so unsatisfactory as at Portmarnock, but there is a similar maze of uncoordinated interests. The Bull Wall itself is the property of the Port and Docks Board. Parts of the Bull itself are occupied by two golf clubs, and one of these appears to be trying, reluctantly and half-heartedly, to divert the public from routes of access to the Strand that have been used for very many years. Dublin Corporation, as representing the pleasure-seekers, has an obvious interest in the Bull, but I doubt if it has much, or any, legal interest. Wisely developed, the Bull might be made a magnificent pleasure resort without destroying its natural character. If a marine lake could be formed between the Bull and the mainland—not, I think, a very difficult engineering undertaking—Dollymount and Sutton would become seaside resorts without a rival. When Portmarnock has been dealt with, perhaps Dollymount could be treated also with enterprise and vision.—Yours, etc.,

R. J. P. MORTISHED.

3 Seafield road, Dollymount, Dublin, July 23rd, 1926.

MR. GANDHI'S CURE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—Mr. Gandhi's idea as to assembling representatives of Moslems and Hindus, and locking them up in one room until they settle their quarrels, is not new. Sixty years ago a jury at Mayo Assizes were locked up for the night on a case. Eleven of the jury agreed to a verdict, but the twelfth held out against their view. Number twelve was a non-smoker, and, every other argument failing, the eleven agreed jurors took out their pipes—those were the days of clay pipes and strong tobacco—and smoked and smoked until they smoked number twelve into agreement.

May I pass the suggestion on to Mr. Gandhi?—Yours, etc., "CONNAUGHT-MAN."

Queen's County, July 23rd, 1926.

CENTRAL CRIMINAL COURT

ROSCREA MAN CHARGED WITH PERJURY.

SEQUEL TO A COMPENSATION AWARD.

(BEFORE MR. JUSTICE HANNA AND A JURY.)

The jury disagreed in the case of Patrick J. Hall, motor agent, Roscrea, who was charged with perjury at Tipperary County Court on May 9th, 1924, during the hearing of a claim made by him in respect of injury to his motor car. The judge below gave a decree for £160, with costs and expenses.

The evidence went to show that the accused stated at the hearing that he was engaged on July 27th, 1922, with his motor car to drive military, who were "rounding-up" irregulars in the district of Roscrea, and that he left Roscrea that morning, and eventually arrived in Nenagh. On the return journey that evening, the accused further stated, his car collided with a tree which lay across the road, and the car was badly damaged.

Sergeant Hugh Daly, Gormanstown Camp, said that to his knowledge the accused was not with the convoy.

Captain Hiney stated that on the evening previous to the convoy going out he told the accused that some cars would be required. Accused told him that the Clement Talbot, which was the only car he had available, was engaged for the following day. When the convoy left in the morning none of Hall's cars was in it.

The accused, examined by Mr. Lupton, K.C., said that in consequence of a message received by him he went with a Clement Talbot car to the Roscrea Barracks, where it was occupied by five soldiers, and that was the car in which he drove them to Nenagh.

The statements you made in support of the claim were accurate? Yes.

You never swore that you went out with the convoy in the morning? No.

Mr. Justice Hanna said that the jury would have to decide whether the accused made a statement on oath knowing it to be false, or made a statement not believing it to be true.

The jury, after a long absence, returned unable to agree to a verdict, and they were discharged.

The prisoner was allowed out on bail.

THE POTATO ORDER IN COOLEY.

DISTRICT JUSTICE AND A GOVERNMENT OFFICIAL.

At Dundalk yesterday, Mr. Goff, District Justice, heard prosecutions at the suit of the Department of Agriculture against Cooley farmers for importing potatoes into a non-scheduled area.

Two men were found in early morning by inspectors with their potatoes dumped on the roadside, and they were then summoned. Mr. Goff dismissed the cases on payment of costs.

Mr. Davison, an official of the Department, proceeded to explain the effects of the Order, stating that their potato trade was being ruined by the Cooley people taking these potatoes in, and he had difficulty in trying to convince Englishmen that the Order was being enforced. He submitted that the Order was being made a farce

Mr. Goff asked to whom did he refer as making the Order a farce.

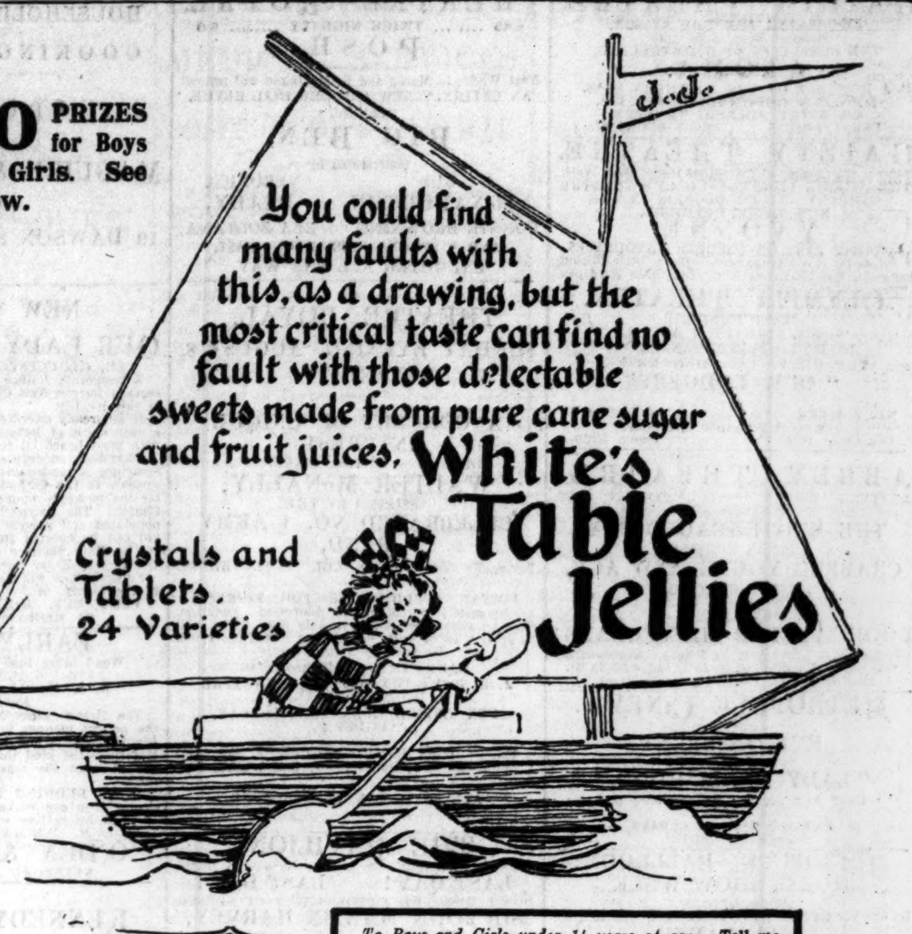

Mr. Johnston (solicitor for the defendants)—He obviously refers to yourself.

Several times Mr. Goff asked the official to whom he referred, and eventually he was told that he referred to a certain section of the Cooley people.

The justice characterised the remark as an extraordinary one for a Government official to make, and said that if it had referred to the Court he would have dealt with Mr. Davison. He refused to hear him any further.

YESTERDAY'S CASES IN THE COURTS.

A £50,000 ESTATE.

JUDGMENT IN WEXFORD APPEAL.

Reserved judgment was delivered in the case of Dooley v. Dooley, in which an application by way of appeal was made on behalf of the plaintiff, George Dooley, for an order reversing and discharging an order of Mr. Justice Sullivan dismissing the plaintiff's action to establish an alleged will of his father, James George Dooley, on the ground of estoppel, as a grant of administration de bonis non had already been taken out with reference to the deceased man's estate. The order had been made by Mr. Justice Sullivan on the application of Annie Dooley, the plaintiff's sister and one of the defendants in the action brought by the plaintiff for the establishment of the will.

The deceased, James George Dooley, late of Hoodsgrove, Rosbercon, New Ross, Co. Wexford, died on the 15th August, 1916, leaving one son (the plaintiff) and five daughters, his estate being valued at about £50,000.

In his judgment, Mr. Justice Sullivan held that, whatever the result might have been of taking out administration de bonis non, there was no doubt that the plaintiff was estopped from re-agitating this case owing to his conduct in the administration suit, in which the matters referred to had been contested on the basis that the deceased man had died intestate. It had been contested on behalf of the plaintiff that the order made by Mr. Justice Johnston in May, 1925, directing payment, on the special certificate of the Chief Clerk, of £2,000 to each of the intestate's daughters on account of the distributive shares of their father's assets, did not estop the plaintiff, because certain material facts came to the knowledge of the plaintiff in November, 1925. Had the plaintiff taken the trouble to inquire further at any time prior to the 4th May, 1925, he would have learned all the facts which he ascertained for the first time in November, 1925. His lordship could not hold that the plaintiff had exercised reasonable diligence under the circumstances, and, therefore, he dismissed the action.

The unanimous judgment of the Supreme Court now was that the plaintiff was not estopped from prosecuting this action, and that the order of Mr. Justice Sullivan should be discharged, the plaintiff's costs of the motion before the President to abide the result of the action, the respondent, Annie Dooley, to pay the costs of the appeal.

Mr. Jellett, K.C., Mr. Wood, K.C., and Mr. Matheson (instructed by Messrs. Colfer and Son) appeared for the plaintiff and appellant; Mr. Dickie, K.C., Mr. Fitzgerald, K.C., and Mr. Hubert Hamilton, K.C. (instructed by Mr. Lane Joynt), for Annie Dooley; Mr. Geraghty (instructed by Mr. Francis Kennedy) for Bridget and Mary Dooley; and Mr. O'Connor, K.C. (instructed by Mr. Lane Joynt), for Frances Dooley.

COMMISSIONERS FOR OATHS.

EFFICIENCY IN IRISH.

The Chief Justice, sitting in the Supreme Court, Dublin, yesterday, heard two petitions for the appointment of Commissioners for Oaths. The first was on behalf of Peadar Keany, District Court clerk, Manorhamilton, for whom Mr. Davitt appeared, and his application was to be appointed Commissioner for Dromahair and surrounding district. The applicant, it was stated, was a fluent Irish speaker.

The Chief Justice said that the Government should have some kind of test for people, on which to put forward certificates. He appointed Mr. Kenny to act as Commissioner, while he held the office of District Court Clerk.

Mr. Matheson (instructed by Mr. Caulfield) renewed an application on behalf of Patrick J. Gregory, who sought to be appointed a Commissioner for Oaths at Wexford. Counsel said that his Lordship had allowed the application to stand over for an explanation to be given of an erasure on the solicitor's certificate, and for an explanation by Mr. Gregory as to why he did not offer any apology or explanation on the occasion of the last hearing. Both Mr. Gregory and his solicitor had now made affidavits and counsel hoped that these would be satisfactory. The certificate was prepared, in fact, in 1925, and when it was being prepared the typist copied the body from an old certificate and also the old date, and then she detected the mistake and put in the right date. He was instructed to tender on behalf of both the applicant and his solicitor their regret at what had occurred, and he respectfully asked his Lordship to make the appointment.

The Chief Justice said that he had read the affidavits. Of course, the office of Commissioner of Oaths was an office of the greatest importance, and the Courts must have the utmost confidence in the people who were to be appointed to it. Mr. Gregory had now had the position brought home to him and had shown adequate and satisfactory appreciation of it, and his Lordship thought that Mr. Gregory might thank Mr. Matheson for the manner in which he had been taken out of an ugly situation. He would accept the explanation and apology which had been submitted to him, and would appoint Mr. Gregory while he held the office of District Court Clerk for the district.

TWO MATRIMONIAL SUITS.

ALIMONY MOTIONS.

(BEFORE MR. JUSTICE SULLIVAN.)

In the case of Sheehy v. Sheehy, an application was made for an order on the respondent, Patrick Sheehy, of Clonakilty, Co. Cork, to pay to the petitioner, Mary Sheehy, his wife, alimony, pendente lite.

The application was grounded on the affidavit of the petitioner, who stated that the respondent's income amounted to about £434 a year, and that his furniture and personal effects were worth at least £200. She added that she is absolutely destitute of means.

The respondent in an affidavit stated that his annual income is only £300 odd.

Mr. Justice Sullivan granted the application, and fixed the amount of the alimony at £2 10s. per week.

Mr. Rearden (instructed by Mr. J. Travers Woulfe) appeared for the petitioner; and Mr. Moloney (instructed by Mr. J. H. Powell) for the respondent.

An application for permanent alimony was made on behalf of Mrs. Teresa Talty against her husband, Mr. John Talty, of the Sugar Loaf Hotel, Kilmacanogue, Co. Wicklow.

Mr. Shannon, K.C., with whom was Mr. Newett (instructed by Messrs. Shannon and Co.), for the petitioner, Mrs. Talty, said that a decree was granted to her on the finding of a special jury on 11th June this year against her husband on the grounds of cruelty. An order for alimony, pendente lite had been made by Mr. Justice Hanna on 15th January for three guineas a week. That was paid up to the date of the decree in June, but nothing had been paid since. Dealing with the property of the respondent, counsel mentioned the licensed premises known as the Sugar Loaf Hotel, on the road leading from Bray to Wicklow and Glendalough, and said that he had also other property in land. The Sugar Loaf Hotel had been put up for sale, and at the trial in June the petitioner deposed that she bid up to £12,000 for it in order to stop the respondent from divesting himself of all his property. She stated, however that there were genuine bidders up to £7,000 or £8,000. The petitioner, with two of the children, was residing with her mother, but in an affidavit she said that she could not continue to do so, and would have to get a flat, and also get a maid for the children, and calculated that for this she would require £325 per annum. The respondent in an affidavit stated that there was a falling off in the business of the licensed premises owing to circumstances over which he had no control. Formerly the principal part of the business was with bona fide travellers, but that had almost entirely disappeared owing to the provisions of the Intoxicating Liquor Act, 1924, which did not permit licensed premises to open for bona fide travellers before one o'clock on Sundays, by which time, the affidavit stated, nearly all the travellers had passed. This, and the increased facilities for getting from town to town, had reduced the business. He further claimed to be the legal guardian of his children, and submitted that permanent alimony should be only in regard to the petitioner.

Mr. Joseph O'Connor, K.C., with whom was Mr. M. J. Ryan (instructed by Mr. J. H. McCarroll), for the respondent, contended that alimony should be based on the maintenance of petitioner herself. No order had been made by the Court as to the custody of the children. With regard to the value of the licensed premises, counsel said that the respondent stated that the auctioneer informed him that the last genuine bid was only £4,500, and that the premises were now only worth £3,000, because of the new licensing legislation.

Mr. Justice Sullivan said that he was in a difficulty, caused by the affidavit put in by the respondent. The only person who could tell what the property brought in was the respondent, and he would not do it, so that his lordship had more or less to speculate as to what the respondent could pay. In fixing the alimony he had regard to the fact that the children were supported by the mother. He fixed four guineas a week.

DAMAGE TO LOCK GATES.

LIMIT OF LIABILITY.

(BEFORE MR. JUSTICE MEREDITH, SITTING WITH MR. DAVID BARRY AS ASSESSOR.)

In the case in which Mr. F. Robertson and J. McK. Robertson, as owners of the s.s. Cairngorm, were the plaintiffs, and the Grand Canal Company defendants, the plaintiffs sought to have their liability limited under the provisions of the Merchant Shipping Act, and lodged £2,845 in court as representing their total liability to all persons concerned arising out of damage caused by the s.s. Cairngorm to the Camden Lock Gate at Ringsend on May 1st of last year. The Grand Canal Company claimed £4,029 in respect of damage to the lock gates, and were awarded £3,700.

There were also claims by other parties in respect of loss of profits incurred between May 1st and May 25th of last year, during which the Camden Lock of the Ringsend Dock was closed. These claimants and the amounts of their claims were:—The Dublin United Tramways Company, £752; the Alliance and Dublin Consumers' Gas Company, £386, and Wallace Brothers, Limited, coal merchants, £611. The claim of the Tramway Company was dismissed on the ground that they had no special claim against the s.s. Cairngorm, but in case it might be afterwards decided that they had a claim, the Court fixed the amount to be paid to them at £650.

Similar rulings were made in regard to the claims of the Gas Company and Wallace Brothers, while assessing damages at £270 and £100 respectively.

Mr. Overend, K.C., and Mr. H. V. Wilson (instructed by Messrs. Hayes and Sons) appeared for the Grand Canal Company; Mr. P. Lynch, K.C., and Mr. Mooney (instructed by Messrs. Casey, Clay, and Collins) for the Dublin United Tramway Company; Mr. W. G. Shannon, K.C., and Mr. Marnan (instructed by Messrs. Cox and Co.) for the Alliance and Dublin Consumers' Gas Company; and Mr. E. S. Robinson (instructed by Messrs. Matheson, Ormsby, and Prentice) for Wallace Brothers.

ACTION AGAINST A DOCTOR.

(BEFORE MR. JUSTICE O'BYRNE.)

Mr. Sainsbury (instructed by Mr. Mathew Good) applied, on behalf of the defendant for an order transferring the action for trial to the Circuit Court. The action was brought to recover damages for personal and other injuries sustained by the plaintiff through the alleged negligence of the defendant or his servants in the driving control and management of a motor car near Fitzwilliam place, Dublin, on the 22nd of March last. It was, he said, a case for the Circuit Court, because the injuries were not very serious, the plaintiff being at work again.

In an affidavit on which the motion was grounded, the defendant, Dr. Barry, stated that on the occasion in question his driver was not guilty of any negligence, and the collision took place by reason of the plaintiff's negligence. The plaintiff claimed £500 damages, and, in the event of succeeding in the action, he would not be entitled to recover anything like that sum; a sum of £50 would amply compensate him.

Mr. W. G. Gleeson (instructed by Mr. A. Lane Joynt) opposed the application on behalf of the plaintiff, stating that the injuries were of a serious nature, according to the medical affidavit of Dr. H. S. Meade, who stated that on examining the plaintiff in St. Vincent's Hospital on the 22nd March he found that there were two small fissured fractures in the knee-cap. His right shoulder was somewhat tender, but otherwise normal. There were some skin abrasions on the right knee, right little finger, and the right ankle. As the swelling in the knee was reduced, he put him in plaster of paris on 30th March. He left hospital on 4th April. He saw the plaintiff about a month later, when he removed the plaster and told him that he might start light work.

Mr. Justice O'Byrne said that he was quite satisfied that the case should be transferred to the Circuit Court. He made an order transferring the case, costs to be costs in the cause, remarking that there was no possibility of it being heard during the present sittings.

LOUTH SLANDER ACTION.

EXTRAORDINARY ALLEGATIONS.

(BEFORE MR. JUSTICE O'BYRNE.)

In the case of Patrick Henry, merchant, of Millgrange, Greenore, Co. Louth, against Patrick McGuinness, labourer, of Ballinamoney, Co. Louth,

Mr. Campbell (instructed by Mr. James H. Murphy) applied on behalf of the defendant for an order transferring the action for trial to the Circuit Court for Louth. The action was brought for alleged slander and defamation with reference to the burning of the plaintiff's house. In an affidavit the plaintiff stated that on the 30th May last his premises were destroyed by fire, the origin of which he believed was malicious, and he had lodged a claim for compensation for their destruction, the hearing of which was at present pending. He was informed by Peter Loughran, of Ballinamoney, that on the 2nd June last he met the defendant, and the defendant told him that the sergeant of the Guards had been to his house inquiring about the burning of his premises, and the defendant said to him, what would make him burn the house when he was getting nothing for it, and that Henry (meaning deponent) was giving him £5 and a half-pint of whiskey to burn Ballagan, and that he would not do it.

Peter Loughran further informed him that later on the same day he met the defendant at the railway station, Greenore, and that the defendant then repeated in the presence of Arthur O'Hare that Henry had offered him £5 to burn Ballagan House. His solicitors having written to the defendant on 9th June, requiring him to withdraw the false accusation and pay a sum for damages and costs, the defendant replied by letter on the 12th June, in which he repeated the statement that he (deponent) had offered him £5 to burn Ballagan, and that he would swear that statement to be true.

The plaintiff further said that it was wholly untrue that he on any occasion offered the defendant anything for the burning of his house, or had any conversation of the kind with him, and that the statements were calculated to do him great injury.

In a replying affidavit the defendant, who mentioned that he resided in a labourer's cottage, held under the Louth County Council at elevenpence a week, stated that three days after the plaintiff's publichouse at Millgrange was burned Sergeant Flannigan, one of the Guards stationed at Greenore, took a statement from him in his own house in reference to the burning of the plaintiff's premises, and the statement made to the sergeant was true. Afterwards Peter Loughran came into his house, and asked him what the sergeant was doing with him. He told him the sergeant was in with him over Henry's burning, and that he might not be coming near him. He also told Peter Loughran that he told the sergeant that Henry, about three years ago in his house at Greenore, offered him £5 if he would burn his publichouse at Ballagan. He also told Loughran that the plaintiff gave him on the same night as he offered him the £5 two pints of ale and a glass of whiskey. He said that both statements were true.

Mr. Lavery (instructed by Messrs. Charles MacMahon and Son), on behalf of the plaintiff, opposed the application.

Mr. Justice O'Byrne refused the application with costs, remarking that this was a very serious case.

NEW CHURCH TO OUR LADY OF LOURDES,
LR. GLOUCESTER STREET, DUBLIN.
A temporary Edifice has been erected on the site secured for the New Church which is badly needed in this locality.
It is already crowded, and the Shrine has aroused a deep spirit of Devotion to Our Lady of Lourdes, with most beneficial results among the people.
The Accommodation afforded by the Temporary Structure is inadequate. The Administrator strongly appeals to the Catholics of Dublin and of Ireland for the means to undertake the building of the New Church. The district being one of the most densely populated and poorest in the city, little pecuniary aid can be expected from it.
The Holy Sacrifice of the Mass will be offered EACH WEEK for Subscribers.
Subscriptions will be thankfully received by any of the Clergy, or by

Sua Si Bona Norint.

Writing yesterday of Europe's war debts to the United States, we said that "the tyranny of these interlocking obligations was felt in every corner of the eastern hemisphere." There is one corner, however, of our hemisphere that can whistle at war debts, and it is the small State which is governed from Dublin. Save in her sympathies the Saorstat is untouched by the menace which has depressed the trade of England and is blighting the prospects of France. She owes this freedom to the British magnanimity that stands in such noble contrast to the cold methods of the almost universal creditor. By the London Agreement of last December, which settled the Irish boundary question, the British Government consented to cancel Article V. of the Anglo-Irish Treaty, and so to release the Saorstat from her share of the costs of the Great War. That share never has been computed precisely, but conservative estimates, in this country and in England, have agreed upon a figure of some £100,000,000. The annual interest on this amount would have been £5,000,000, for which, in effect, the present and succeeding generations of Free State taxpayers would have become tributaries to Washington. To how many Irishmen has it occurred during recent weeks to breathe a thanksgiving for their escape from the general fate of Europe? Moreover, the Free State's full benefit from the cancellation of her war debt remains to be reaped. Burdened with that unascertained liability, she could not have raised a loan in any money market. Relieved of it, she may invite competitors for a loan which would be a first charge on her resources.

The Free State's people have many distresses and anxieties, and are not slow to advertise them—over-taxation, an excess of public expenditure, heavy transport charges, a high cost of living and the like. Since, however, absorption in grievances produces despondency, an occasional marshalling of blessings against misfortunes is moral discipline of the most useful kind. It is largely because we are incurious of external affairs that we take an exaggerated view of our own troubles. The political, social and economic atmosphere of the Free State would be improved immensely if all her citizens could be induced to realise three facts—the first, that the Great War has left her, as compared with the rest of Europe, virtually unscathed; the second, that she is deriving precious advantages from her association with England; the third, that all her troubles are local and that the remedies for them are in her own hands. The Free State's financial position probably is the best in Europe. She has no war debt; her credit is sound; her total obligations amount to some fifteen million pounds, and for the bulk of this sum she is debtor to her own citizens; the causes of her adverse balance of trade are known and can be removed. Again—another too lightly regarded favour of fortune—through her connection with England the Saorstat enjoys the inestimable boon of a stable currency. While the French and Belgian francs and the Italian lira are swooping dizzily downwards, the pound sterling stands like a rock. The Saorstat suffered none of the toil and sacrifice by which that security was achieved, but she is a full partner in its benefits. If her Government had not resisted foolish invitations to tinker with currency, all the benefits might have been lost.

If, then, as the hymn advises, we count our blessings one by one, must not every Irishman admit that they are a numerous train and that we have ample cause for gratitude? Freedom from debt, a stable currency, peace and order at home (the gift of a native Government), a good climate, a fertile soil, an international reputation for cattle and horses, contiguity to the richest market in Europe—all these things the Free State possesses. It is safe, perhaps, to say that no other European country possesses them to-day in the same abundance. We have all the material of prosperity and progress, and, if we fail to make the fullest use of it, the fault will be entirely our own. Something is wrong, however, in a State where education lags behind opportunity, where economic development is hampered by high taxes, and farmers cannot hold a next-door market against the competition of distant lands. The great value of a general recognition of our many advantages lies in the fact that it would inspire pride and confidence, which, in turn, must give a strong stimulus to national effort. A despondency which was natural four years ago is wholly inexcusable now; but the habit clings and is encouraged by the talk of men who refuse to allow political by-gones to be by-gones. Not less important than the speedy abolition of public extravagance and other obstacles to progress is the creation of a mood of progress, founded on the new conditions of the new Ireland. It is thinking in terms of failure that breeds bad farming and fills the emigrant ships. The time has come when the Free State's people have every justification to think in terms of success.

M. Poincaré's Cabinet.

M. Raymond Poincaré has achieved a notable success in the formation of his new Cabinet. His personal prestige has enabled him to gather under his leadership virtually all the men who have been prominent in French politics since the retirement of M. Clemenceau. No fewer than six ex-Premiers are included in the Ministry. M. Poincaré himself represents the Republican Union; MM. Briand and Painlevé are Republican Socialists; M. Herriot is a Radical Socialist and leader of the discredited Cartel, while MM. Leygues and Barthou represent the Republicans of the Left. Nobody save M. Poincaré could have brought M. Briand and M. Herriot into the same Cabinet; for it was the leader of the Cartel who brought about the fall of M. Briand last Sunday, and their political ideas are as far apart as those of Sir William Joynson-Hicks and Mr. Jack Jones. Indeed, M. Herriot has been an arch-enemy of M. Poincaré himself. When he was Mayor of Lyons he engineered the defeat of M. Poincaré's last Administration, and ever since that time the two men have been politically at daggers drawn. The fact that men of such widely differing opinions should have consented to serve under M. Poincaré is an excellent sign. It indicates that at last French politicians are beginning to realise the necessity for united action; and there is no doubt that the only man in France to-day who could lead a Coalition Government is M. Poincaré. His last Administration fell as a result of the Ruhr adventure. He was not a success as a Foreign Minister, but his worst enemies never have denied that he is a transparently honest man. Honesty is what France needs to-day. For two years her political life has been cursed by party chicanery. Government has been purely a matter of personalities; the intrigues of the Chamber have stood in the way of national progress, and France has been driven almost to destruction. Can M. Poincaré save her now? Time will tell. Undoubtedly, his Government has been formed under favourable auspices; its success will depend entirely on his ability to control the motley team which he has harnessed to his chariot. An immediate majority in the Chamber seems to be assured; but there is one man outside the new Cabinet whose activities will require careful attention. M. Léon Blum, leader of the Socialists, never has joined a Cabinet, and he will make every effort to wean the parties of the Left—particularly the Radical Socialists—from their unaccustomed allegiance to M. Poincaré, and to fling the strangely assorted Cabinet once more into the melting pot. M. Poincaré will confront the Chamber next Tuesday, when he will make his statement of policy. He will be well advised to insist on his own programme. Once he begins to throw financial sops to the several parties he will find himself quickly in the morass which engulfed his predecessors in office. Weakness would be fatal. The situation calls for decisive action that will command the support of the people, irrespective of their political views. The time for political thimble-rigging is over-past.

Transport in Australia.

An interesting experiment in transport is reported from Australia. Mr. W. A. Russell, a squatter, who is a member of the Queensland Parliament, has bought ten thousand wethers at Listowel station, near Blackall, and he proposes now to transport them to his ranch at Nardoo in the Cunnamulla district, some two hundred and fifty miles away. The country lying between station and ranch is wasted by drought; consequently, there can be no question of transporting the sheep in the ordinary way—namely, by droving. Mr. Russell, therefore, has purchased two large motor lorries which he has fitted with special "three-decker" bodies for carrying three hundred and fifty sheep. With six drivers, working day and night, and travelling at an average speed of eighteen miles per hour, Mr. Russell calculates that he can complete the task of transporting his sheep in about twenty-five days. The experiment will be watched with keen interest by all sheep farmers in Australia; for the transport problem in the Commonwealth is acute, and the absence of proper roads has prevented the extensive use of the motor lorry "up country." It ought to teach a valuable lesson also to Irish farmers. If a Queensland farmer can bring 10,000 sheep 250 miles by motor lorry, there is no reason why an Irish farmer should not be able to follow his example in a small way. Compared with Australia, Ireland has magnificent roads, and they are being improved every day; yet most of our farmers seem to be content to abide by the methods of their grandparents, ignoring the enormous advantages of modern motor transport. High railway freights were pleaded recently as an excuse for the Free State's failure to take advantage of the opportunity presented to its farmers by the British Government's embargo on the import of Dutch and Belgian pig carcases. The use of motor transport would be an excellent thing not only for the pig trade, but for all Irish agriculture; and until this country succeeds in the efficient co-ordination of road and rail in the service of the farm it never can hope to flourish.

Saxon Speech.

One of the greatest difficulties which are experienced by the numerous international bodies of our age is the language problem. At the Paris Peace Conference progress was delayed in the most irritating manner because, of the "Big Four," only M. Clemenceau knew both English and French. Signor Orlando knew French and Italian; but neither President Wilson nor Mr. Lloyd George ever had ventured outside his native English. This difficulty seems to be multiplied in the case of Labour organisations, which have tried to solve the problem by the use of Esperanto. A statement issued by the headquarters of the International Federation of Trade Unions at Amsterdam, however, suggests that an artificial language is unsatisfactory, and recommends the use of English as Labour's most suitable medium. English is the language of commerce and of sport, as well as of the two most powerful nations in Christendom, and every day its influence is growing throughout the globe. The rapid progress of the United States of America has made a knowledge of English almost essential to all Continental business men; for the American is notoriously loath to speak or write anything but his own brand of English, and to trade with him one must learn it. The jargon that has been compounded out of America's Babel of foreign tongues has had an evil influence, since there is a sort of linguistic Gresham's Law which decrees that the good currency of speech is driven out of circulation by an inferior coinage. Joseph Addison would turn in his grave if he could hear the talk of modern undergraduates at his beloved Magdalen.

COURT AND PERSONAL.

The end of the London season is near, and numerous departures for the Continent and the country are thinning the social ranks. The King will be the guest of the Duke of Richmond for Goodwood Races, but the Queen is remaining at Buckingham Palace till she joins His Majesty on the Royal Yacht for Cowes Regatta. Her Majesty will attend the fête in aid of the Royal Isle of Wight County Hospital and the local War Memorial, which will be held at Carisbrooke Castle, on Saturday, July 31st.

King George and Queen Elizabeth of the Hellenes were the guests of Lord de L'Isle and Dudley on Thursday at Penshurst Place, Tonbridge, where the party to meet the Royal visitors included Viscountess Hardinge and the Hon. Ruby Hardinge and Lord Hardinge of Penshurst.

The Spanish Ambassador and the Marquesa Merry del Val will leave London early in August for Spain, and will be the guests of the King and Queen of Spain at the Miramar Palace, San Sebastian.

The Countess of Fingall, who was one of the guests at Their Majesties' garden party on Tuesday, has returned to Killeen Castle, Co. Meath. The Earl of Granard, who was in attendance on the King and Queen, has returned to Castle Forbes, Newtown Forbes. Owing to absence in Ireland Lord and Lady Inchiquin and their daughter, the Hon. Griselda O'Brien, were unable to attend the Royal garden party. Viscountess Templetown was an absentee owing to illness, and family mourning prevented the Dowager Countess of Gainsborough and the Earl and Countess of Gainsborough from obeying Their Majesties' command.

The Scandinavian peninsula is attracting many tourists this summer, and various parties are making long stays. Lady Saltoun and her son, the Master of Saltoun, will leave London to-day for Stockholm, and will spend the next three months in Sweden. Sir Seymour King has joined his yacht Heartsease at Harwick, and will leave to-day for a two months' cruise in the Norwegian fjords.

Viscountess Astor and some of her children will leave shortly for the United States, where Viscount Astor arrived a few days ago. This week Lady Astor held a reception at Cliveden for Canadian professors and university graduates and for the American university students, clergymen and social workers who are visiting England at present.

The marriage arranged between Archibald Hay-Scott, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Hay-Scott, of Kirkliston, Edinburgh, and Aileen Hilda, youngest daughter of the late John Freeman and of Mrs. Freeman, Balscadden, Howth, Co. Dublin, will take place quietly in Howth Parish Church at 2 p.m. on Saturday, 4th September.

Dr. Alfred Merrin has left Dun Laoghaire until Monday, August 2nd.

Dr. E. A. Keelan has returned to 28 Lower Leeson street.

The Terenure and Districts Horticultural Society's Show of Fruit, Flowers, Vegetables, Poultry, Rabbits, etc., will be held, by kind permission of E. Clive Brooks, Esq., at Ashfield, Rathfarnham (tram passes gate), to-day, 24th July. Sir F. W. Shaw, Bart., the President of the Society, will declare the Show open at 3 o'clock. The public will be admitted from 1 o'clock to 6 o'clock. Admission 1s.

Dancing, 1926-1927.—Madame Olga Warner wishes to announce that, owing to her numerous engagements to give exhibition dances in London and Paris during the coming season, she will not be in a position to undertake any regular Saturday night contracts. She desires to take this opportunity of thanking the directors of the Metropole Ballroom and her many patrons for their kind support during the past season. It will be remembered that Madame Warner has her Salon at Lincoln Chambers. She will be taking on a limited number of assistants.

Aravon School Sports will be held on Saturday, July 24th. The Headmaster hopes that Old Boys will take notice of the date, as it is impossible to send invitations to each individually.

LONDON LETTER.

A FOILED PLOT.

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON,
FRIDAY NIGHT.

The Liberal Party in the House of Commons completely failed to bring about a "snap" division this morning, for which it had made an elaborate plot, though it succeeded in providing members with the best laugh that they have had for weeks. Captain Wedgwood Benn, who is considered one of the real tacticians of the Liberal Party, inspired the plot last night, being induced, no doubt, by the fact that the Conservative attendance on Friday last was so poor as to lead to reproaches by the Government Whips. To be successful a division had to be taken directly after the meeting of the House; but Captain Benn, who is a little excitable, ruined the chances of success by telling the Secretary of the Parliamentary Labour Party in the hearing of the private secretary of the Chief Government Whip that there was going to be a division in a minute or two. Mr. Harris, the private secretary, immediately warned Commander Eyres Monsell of the danger, and the machinery of the Whips' Office was at once set in motion, while Sir Laming Worthington Evans was put up to hold the fort by talking as long as possible. In ten minutes sufficient Conservative members had arrived to ensure safety, and it was hinted to Sir L. Worthington Evans that he might sit down. The division was challenged when the Government had a majority of over seventy. The Liberals were greatly chaffed in the Lobby on the failure of their little scheme, but they retorted that it might have been successful had strict silence been observed.

Danger in Paris.

The situation in Paris is becoming somewhat dangerous; for it is possible, unless a strong Government is set up, that there may be an outbreak of violence. The Parisian Press continues its incitements of attacks on foreigners, and in one case ex-soldiers are urged to storm the cafés and restaurants frequented by foreigners, turn them out, and consume the meals prepared for them. No jury, it adds, would convict them, and in this the writer is probably correct; for the acquittal of criminals is now a common thing in Paris. Another journal suggests an attack on M. Herriot by remarking that if to-morrow some war cripple, reduced to the most lamentable poverty, felled like a noxious beast the man who has ruined and dishonoured France, would twelve jury-men be found to condemn him? If this kind of thing appeared in papers on this side of the Channel, what an outcry would ensue!

The Fluctuating Franc.

The fluctuation of the franc is having an important effect on holiday schemes and plans. Thousands of agreements have been made by English people, anxious to spend August in France, and, in most of these cases, plans are thrown into confusion by a demand from landlords that the agreements shall be revised, or accommodation cannot be retained. There have been many cases of this character during the past few days, and, as holiday-makers have paid deposits and arranged for train accommodation, it can be seen that they are placed in a very awkward position. It is possible that the French hotel and boarding houses people will over-reach themselves in their eagerness to take advantage of the financial situation; for many holiday-makers are now turning away in disgust from the prospect of a visit to France.

The Mining Crisis.

There is a steady trickle of miners back to work, but the stream is not large enough yet to warrant a belief that the strike will be broken by any general rush to the mines. The mine-owners do not expect a settlement for some time to come, it is said, though they are hopeful that the Coal Mines Act, with its permissive eight hours, will solve the situation in the end. In this attitude they have the support of the moderate trade unionists, who are exerting all the pressure that they can on the miners' leaders who are not extremists, and it is related that they are confident that their efforts will prove successful. For the moment negotiations of any kind seem to have been abandoned.

Coal Selling.

The personnel of the Commission set up to deal with the question of coal-selling is an extremely good one; for it would be difficult to find a list of names which would inspire greater confidence in this matter. That the Commission is so strong is rather remarkable; for the Government has been greatly hampered in its choice, since so many people have interests in coal in one way or another. Sir Alfred Mond, who has virtually inspired the setting up of the Commission, is to be congratulated on the success attending his efforts, and it is hoped that when the selling scheme has been put through he will press for an inquiry into the management and unification of production in the coal industry.

Irish Whiskey.

Now that increased supplies of matured Irish whiskies are becoming available, the Irish distillers and blenders, I understand, are taking steps to increase sales on this side. The demand for all whiskies is so poor at the moment owing to the high duty that material progress seems almost impossible, but one of the big Irish distillers, in the hope of improvement, is preparing a most extensive campaign of advertising, a feature of which will be the stress laid on the points in which Irish whiskies can claim to be superior to the Scottish varieties.

Irish Roses.

The Royal Horticultural Society's Hall in Westminster to-day was a bower of roses, and, as I heard a man remark, it reminded one of Persia. The heat must have reminded him of that country also; for the attendance was so large that it overflowed the Hall several times during the day. The Irish growers had a magnificent display, and, while they did not succeed in getting away with the highest prize on this occasion, it would be difficult to surpass some of the lovely blossoms which they brought over. At the stand of Messrs. Samuel McGredy, the rose-grower of Portadown, the gorgeous crimson Portadown was universally admired. An award of merit fell to Mr. McGredy for Cherry, a new seedling rose of pink and yellow tints, while he also secured the second prize for a really splendid group of roses of many varieties. Messrs. Alexander Dickson, in the new seedling, Lady Worthington-Evans, a new crimson of a bright shade, secured the gold medal, the highest award of the day; while a certificate of merit fell to the pink and yellow tinted new seedling, Adela Crofton. Messrs. Dickson also secured the third prize for a group of roses.

A First Edition.

A few days ago a friend of mine found that his wife possessed a first edition of the "Pilgrim's Progress" in perfect condition. The volume is a small one, and its owner did not attach particular importance to it until it was learned that an imperfect first edition was sold some years ago for £2,000. The book is to be sold at Sotheby's on Monday next. There is a rather curious link between the owner of the book and Bunyan, the writer; for the former is a descendant of Oliver Cromwell, while Bunyan was a Roundhead soldier, quartered at Newport Pagnell, where the book came from.

The Prince of Wales was received and entertained by the Mayor and Corporation when he visited Portsmouth yesterday, and was enrolled a freeman of the city.

OPINIONS ON THE N

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

PARIS, Friday.

The fourth Poincaré Ministry, which has just been formed, is a complete Ministry of National Union, which it was M. Poincaré's expressed intention to form. He has collected together most of the prominent political leaders, six former Premiers being amongst them. They are:

M. Aristide Briand, M. Painlevé,
M. Barthou, M. Georgos Leygues,
M. Herriot,

and M. Poincaré himself. Beside those mentioned above, the other members of the Cabinet have been Ministers at least once, with the exception of M. Fallières, the son of the former President of the Republic, who has, however, held the office of Under-Secretary of State.

M. Poincaré has grouped together politicians belonging to every party, with, of course, the exception of the Socialists, whose financial programme comprises a capital levy, which has already been rejected by Parliament, and who, governed by the decisions of their Congress, cannot agree to collaborate with the Government.

THE NEW MINISTRY.

Premier and Finance	M. Poincaré.
Justice	M. Barthou.
Foreign Affairs	M. Briand.
War	M. Painlevé.
Marine	M. Leygues.
Interior	M. Sarraut.
Public Works	M. Tardieu.
Public Instruction	M. Herriot.
Commerce	M. Bokanowski.
Colonies	M. Perrier.
Agriculture	M. Queuille.
Pensions	M. Louis Maris.
Labour	M. Andre Fallières.

It needed the great prestige of the former President of the Republic to obtain collaboration between prominent persons with such different points of view as those possessed by M. Herriot, M. Briand, M. Painlevé, and M. Tardieu, not to mention the others.

DISTRIBUTION OF PORTFOLIOS.

So as to obtain a majority in Parliament, to which he will make an appeal for the task of financial rehabilitation, which will be essentially the task of the new Government, M. Poincaré has allotted the largest number of portfolios to the representatives of the Left Parties, while at the same time finding room for moderate politicians, such as M. Louis Marin.

The Ministry comprises four Senators: M. Poincaré, M. Barthou, M. Albert Sarraut, and M. Leon Perrier, and nine Deputies: M. Briand, M. Painlevé, M. Leygues, M. Herriot, M. Bokanowski, M. Fallières, M. Tardieu, M. Queuille, and M. Louis Marin.

The three principal Parties of the Senate are represented: that of the Republican Union by M. Poincaré; that of the Left Republican by M. Barthou; and that of the Left Democratic by M. Sarraut and M. Leon Perrier.

The nine Deputies are divided up as follows:—

Radical Socialists—M. Herriot and M. Queuille.
Republican Socialists—M. Briand and M. Painlevé.
Left Radical Party—M. Andre Fallières.
Member of the Republican Democratic Union—M. Louis Marin.

M. Andre Tardieu, who is not officially attached to any party, is a Left Republican. By its composition, the Cabinet is certain to secure in the Chamber a substantial majority, and in the Senate it can count on an almost unanimous vote.

WELL RECEIVED: FRANC UP.

The "all-star cast" of the Poincaré Ministry was well received by all parties, with the exception of the Socialists and the Communists and some Radical irreconcilables. The Bourse reflected the general satisfaction in the recovery of the franc to 206 to the pound.

"A truce of parties and persons," was how M. Briand summed up the situation. By accepting a minor portfolio, in order to give a lead to his fellow-Radicals, M. Herriot somewhat redeems himself in the eyes of his recent critics. The stage is set for the players, but the question remains as to what the play is to be; in other words, what is to be the financial programme of the Cabinet?

At first sight it may be hard for opposite political poles like M. Louis Marin and M. Herriot to subscribe to a common policy. Presumably M. Poincaré outlined his financial projects to future collaborators, who, presumably, gave their assent.

In such circumstances a Parliamentary majority is assured for M. Poincaré's measures. Those measures can only be indicated at present by a question mark. They are an unknown quantity. M. Poincaré's attitude towards the London and Washington debt agreements specially gives rise to speculation.

SIX EX-PREMIERS IN THE FRENCH CABINET.

M. POINCARE'S SUCCESS.

PLANNING TO SAVE FRANCE AND THE FRANC.

SATISFACTION IN PARIS.

We wished to form a very broad-based Cabinet of National Union, in which all parties should be represented without attempting to allocate portfolios on a percentage basis. We have tried to carry out our task with loftiness of view. I may say that I did not encounter difficulties because I tried to form a Ministry without taking into account the preference of one person or another. If we had paid attention to all the suggestions which have been made, we should have spent an endless time in seeking an ideal solution, and at this moment there is no time to be lost.

M. POINCARE made the above statement last evening after he had succeeded in forming a Cabinet of "all the talents," which contains no fewer than six ex-Premiers, including himself. The new Ministry, which has been well received, is expected to command a substantial majority in both the Chamber and the Senate.

M. Poincaré (says "The Times" Correspondent in Paris) has succeeded in making a Ministry which approaches as closely to the ideal of a "Ministry of National Union" as is conceivable, in view of the distribution of political forces in the Chamber.

The exchange has improved from 217.50 to 208.25, but the financial situation remains unchanged, and optimism may be restrained until the new Government shows how it intends to deal with the old problems.

M. Briand's continuance at the Quai d'Orsay should be a guarantee that there will be no change in foreign policy..

PREPARING A PROGRAMME.

A Cabinet Council will be held at three o'clock to-morrow afternoon at the Ministry of Finance. Other Cabinet Councils will be held on Sunday and Monday. At these meetings the members of the new Government will draw up the Ministerial declaration, and also the financial proposals, which it is hoped to lay before the Chamber on Tuesday.

The terms of the declaration and of the proposals will be finally settled at a fourth Cabinet meeting, which has been arranged for Tuesday morning.

"A FINE GESTURE."

The members of the new Government arrived at the Elysée in the course of the evening. M. Tardieu, Minister of Public Works, who was among the first to arrive, asked if the Ministry had been well received, replied: "Very well."

"We have worked hard," continued M. Tardieu, "especially since midday."

Some minutes later M. Bokanowski, Minister of Commerce, declared that "a fine gesture has been made by the politicians, who have united to face a critical situation in which they had held such widely differing opinions before. It is splendid of them," continued the Minister, "to have called a truce for the safety of the nation—it is the French spirit."

M. HERRIOT ON HIS DUTY.

When M. Herriot arrived, the former President of the Chamber received many congratulations.

"Do not congratulate me," replied M. Herriot; "I am not here from conviction, but because it is my duty."

At last, at seven o'clock exactly, M. Poincaré arrived in his motor car.

"I would have you notice," said the Prime Minister smilingly, "that the Ministry commences by keeping its promises. It is absolutely punctual."

Immediately after the arrival of M. Poincaré, the Prime Minister and his colleagues were received by President Doumergue. M. Poincaré then introduced his colleagues to the President.

"A MIRACLE."

When the deputies of every shade of political opinion heard at the Palais Bourbon of the composition of M. Poincaré's Cabinet, there was the unanimous view that M. Poincaré had worked a miracle.

The members of the Left Centre and of the Right Centre of the Chamber congratulated themselves on the unexpectedly happy result, some Radical-Socialists were reserved, but the Communists declared themselves opposed to the Government.

The Socialists, by a vote on the order of the day, also declared themselves unanimously opposed to the Government.

The Radical-Socialists are disposed, with more or less enthusiasm, to vote for the Government.

M. Franklin-Bouillon remarked: "I shall vote for the Government, but I shall explain my vote." He proposed to make certain reservations regarding some members of the Cabinet. His party colleagues, however, do not share his scruples, and declare that they will support the Government without reservations.

SAVING FRANCE AND THE FRANC.

General Girod, the President of the Army Commission, states: "The time for talk is past; we now have the Government that we wanted—namely, one which will save the franc and, with it, France."

M. Paul Bignou, a Left Republican deputy, of the Lower Seine Department, speaking for the Centre-Republicans, said that they would give solid support to M. Poincaré. M. Loucheur, a member of the Radical Left, an ex-Minister, also promised complete support to the Government.

M. Humbery Ricolfi, President of the ex-Soldiers' Party, heartily approved the inclusion of M. Louis Marin in the Government as Minister of Pensions. M. Marin has acquired a great reputation in France by means of his glowing speeches defending the French point of view regarding reparations and war debts.

To sum up it is the general opinion that the new Government will be able to count upon a large and stable majority. Its supporters are estimated at 350 deputies, even in the event of the defection of certain Radical-Socialists. It would now seem that the large majority of deputies are really willing to sink their factional differences for the good of the country.

TWO BISHOPS ARRESTED.

SEQUEL TO PROPOSED BOYCOTT.

NO RELIGIOUS TEACHING IN MEXICAN SCHOOLS.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

NEW YORK, Friday.

AMERICAN newspapers give considerable prominence to the troubles of the Roman Catholics in Mexico, where the new law regulating religion comes into effect on August 1st.

This morning's papers publish despatches from Rome to the effect that the Pope is opposed to Mexican Catholics resorting to boycotting.

A despatch from Mexico City to-day says that the President, General Calles, has issued a declaration probiting religious instruction in all schools, forbidding any cleric from acting as director of any private school, and forbidding the use of any chapel or oratory for the purposes of worship in private schools.

Later.

According to other newspaper reports, Monsignor Morat Del Rio, Archbishop of Mexico, and Monsignor Pas Ual Diaz, Bishop of Tobasco, have been arrested on Federal warrants, charging them with violation of the law for calling on the Roman Catholics of Mexico to bring economic pressure to bear upon the Government, with the object of obtaining an amendment of the new Church laws.

CONTRADICTORY REPORTS.

Another newspaper despatch says that the Mexican Secretary of War has ordered all the troops of the Republic to be under arms, ready for instant action on August 1st, when the new Church regulations come into effect. The despatch adds that the seriousness of the situation resulting from the Mexican Government's decision to enforce these new regulations is fully recognised.

Another despatch just received from Mexico City denies that the Federal troops have been ordered to be under arms on August 1st, but states that the officials admit such an order might be issued if it were deemed necessary.

70 MILLION POUNDS OF ICE.

NEW YORKERS SLEEPING IN THE PARKS.

NEW YORK, Friday.

New Yorkers spent another insufferable day with the city still blanketed in a heat pall. The temperature was lower, but the humidity higher, with the result that cases of prostration were more numerous.

Thousands of families abandoned the city, moving out to beaches, while all the city parks have been thrown open all night to enable tenement dwellers to get some sleep under the open sky.

Some apprehension is felt as to the adequacy of the city's water supply.

One of the largest ice companies is reported to have sold more than seventy million pounds of ice yesterday.—(Reuter.)

MARCONI DIVIDEND POSTPONED.

FURTHER REVISION OF VALUES.

By order of the Board of Marconi's Wireless Telegraph Company, Limited, the following notice to shareholders was issued last evening by Mr. B. O. Collis, the Secretary, from Marconi House, Strand:—

Dear Sir (or Madam),—My directors consider that owing to the continued depreciation of certain of the company's interests in associated and other companies, a further revision of the values has become necessary. Pending the completion of the investigations into those undertakings now being carried out by the company's auditors—Messrs. Cooper Brothers and Company—and by Sir Gilbert Garnsey, K.B.E., F.C.A.—of Messrs. Price, Waterhouse, and Company—the annual meeting of shareholders has been postponed.

Notice of the meeting will be given in due course when the accounts for 1925 are ready.

In these circumstances, although the results of your company's trading for the year 1925 show a profit, the directors do not consider that it will be possible to pay any dividend on the company's ordinary share capital for the year 1925.

The intention of your directors is to secure that the profits arising from your company's operations shall not in future be diminished by losses which may be incurred owing to any possible future depreciation of its investments in associated and other companies."

[Ten per cent. was paid on the Ordinary for 1924. No interim for 1925 was paid.]

AN INTERNATIONAL LANGUAGE.

LABOUR AND ENGLISH.

AMSTERDAM, Friday.

The difficulties experienced by Labour organisations in their international relations, whether at conferences or in correspondence, are the subject of a statement just issued from the headquarters of the International Federation of Trades Unions, which appears to favour the adoption of English as an international medium for Labour, in the same way as French is used in the international relations of Governments.

The Federation statement, after admitting the great increase in the use of Esperanto, concludes:—"The trades unions must consider whether a living language would not really be better for trade union purposes than an artificial one."—(Reuter.)

THE IMPERIAL CONFERENCE.

PROPOSAL TO POSTPONE MEETING.

Reuter's Agency understands that in view of the difficulties arising from the general elections in Canada on September 14, the Imperial Government has asked the Prime Ministers of the other Dominions whether it would be convenient for them to postpone the meeting of the Imperial Conference from October 5 to October 19.

According to a Reuter's message from Melbourne, Mr. Bruce, the Federal Prime Minister, says that he is willing to agree to Canada's request for a short postponement of the Conference.

FILM FIRE IN LIMERICK.

PANIC AMONG AUDIENCE.

Following an outbreak of fire in the operator's box at the Tivoli Picture House, Limerick, yesterday evening, a panic occurred among the audience, which was composed of children and adults, and in the rush for the exits a boy was knocked down and injured, but not seriously. He was taken to hospital and detained.

The programme had been half-way through when the film entitled "America" took fire, and was destroyed.

The flames were promptly subdued, and no damage was done to the building.

Mr. Charles Steil, a member of Messrs. Morgan and Co., and Mr. Frederick Toppin, Vice-President of the International Mercantile Marine.

Mr. Morgan and Mr. Toppin, who landed at Southampton from the Majestic, definitely refused to make any statement, Mr. Morgan merely remarking that he had come over for a short vacation.

Mr. Mellon, the United States Secretary of the Treasury, who travelled by the same boat, on landing at Cherbourg, said that he had no official mission, but had come on a holiday to visit Touraine and Burgundy, and afterwards intended to proceed to Rome in order to see his daughter, Mrs. Bruce.

He declined to answer questions relating to Mr. Churchill's statement on the debts to the United States on the ground that he had not sufficient knowledge of the matter.

After his holiday (says The Times Correspondent) Mr. Mellon, who is travelling with his son Paul and Mr. Clarence Mackey, the "Cable King," will spend a few days in London.

These statements, however, must be read in conjunction with the later announcement—apparently official—that M. Poincaré will have a conversation with Mr. Mellon, when the latter arrives in Paris, regarding the settlement of the French debt to the United States.

A TOURIST BOYCOTT?

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

NEW YORK, Friday.

Although cables from Paris have reported numerous instances of demonstrations against Americans, the newspapers have contented themselves with presenting the facts without comment.

To-day, however, according to the Washington Post, Senator Reed declared that such outbursts against Americans were unwarranted and unjust, and he added that he would urge a boycott of France by tourists if these anti-American displays continued.

Senator Reed, who served six months in France during the world war, has been prominent in the debates on debt settlement.

"A six months' boycott of this kind," Senator Reed added, "would show France what folly it is to behave so outrageously towards a nation that feels for her nothing but friendship and good-will."

CRITICISM NOT RESENTED.

The British Treasury's latest rejoinder to Mr. Mellon appears on the front page of the New York papers this morning, although it arrived too late for editorial comment.

Regarding recent British criticism of the United States over its debt policy, the New York World remarks:—"We can assure our British colleagues that Americans do not, and will not, resent candid expressions of British opinion, nor reasoned attempts to persuade America to reconsider the question."

The New York Times speaks in a similar strain, and emphasises the hard British common-sense which sees the tangible value of friendly Anglo-American relations, and considers it folly to disturb them."

"Sensible men of both countries must see that the time for invidious comparisons is gone by, and it is no use crying over milk which has been long since spilt. Whether they are wise or not, the debt settlements now represent a policy which cannot at present be altered, and disputes about them, together with charges and counter-charges across the sea, cannot remove the seal from the bond which has been signed."

In conclusion, the Times gives the significant hint:—"At the same time, it is of the utmost importance to prevent the intrusion of inflamed national passions into future negotiations, which may, if they are kept calm and impartial, lead to happier results."—(Reuter.)

CANADIAN ELECTION.

OPENING OF LIBERAL CAMPAIGN.

OTTAWA, Friday.

Mr. Mackenzie King, in conjunction with Mr. Lapointe, ex-Minister of Justice, opened the Liberal election campaign to-night. He maintained that the whole proceedings in respect of the dissolution of Parliament were contrary to British Parliamentary usage, practice and law; an insult to Parliament and a matter of supreme importance to the British Commonwealth of Nations. "If," said Mr. King, "Mr. Meighen's unconstitutional course is permitted to go unchallenged by the people of this country, then we may question, on behalf of the self-governing British communities, whether the British Constitution may not become a phantom, to delude, to destruction, instead of being, as we believe it is, the day star of our dearest liberties."

Mr. King made it clear that his attack was not intended for the Governor-General, whose honesty of purpose was undoubted, and he urged the maintenance of British constitutional principles in Canada, as an underlying source of loyalty to the Crown and flag.—(Reuter.)

OBJECTION TO FALSE TEETH.

CANADIAN HUSBAND SEEKS DIVORCE.

MONTREAL, Friday.

During the hearing of a suit for the annulment of his marriage, which was brought by the husband before the Superior Court to-day, the husband's counsel claimed "misrepresentation by the bride regarding an essential part of her person." It appears that after the marriage the husband discovered that his bride had false teeth. According to his counsel, the husband was a psychopath, with a particular leaning towards good teeth, and could not live with a woman whose "mouth was filled with monstrosities from the dental parlour." Judgment has not yet been given.—(Reuter.)

MR. SEAN O'CASEY.

Mr. Sean O'Casey, the Dublin dramatist, was back in his native city from London on Thursday last. He returned to England yesterday morning. His one-day visit was for the purpose of making arrangements for taking up his residence in London permanently.

GREAT SLAUGHTER OF CATTLE.

FOOT-AND-MOUTH DISEASE REAPPEARS.

ALARM IN CHESHIRE.

Scotland is affected once more by foot-and-mouth disease, and yesterday 114 cattle had to be destroyed on one farm near Carlisle, in the prohibited Lanarkshire area. This number comprised the entire stock, and is the largest number slaughtered on one farm since combative measures have been in operation.

Three more outbreaks were reported yesterday near Coppenhall and Wistaston, Cheshire, two at the first-named place, which is not far from the scene of the first outbreak several weeks ago. Seventy-five animals have been slaughtered, bringing the total number since the first outbreak up to 538.

The fresh cases have caused both surprise and disappointment, as it was believed that the disease was disappearing from Cheshire.

FOURTH TEST MATCH TO-DAY.

OLD TRAFFORD GROUND IN GOOD CONDITION.

SOME RAIN WILL OCCUR IN THE WEST AND NORTH. — To-day's Weather Forecast.

FOR the fourth Test match, which opens at Old Trafford to-day, the English Selection Committee have chosen nine of those who represented their country at Leeds. Macaulay, despite his good innings, is left out, for there can be no doubt that he failed in bowling; while an accident spoiled Geary's chances of being again selected. Root and Parker, who were not called upon at Leeds, will be in attendance.

G. T. S. Stevens has been favoured by an invitation, and Ernest Tyldesley, with seven centuries in consecutive matches, is twelfth man. The need of England, however, is not so much greater batting strength, but another bowler.

The Australians, who will again lack the services of H. L. Collins, their captain, who has not yet recovered from his attack of arthritis, may decide to rely upon the eleven that played at Leeds.

The match begins on the same date—July 24th—as the encounter in 1902, when rain, followed by brilliant sunshine, ruined England's chances after they had pulled the game round. Eight runs were required to win, and then heavy rain stopped play for three-quarters of an hour. When the game was resumed, Fred. Tate, the father of Maurice Tate, who will be playing to-day, scored 4 off the first ball and was bowled by the fourth.

Considerable improvements have been made at Old Trafford in the matter of accommodation for spectators. A few showers during the week have not done the pitch any harm, and the conditions should be favourable for run-getting.

Eleven matches between England and Australia have been played at Old Trafford, and of these England have won three and Australia two, the rest being drawn. The game in 1890 was abandoned without a ball bowled.

Play commences to-day at 11.30 and at 11.0 on Monday and Tuesday. Stumps will be drawn each day at 6.30.

THE LANE BEQUEST.

ROYAL HIBERNIAN ACADEMY PROTEST.

We have received the following report from Mr. R. Caulfield Orpen, Secretary of the Royal Hibernian Academy of Arts:—At a general assembly of Academicans, held on the 19th inst., the following resolution was adopted:—"That the members of the Royal Hibernian Academy, at a general meeting assembled, deplore the outcome of the Commission of Inquiry into the question of the Lane pictures, and urge upon the Government of Saorstat Eireann that immediate steps be taken with a view to recovering the pictures in accordance with the admitted intention of the late Sir Hugh Lane."

AFFORESTATION IN THE FREE STATE.

VISIT OF MEMBERS OF SCOTTISH SOCIETY.

The Irish Free State has been chosen for this year's excursion of the Royal Scottish Arboricultural Society, sixty of whose members will arrive in Dublin to-morrow afternoon.

The main object of the trip is to study what is being done for afforestation in the Free State, and for that purpose a week will be spent visiting the principal places where the work is being carried on, either by private landowners or by the Department of Lands and Agriculture.

On Monday the party will visit Abbeyleix, where there are about 2,000 acres of woodlands on the property of Viscount de Vesci. An inteesting feature to be seen here is the old oak grove, for which the then owner refused a very large sum during the Napoleonic wars. Tuesday's itinerary includes Avondale, Co. Wicklow, where there is an experimental station on the Parnell estate, and Lord Ardee's young plantations at Kilruddery.

All Wednesday will be spent in the Glendalough arer, where the Department has extensive nurseries. On Thursday the visitors proceed to Aughrim and Coolattin, Co. Wicklow, and Camolin, Co. Wexford. The arboricultural wealth of Lord Powerscourt's demesne at Enniskerry will give the party a whole day's sight-seeing on Friday. The trip will conclude with a visit to Killarney.

The Society is regarded as the most important organisation of its kind in Great Britain, and its visit to this country is taken as a high compliment to the afforestation work in progress in the Free State. It is thirty years since their last visit to Ireland. There was with them on that occasion Mr. Robert Gallaway, the Secretary, who is also a member of next week's party. The visitors will be conducted by Mr. A. C. Forbes, Director of Forestry for the Free State Department.

AMERICAN STEAMER STRANDED.

ACCIDENT IN CORK HARBOUR.

While going up the River Lee from Queenstown to Cork, the American steamer Kerhonkston, 4,867 gross tonnage, grounded on a sandbank at the eastern end of Cork Harbour. The vessel had no pilot on board at the time. She grounded just outside the compulsory pilotage area.

All attempts to tow off the steamer yesterday evening proved unsuccessful, but it is expected that she will refloat on this morning's tide.

The Kerhonkston is operated by Messrs. Moore McCormack for the United States Shipping Board, and was bound for Cork and Dublin with a general cargo from Baltimore, Maryland, Hampton Roads, and New York.

THE KING'S ASSENT.

Notice is given in the Dublin Gazette that on the 17th inst. the following Acts received the King's assent, signified by the Governor-General of the Irish Free State:—University Education (Agriculture and Dairy Science) Act, 1926; Trade Loans (Guarantee) (Amendment) Act, 1926; Local Authorities (Mutual Assurance) Act, 1926.

LATE NEWS

MEDICAL SERVICES.

POSITION OF THE STATE.

The Times, in a leading article on the medical service, says:—In his presidential address to the British Medical Association, which has been in session all this week, Mr. Hogarth called attention to the changes which are now proceeding in the structure of the medical services of the country. He pointed out that the State is tending more and more to make itself directly responsible for the treatment of the sick, and he asked his audience to consider well how far such a tendency is in the best interests of the public and of the medical profession. There is, without question, a case for the centralisation which is now proceeding. Every county and borough has its chief medical officer of health, who is in charge of the whole machinery of preventive medicine, who is always a man of high standing in his profession, and who combines, as a rule, academic distinction with proved administrative ability. This officer works in close touch with the Medical Department of the Ministry of Health. In some respects his position is analogous to that of the General of a Division. Who, then, is better qualified to exercise control over all the health services and medical activities of his area? The question, undoubtedly, demand an answer. If it remains unanswered by the public, the Ministry of Health will be fully entitled to proceed on the lines which, from the very nature of the Ministry itself, and from the admirable enthusiasm which characterises the whole of its officials, are evidently proving so congenial and so alluring.

But the public, in attempting to arrive at a decision on the matter, must bear two facts in mind. The first of these is that the British Medical Association is not favourable to the institution of what would, in effect, be a State Medical Service. The second is that the Ministers' Consultative Council on Medical and Allied Service, over which Lord Dawson presides, some years ago produced an alternative scheme. Lord Dawson's scheme is founded on the existing British medical tradition. It preserves and greatly enlarges the present structure of "voluntaryism," it sets the public health service and the private health service on the same footing, and, at the same time, brings them into closer relationship with one another. Under such a scheme no enthusiasm need lack its full expression. The Ministry of Health may, indeed, obtain a little less direct authority; but, as the permanent guardian of the doors of opportunity, it must gain enormously in influence and prestige.

FRANC AND THE LINEN TRADE.

SERIOUS EFFECT IN THE NORTH.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

BELFAST, Friday.

The heavy fall in the value of the franc is having a serious effect on the Northern linen industry, particularly the spinning section. Belgian and French yarns are being "dumped" into Great Britain by Continental spinners, and are being sold for sterling at prices which are below production costs in Belfast.

This tendency has been noticeable for some time, but recently Continental spinners are more keen to have sterling for their goods. It is stated that, rather than sell in their home market for francs, which may show a daily depreciation, they sell their products in this country, with a steady currency, and, as far as possible, keep the money in the London banks. This applies not only to the spinning trade, but to other industries, including agricultural produce.

The "dumping" of goods by Continental spinners, in order to "fly from the franc," was one of the reasons urged some time ago for having the linen industry brought under the Safeguarding of Industries Act. It may be agreed that the depreciated franc gives cheap yarns for weavers, but even with these cheap yarns the Irish linen trade has to meet severe competition when the finished goods are being sold in American and other markets at prices which are higher than those quoted by the countries with depreciated exchanges. For instance, the exports of linen goods in the first half of this year totalled 40,777,400 square yards. For the like period in 1925 and 1924 respectively they were 49,506,800 and 60,428,800.

The shipments of linen-piece goods to the United States are particularly noticeable, showing, as they do, a steady decrease during the past six months. The exports to the United States were 19,767,000 square yards. In the like period last year 26,272,300, and in that for 1924 they were 39,053,800.

The United States has always been the principal market for Irish linen goods, and this decline in the principal market is primarily responsible for the drop in the export figures, as the other markets, including the British Dominions, remain fairly normal on the three years' figures.

There are two other interesting points in the Board of Trade returns. The imports of flax and hemp yarns from the Continent for the six months total 127,177 cwt., valued at £960,183. For the like period in 1925 they were only 84,968 cwt., valued at £613,689. The imports of linen manufactured goods into Great Britain and Ireland during the past six months were valued at £563,149. This influx of linen goods, not only keeps Belfast weavers out of employment, but also affects those who would be engaged in making-up factories. The figures should strengthen the hands of persons who are working for a renewal of the application to apply the Safeguarding of Industries Act to the linen trade.

LATE MISS GERTRUDE BELL.

REMARKABLE ARAB TRIBUTE.

The Secretary of State for the Colonies has received the following telegram from the High Commissioner for Iraq:—

"I receive, every day, from all parts of Iraq, countless expressions of grief and distress at Miss Bell's death, and of affection and gratitude for her devotion to Iraq. Arabic newspapers continue to print articles of eulogy and regret. Never, perhaps, has the death of a European aroused such a remarkable demonstration in an Eastern country, and we here all feel proud to have been associated with her in the work which has had so wonderful a result."

39.37 MILES A GALLON.

PETROL CONSUMPTION OF A FORD CAR.

A road test of the fuel consumption of Ford motor cars was carried out from Dublin yesterday on a route of about ninety miles through Navan, Trim, Kinnegad and Maynooth.

Fourteen cars from the garages of dealers in the Dublin area took part. All were the latest Ford models, and some were on the road for the first time. At the starting point in the Phœnix Park each car was given four gallons of petrol, and then the tanks and feed pipe joints were sealed. Officials from the "Irish Motor Trader" had charge of the tests, and Mr. A. Hardcastle, the company's wholesale manager in Cork, superintended the arrangements.

Some remarkable results were shown by some of the earliest arrivals last evening. The weather and road conditions were not good, but one touring car did the journey on an average consumption of one gallon for 39.37 miles. A coupe averaged 33.85 miles to the gallon.

Seven women and three children were killed and forty-three were injured while returning to New York in an omnibus from a Bear Mountain resort. All were from the Brooklyn district and had gone to the country to escape the heat in the city. The omnibus ran into a building and overturned.

FREE STATE'S TRADE.

HOW IT WAS HIT BY THE GENERAL STRIKE.

FALL OF £2,000,000.

OFFICIAL RETURNS FOR MONTH OF MAY.

THE statistics for May which were published last night show that the Free State's trade fell sharply during that month. The decline, no doubt, was due mainly to the general strike in Great Britain, which caused an almost complete suspension of cross-Channel traffic for ten days, and to the coal dispute.

The total trade for the month was valued at only £5,921,000, compared with £8,032,000 for May, 1925, and £7,794,000 for April. It appears, therefore, that the upheaval in Great Britain affected the trade of this country to the extent of about £2,000,000.

	May, 1926.	May, 1925.
Imports	£3,626,000	£5,080,000
Exports	2,227,000	2,833,000
Re-Exports	68,000	119,000
Total of all Exports...	2,295,000	2,952,000
Total Trade	5,921,000	8,032,000
Adverse Balance	1,331,000	2,128,000

For the twelve months ended May 31st the return shows an adverse balance of trade of £17,740,000. The adverse balance for the year ended April 30th was £18,537,000.

DISTRIBUTION OF TRADE.

The bulk of the month's trading, of course, was done with Great Britain and Northern Ireland. The following are comparative figures:—

Country.	Imports. £	Exports. £	Re-Exports. £
Great Britain:
1925	3,725,742	2,232,193	69,336
1926	2,092,976	1,622,382	30,354
Northern Ireland:
1925	558,495	512,882	37,234
1926	532,967	490,570	37,384
Other Countries:
1925	796,182	88,282	12,265
1926	999,988	114,051	346

It will be observed that the goods purchased from Great Britain were worth £470,594 more than the goods that were sent across the Channel, and that the month's trading resulted in a balance of £32,406 in favour of Northern Ireland.

Apart from Great Britain and Northern Ireland, the country which bought most of our products was Germany. Exports from the Free State to that country during the month of May amounted to £28,242, as compared with £8,221 for the same month last year. On the other hand, the Free State imported from Germany during the month goods to the value of £139,784, as compared with £61,551 for the corresponding month last year.

To the United States the Free State exported £25,065, about £721 more than in May, 1925. The variation of the import figures is by no means so slight. The imports from U.S.A. during the month totalled £274,415, an increase of £156,389 on the 1925 figure. From Holland we imported almost twice the value of the goods imported in May, 1925, and the same applies to our import trade with Belgium, Rumania, and Italy. It is worthy of notice that while in May, 1925, our imports from Australia amounted to £198,195, our imports from that country in May of this year were nil, while our exports to that country fell by something over £600.

Following are some comparative figures for the Free State's import trade during the month of May:—

IRISH LABOUR CONGRESS

RESOLUTIONS TO BE DISCUSSED.

At the thirty-second annual Irish Labour Party and Trade Union Congress to be held in Galway from the 2nd to the 5th August resolutions to be considered demand the floating of a substantial loan to finance reproductive works, such as re-making of roads, drainage, afforestaton, etc.; the nationalisation of the railways; the removal of political tests for employés in the public services, and the appointment of a committee of employers and trade union representatives to consider the question of tariffs.

Another resolution protests against the passage of the Rent and Mortgage (Restriction) Act, 1926.

AUSTRIAN PRIEST'S GIFT.

REMARKABLE CASE IN BANKRUPTCY COURT.

In the Bankruptcy Court, Dublin, yesterday, before Mr. Justice Johnston, in the matter of the bankruptcy of David and James O'Byrne, brothers, who had been adjudicated bankrupt, on the petition of their brother, William, the latter, in the witness-box, told a story of a remarkable character.

Mr. Geoghegan, K.C. (instructed by Messrs. E. F. Collins and Son) appeared for the bankrupts, and, in cross-examination of the petitioning creditor (William O'Byrne), the following facts were elicited. He was a student in Austria, where he met a native priest who, after an acquaintance of a few months, made him a gift of 9,000 kronen, equivalent to £400. That gift was inspired by a rich lady to whom the priest acted as secretary. He did not actually handle the money, because it was sent, at the suggestion of the donor, to the witness's brother, who was a priest in Cleveland, United States. The witness had no claim upon the generosity of the priest, who was a wealthy man, and who promised to give him a further gift if he needed it. The witness went to America, and the Austrian draft was cashed, and he gave his brother Thomas the proceeds in dollars

Mr. Geoghegan—This was a strange transaction, if true? It is true. I think the money was given through the lady.

In exchange for the promissory note for £1,000, did you ever give either of your brothers one penny piece? I did not give it directly.

What was the promissory note given for? In order that I should relinquish my claim for money that I had given them in their business of butchers and drapers in Hospital and Knocklong, Co. Limerick.

In answer to further questions by Mr. Geoghegan, the witness said that his brother James was to be married in Limerick on the 17th April, 1921. The wedding breakfast was to take place at Finn's Hotel, and about thirty guests were invited.

Did you go to the church to stop the wedding? I did not.

Did the priest go away when he found that neither of the parties was there at the appointed hour? I do not know.

Were not James and David in a solicitor's office with you at the time, and did you state that no marriage would take place unless you were given a thousand pounds? I did not.

But the fact is: that it was on the morning of the marriage that your two brothers went to a solicitor's office, and signed the promissory note to you for £1,000? Yes.

And then the marriage took place? Yes.

The examination was adjourned.

Mr. James Comyn appeared for the witness.

FREE STATE TARIFFS.

MR. MILROY AND THE COMMISSION.

"The Tariff Commission and Saorstat Economic Policy" was the subject of a lecture delivered by Mr. Seán Milroy, under the auspices of Clan na hEireann, at the Mansion House, Dublin, last night. Admission was by ticket. Mr. P. J. Moylett presided.

After touching on the announcement by the Minister for Finance last April of the Government's intention to appoint a Tariff Commission, Mr. Milroy said that in his opinion not only would a real Tariff Commission be of advantage, but it should be an essential part of the machinery of the Saorstat if it was to develop on the lines of a modern State. The proposal of the Minister, however, was to make the Commission representative of one element only—viz., officialdom. There was a place, and a place of effective service, for officials in connection with such a body as a Tariff Commission, but not as members of the Commission itself. He held that the present Commission was not a Tariff Commission, and that its title should be an Outdoor Relief Commission.

To the serious minded of the citizens of Ireland, there were three things of paramount importance to the country's future peace, stability, progress and independence. The first was its territorial integrity. That had been abandoned by the present Saorstat Government. The second was freedom from external financial control. Apparently any idea of that had been abandoned by the Government. In the Land Bank was the germ of a possible national State bank. Such a bank would be the instrument by which the Saorstat could break through the control of British financial interests which the present banking system secured. With the sale of the Land Bank that prospect vanished. The North had been sold. The Land Bank had been sold. Were they to see the same operation repeated in regard to the third primary phase of their national existence—the economic control of their nation? That control they could gain and possess through the use of their tariff powers. The position in regard to it had been sadly muddled up to the present. Who could tell but that some fine morning it would be announced that another good bargain had been struck—that an agreement had been arrived at with the Northern Government by which the Customs barrier in the North would be removed, and the flood gates opened for the inrush of the British manufactures via the North?

Mr. J. Martin proposed, and Mr. T. M. Russell seconded, a vote of thanks to Mr. Milroy, and it was passed unanimously.

OBITUARY.

MR. PATRICK MEEHAN.

The death of Mr. Patrick Meehan took place on Thursday last at his residence, Esplanade Villas, Dollymount, Dublin, in his eighty-third year. Mr. Meehan rose from the ranks, and attained the position of District Inspector of the old Royal Irish Constabulary. He served in that capacity in the County of Cork in the eighties of last century, when his judgment and discretion enabled him to discharge his duties in a manner that won the respect even of agitators who did not admire the police. He left the Force more than a quarter of a century ago. Mr. Meehan was a member of the Dublin Corporation for some years.

THE REV. J. H. PEMBERTON.

The death is announced at Hovering, near Romford, of the Rev. J. H. Pemberton, a well-known rose grower, and past President of the National Rose Society. Mr. Pemberton, who was formerly Priest-in-Charge of Collier Row, Romford, had gained nearly a thousand awards at flower shows, and had produced numerous new types of rose.

MR. MICHAEL CONWAY.

We regret to announce the death of Mr. Michael Conway, a well-known Irish journalist, who for several years worked on the Dublin Press.

Shortly after the closing of the Freeman's Journal, nearly two years ago, Mr. Conway was appointed leader writer on the Derry Journal, a position which he filled with distinction. He was a frequent visitor to Dublin, where most of his interests lay, and last week he spent a few days with his parents, who reside at Rathgar. He had been ill for several days, and shortly after his return to Derry last Saturday he was operated upon for appendicitis; the operation was successful, but peritonitis set in, and he died yesterday.

For several years Mr. Conway worked as an organiser for the United Irish League. In 1919 he joined the staff of the Freeman's Journal, and until that newspaper ceased publication in December, 1924, he acted as its political correspondent. He was well known to the leaders and front bench members of all parties, and brought many "scoops" to his paper. Old Dublin was his particular interest, and there were few nooks and corners in the city whose history and antiquities he did not know.

A GAELIC COURT.

DISTRICT JUSTICE'S PLAN.

THE "ENGLISH" IRISH BAR.

The establishment of an Irish Court was proposed to the Gaeltacht Commission by Mr. Louis J. Walsh, District Justice, whose "Memorandum on the Administration of Law in the Irish-speaking Districts" is included in the published "statements of evidence furnished by persons who were not examined before the Commission."

The High Courts, Mr. Walsh remarks, are English, but that makes comparatively little difference, as they are located in Dublin and have little real contact with the Irish-speaking districts. The Circuit Court also he deems "English," and he says:—"As the Circuit Bench has been reserved entirely for members of the Irish Bar (which is, I think, the most English of our institutions), I see no prospect of real improvement within the next twenty-five years, during which the fate of the Irish-speaking districts will be decided." He does not consider the position of Irish in the District Court satisfactory in practice.

AN CHUIRT GHAELACH.

ITS CONSTITUTION.

Mr. Walsh then outlines his plan for an Irish Court, as follows:—

"The remedy is to provide a Court, manned by competent lawyers, with a reasonable knowledge of Irish, so as to provide facilities to have cases conducted in the native language. This Court should be called An Chúirt Ghaelach, and should be quite distinct from the Circuit and the District Courts. It should be constituted on these lines:—It should have the jurisdiction of the present District Court, with an extended jurisdiction in contract and tort up to £50. As the Irish-speaking districts are poor, a jurisdiction of £50 would capture almost all the litigation, and save the people the necessity, except on rare occasions, of going to the English-speaking Circuit Courts.

"A great deal of the litigation in the rural districts centres round disputes about rights of way, etc., involving questions of 'title' jurisdiction, and the new Court would have to have reasonable 'title' jurisdiction. It would also have to have 'title' jurisdiction in ejectment. Otherwise its object would be defeated. I would suggest that it should have 'title' jurisdiction in any case where the P.L. valuation of the premises in dispute did not exceed £20. A right of appeal would have to be provided, and, as appeals would not be very numerous, it might not be much of an evil to allow them to go to the Circuit Court. If, however, this was considered undesirable, a system could be devised whereby two judges from adjoining districts could hear appeals from another judge of the same Court. By a system of this sort, the Irish-speaking litigant would be saved, except in very rare instances, from the expense and odious necessity of having to go with his law cases to the English-speaking county town.

LOCATION OF THE COURT.

"As regards the location of this Court, the Irish-speaking areas could be scheduled and included in the territories assigned to the Court. This need not involve any great expense to the State, as there are probably enough Irish-speaking Justices to take this Court, if the country were properly divided. In the County Donegal the Court districts that are Irish-speaking, or largely so, are Ardara, Arranmore, Bunbeg, Carrick, Dungloe, Portsalon, Glenties, Milford, and perhaps Churchill. One judge could take this area and leave the rest to an English-speaking Justice. In this way one of the two Irish-speaking Justices at present working in this country could be released for service in other portions of the 'Gaeltacht.' Probably in other counties a similar grouping of the Irish-speaking Courts could be obtained.

"Those eligible for membership of this new Irish Court should be—(a) District Justices; (b) barristers or solicitors of at least six years' standing. It is necessary to make solicitors eligible for membership of this Court, because there is a much better knowledge of Irish amongst members of the solicitor profession than there is amongst members of the Bar. Almost all the Irish-speaking members of the present District Court have been solicitors. Up to lately the Bar has claimed as its prerogative nearly all the judicial appointments in Ireland, and at present it has the exclusive right of appointment to the Supreme Court, the Circuit Court, and the High Court. But individual solicitors are often more competent lawyers than are barristers, and I think it is correct to say that on the whole the solicitor members of the present District Court have displayed greater capacity than their barrister colleagues. Owing to his peculiar training, the solicitor has a better knowledge of the mentality of the rural litigant than the barrister, and he will be much more familiar with the class of litigation that is likely to come before An Chuirt Ghaelach."

REMUNERATION OF JUSTICES.

As regards the remuneration of judges, Mr. Walsh suggests that it should not be less than that of the senior District Justices in Dublin (£1,200), "who only know English," and that travelling expenses should be added.

The scheme, he says, "will revolutionise the administration of the law in the Gaeltacht," and the existence of the Court "will be a constant incentive to members of the legal profession to make themselves up in Irish, so as to qualify for membership of it and to practice before it."

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

MINING INDUSTRY BILL.

ATTEMPT TO SECURE A SNAP DIVISION.

FROM OUR PARLIAMENTARY CORRESPONDENT.

WESTMINSTER, Friday.

A neat little plot to bring off a snap division, in the hope that the Government would be caught napping, was engineered by the Opposition early this afternoon, but it failed.

Captain Wedgwood-Benn, at the beginning of the report stage of the Mining Industry Bill, moved its recommittal, on the ground that it did not carry out the recommendations of the Coal Commission. He wasted no time on argument. What he wanted was a division before the Ministerial benches filled up, but he reckoned without Sir Laming Worthington-Evans, who, as befits a Minister for War, saw the significance of the move, and took measures to defeat it. He began to talk, and continued talking until he had an assurance from the Ministerial Whips that the Government's supporters were present in sufficient force to outnumber the combined strength of the Labour and Liberal Parties.

Sir Laming was under no illusion as to the object of Captain Benn's motion, and he told him so. It had, he said, nothing to do with the bill, but it had a good deal to do with the clock. The House laughed, and Then Mr. Will Thorne asked the Speaker whether it was in order for a Minister to impute malicious motives to an hon. member. The Speaker observed that he had heard nothing that could be called malicious. The motion for the re-committal of the bill was defeated by 155 votes to 81.

When the Ministerial cheers had subsided, the House proceeded to the discussion of numerous amendments on the Paper. The first one, moved by Mr. Lawson, contained a proposal, which Sir Leslie Scott described as the thin edge of the wedge of nationalisation. What it did was to empower any county borough or Urban District Council to establish, purchase, or carry on any business for the sale of coal.

The amendment certainly had the merit of securing the support of Mr. Lloyd George, who pointed out that this was one of the recommendations of the Royal Commission; but it was rejected by 257 votes to 110.

SETTLEMENT OF DISPUTES.

The next amendment of substance was moved by Colonel D. Davies, who desired to make provision for the settlement of disputes in the mining industry, which included the establishment of a National Arbitration Board, and a Conciliation Committee for each district. His objection to the present methods was that disputes had a habit of drifting into the political arena, and it was this that he wanted to avoid. But whatever hopes the hon. member might have had of securing general assent for his proposal were dashed to the ground by Mr. Ramsay Macdonald, who said that the Labour Party would never accept compulsory arbitration unless the arbitral body, by its nature and composition, were able to gain the confidence of both sides. He was afraid that that stage had not been reached yet; but, apart from that, compulsory arbitration was too big a thing to be made an adjunct to a bill of this sort. It was a matter for special legislation.

Mr. Lane Fox, the Minister for Mines, took much the same ground, but Mr. Lloyd George was rather favourably impressed by the suggestion, and considered that the hon. member had rendered real service by raising this issue in concrete form. In the eight years preceding the war we had lost an average of eleven million working days a year, but in the eight years since the war that figure had gone up to 33 million days a year owing to industrial disputes. It was quite time that this serious loss was arrested.

The amendment was withdrawn.

An important point as to the establishment of selling agencies on a non-profit-making basis was raised by Mr. W. Adamson, but here again Sir L. Worthington Evans was advised that the best course was to await the report of the Committee which he had referred to in a previous amendment.

AMALGAMATION SCHEMES.

Mr. Stephen Walsh, next, by an amendment to Clause 1, sought to place on the Board of Trade the responsibility of taking the initiative in the promotion of amalgamation and absorption schemes. Labour members objected to the voluntary nature of the proposals in the bill dealing with this matter, and refused to be convinced by the Ministers' assurance that there was real compulsion in the bill as it stood. "By whom," they cried, and when Sir L. Worthington Evans replied, "By the other owners," there was an outburst of ironical cheers as well as cries of "An owners' bill." At one time the atmosphere became so heated and the interruptions so frequent that the Speaker had to intervene with the remark that "noise is no argument." The amendment was defeated by 285 votes to 108, and soon afterwards the debate was adjourned, and the House rose.

IRISH LANGUAGE.

NO USE TO CHILDREN WHO GO ABROAD.

At a meeting of the Westmeath Committee of Agriculture and Technical Instruction in Mullingar on Thursday a letter was read from the Department of Education intimating that sanction would be given to the payment of £5 5s. subsistance allowance and third class return railway fare to whole-time teachers of Irish who were authorised to attend approved courses in Irish during August.

Mr. Black said that he did not think that they should approve of that. Irish, he said, would never be a success unless taught in the National Schools.

Mr. Glynn—After learning Irish these people have to go away to a foreign country, so it is a waste of money. Irish is no use to them when they go away.

Mr. Sean Lyons, T.D., said he would not like that it should go forth that there was even one member of the committee against the education of the children of the Saorstat in their own language, simply because they had no guarantee that the children would remain at home. He would say to the farmers, that they should try to develop the farming industry, so that there would be work for all the people at home.

Mr. Black—We are all in favour of Irish, but it is in the National schools it will be revived.

The matter was left over until next year.

CHURCH NOTES.

Canon Horace G. Monroe, Vicar of Wimbledon, who is well-known in Dublin, has been elected Proctor in Convocation for the Diocese of Southwark.

An unusual petition has just been presented to the House of Commons by Sir Ellis Hume-Williams. It is signed by no less than 1,092 clergymen, and urges that the appointment of bishops should no longer rest in the hands of the Prime Minister of the day. It begs the House of Commons "to protect the Church of England from this continued abuse." The petition takes the form of an album, in which the signatures have been mounted with great care by the organiser. It is, however, well to bear in mind that the clergy number over 14,000, so that, apparently, 13,000 are content with the Government system.

Many interesting points are included in the report for 1925 in respect of the administration of Palestine, just submitted to the League of Nations by the British Government as mandatory. Jewish immigrants numbered 33,801—nearly three times as many as in the preceding year. Thirteen new Jewish agricultural settlements were formed. National finance showed a credit balance of over £1,000,000. Progress is reported in regard to the conservation of monuments of archæological interest in Palestine and Transjordania, and several excavation parties are at work. Tenders have been invited for the development of the mineral resources of the Dead Sea. A considerable growth in commercial activity, in building enterprise and new industrial development, is due almost entirely to Jewish capital and the entry during the year of immigrants with money to invest. Altogether the year is characterised as "one of tranquility, of consolidation of administrative work, and of increased prosperity."

ROYAL BANK CLERKSHIPS.
Candidates should note that at the last examination 9 of the 12 appointments offered were gained by pupils of ROSSE COLLEGE, Stephen's Green, Dublin.—(Advt.)

THE COAL DISPUTE.

CHURCHES' APPEAL TO GOVERNMENT.

QUESTION OF LOAN.

In a letter to the Press last night, the representatives of the Conference of Members of the Christian Churches, who have intervened in the coal dispute, declare that in general the terms that they have proposed resemble those advanced by the Chairman of the Coal Commission in his memorandum of May 12th, the first clause of which proposed that negotiations should be resumed, the subsidy being renewed for such reasonable period as might be required for the purpose.

"We are aware," the signatories state, "that financial assistance to the industry during the period of negotiation, though it need not, and in our view should not, take precisely the same form as the recent subsidy, is open to the objection that it increases the economic burden borne by the nation. The answer is, however, simple. A continuance of the stoppage increases the burden far more. The cost to the nation of the present coal dispute was estimated by the Right Hon. Walter Runciman in his speech in the House of Commons on 21st instant at £119,000,000. It is evident that if that figure is even approximately accurate, the cost of financial assistance during a limited period of negotiation, however regrettable in itself the need for such assistance may be, is by comparison a minor detail.

QUESTION OF A LOAN.

"Moreover, though this is a point which we have not discussed with the Miners' Federation, it is possible that the financial assistance asked for ought to take some other form than a subsidy. The possibilities of a loan, either in place of or in addition to a subsidy, should be carefully investigated.

"No lasting peace is possible in the coal industry except upon a basis of justice and co-operation, expressed in such practical methods of organisation as may secure that the worker, in return for efficient service, may receive adequate remuneration, and enjoy humane conditions of labour.

"We reiterate, therefore, our appeal to the Government to consider the terms submitted by us."

Mr. A. J. Cook, the Miners' Secretary, returned to London yesterday afternoon from Paris. He said that he had no statement to make regarding the peace move of Church leaders.

DRIFTING BACK.

MANY MORE MINERS AT WORK

In Warwickshire 650 more men returned yesterday morning, making a total of 7,700. The colliery-owners in Cannock Chase expect a very considerable augmentation of the number of men at work during the beginning of next week.

There are a few hundred men at work in Leicestershire, Notts and Derby, and certain pits have started in South Wales, Forest of Dean, Durham and Lancashire

An official return of men working in Cannock Chase coalfields places the number at 3,500, inclusive of safety men. The men now resuming work after three months' idleness are raising to the surface thousands of tons of coal that was left below as a kind of nest egg when the miners ceased work.

FIRE ON EXPRESS TRAIN.

TWO COACHES DESTROYED.

An outbreak of fire occurred shortly before one o'clock yesterday morning on the Paddington to Twyford express train. When the train was running between Ruscombe and Twyford, Berkshire, a coach was found to be on fire, and the passengers in it were transferred to other coaches. At Twyford it was found that another coach had become involved. The two burning coaches were detached from the train. They were still smouldering in the goods yard yesterday morning. A considerable quantity of luggage, including motor cycles, boots and clothing, was destroyed, but no person was injured. According to an official statement issued yesterday the fire was confined to a luggage van and the passenger brake van.

ELECTRIC TRAIN IN COLLISION.

The 4.20 Bury to Manchester electric train came into slight collision with a number of wagons which were being shunted at Victoria Station, Manchester, yesterday afternoon. Many passengers in the train complained of being shaken, and three women and a man were treated at Manchester Royal Infirmary for cuts, bruises and shock.

ANOTHER COUNCIL DISSOLVED.

COMMISSIONER APPOINTED IN MEATH.

The Town Clerk of the Trim (Co. Meath) Urban District Council has received an order from the Minister for Local Government, dated July 17th last, dissolving the Council, and transferring their property and several powers to Mr. Thomas L. Forde.

The Inspector (Mr. N. O'Dwyer), in the course of his report on the recent inquiry, states that the Council came into office in June, 1923, and found the finances in a critical condition. The Clerk's statement indicated that on March 31st of that year their indebtedness, exclusive of legitimate loans, amounted to £1,150 approximately. In March, 1926, their indebtedness had increased to £2,171 4s. 7d.

The Inspector recommends inter alia that a rate be struck to discharge remaining liabilities within two years, and adds:—"If the recommendations be adopted, and a competent person or body be found to undertake the Council's duties, I am of opinion that the normal expenditure can, within three years, be reduced to not less than 5s. in the £."

LORD BELMORE AND QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY.

When a letter was read from the Secretary of Queen's University at Fermanagh County Council yesterday asking the Council to nominate a representative on the Senate of the University,

The Chairman (Colonel Barton, D.L.) suggested that the Rev. E. Seale, M.A., Headmaster, Portora School, be nominated, and Lord Belmore said that the Rev. Mr. Seale was too busy a man to go away.

Chairman—Well, then, I propose that you be nominated.

Lord Belmore—I will have nothing to do with these things that rival and try to cut out Trinity. I propose that we take no action. Londonderry County Council took no action.

Chairman—It might be to our advantage to have a representative on the Senate.

Lord Belmore—You will get no one to go, I am quite sure.

On the motion of Mr. T. J. Crozier, the Earl of Enniskillen, D.S.O., was then selected as representative, Lord Belmore dissenting and remarking to Lord Enniskillen: "They will want us to contribute to their funds. I would not give them one halfpenny."

EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGE.

DEPOSITS FOR HOUSES IN BELFAST.

At the Belfast City Commission yesterday, the jury disagreed in the case in which Arthur Ritchie, a clerk in the employment of the Belfast Corporation, was charged with the embezzlement of £30.

It was alleged that Ritchie received three sums of £10 from applicants for houses under the Corporation housing scheme, and failed to account for them.

Ritchie, in the witness box, admitted that he received the money from the applicants, and said that he had always been ready to hand it over to the Corporation. It was in a cash box in his desk. At the time he was working day and night in connection with the housing inquiry. Formerly he had received all deposits from applicants for houses, and it was on his representation that the system was changed, so that payments should be made at the City Chamberlain's office.

Ritchie was put back until the next Commission, bail being allowed.

U.S. MARKETS.

STOCKS CLOSED IRREGULAR.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.)

NEW YORK, Friday.

Stocks opened irregular. Trading was quieter, and largely of a professional character. Trade and business news was constructive, and the firmness of French francs and bonds reflected a more cheerful feeling in financial circles. The execution of overnight orders earlier advanced numerous high-grade issues 1 to 6 points, Steels being bought owing to the favourable Bethlehem Steel Company's earnings. Other popular issues also were in demand, but week-end profit-taking and "bear" selling on the upturns caused mixed movements throughout the day. General Motors crossed 170, and other Motors ruled steady. Oils were sluggish owing to fears of the over production of crude oil, but local tractions firmed up in response to the termination of the Interborough Rapid Transit strike. The market closed irregular. Government Bonds steady; Railroad Bonds irregular. The day's sales amounted to 1,230,000 shares. Money on call closed steady at 4 p.c. bid and 4¼ p.c. asked. All business was done at 4 p.c. Sterling exchange firm; silver unchanged at 64½d.

For the month of June—Southern Pacific Railway—Gross 25,726 dollars, increase 17,000 dollars; net 5,154,000 dollars, increase 744,000 dollars.

THE SALE OF A MOTOR CAR.

DUBLIN TRADER'S ACTION IN LONDON.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

LONDON, Friday.

Mr. Justice Acton, in the King's Bench Division yesterday, concluded the hearing of the action brought by Mr. Stanislaus Patrick Callaghan, of Dame street, Dublin, against Caffyns, Ltd., of Terminus road, Eastbourne, claiming the return of the purchase price of a Daimler motor car, or, alternatively, damages for alleged breach of contract.

The plaintiff contended that he was entitled to reject the car on account of defects, and the defendants said that it was an express term of the contract of sale that they gave no guaranty or warranty of quality or fitness for any purpose.

Mr. Justice Acton, in giving judgment, said that the foundation of the plaintiff's case was that there was an implied condition that the car should be reasonably fit for the purpose for which it was required. On the question whether there was such an implied condition, he accepted the plaintiff's evidence that he told the defendants he required the car mainly for the use of his wife, who was not in good health; that, as the roads in Ireland were bad, the car must be such that his wife would be able to ride in comfort. The defendants' salesman, the plaintiff said, gave him a satisfactory assurance on the point. His lordship had no doubt that what Mr. Callaghan, who was a man of great candour, said was substantially correct, and he held that there was the implied condition, and that as regards both engine and body the car was not reasonably fit for the purpose for which it was supplied. The plaintiff did not now seek to reject the car, but only asked for damages. His lordship thought that the car was less than the contract price by £550. There was a claim in respect of certain expenses, and his lordship gave judgment for plaintiff for £600 and costs.

A stay of execution was granted.

THE WEEK IN BELFAST.

SIR JAMES CRAIG AND CANADA.

FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.

BELFAST, Friday.

For most of us the holidays are now over, but quite a number of people are still managing to obtain a few leisure hours. We have had the Royal Ulster Constabulary golfing, a beauty competition at Bellevue, the annual regatta at Ballycastle, and the Cattle Show at Banbridge. The last two showed a marked increase over previous years in the numbers both of spectators and entrants. The weather, of course, has not been too propitious, quite apart from the big storm, which escaped the city proper, but did considerable damage in the outskirts. A storm usually does something out of the way in Belfast. Not quite so long ago a hut of quite substantial proportions was lifted right over the Great Northern Railway Station, and deposited on the other side without a particle of damage.

It has long been a complaint that Belfast had too few hotels. The same, indeed, might be said about the province as a whole; for, apart from those run by the different railway companies, Ulster hotels fall far short of those across the water. This has been a great handicap to the Ulster Tourist Development Association, which has been putting in much really excellent work. The situation in Belfast will shortly be improved; for it is now announced officially that the Grand Central Hotel has been taken over by the biggest hotel proprietor in Glasgow, and will be opened as soon as possible, while building operations on a new hotel—the Linenhall, in Donegall square—have been started. The history of the Grand Central is not uninteresting. Taken over by the military authorities during the war, it has never been used since they vacated it. Some months ago, however, a large placard announced that it had been leased to a North of England company, who would use it as a cinema and restaurant combined. This company has never materialised, and all sorts of rumours have been current as to the real object of this notice. Whatever be the truth, it is very satisfactory news to learn that the position is now settled.

Politically we have had but one topic—Sir James Craig's visit to Canada. It will be remembered that this visit was given by Sir Joseph Davison, at the Twelfth July celebration, as the reason for the Prime Minister's absence. Sir James will not leave until August 9th, and will go in a semi-official capacity. The question is asked, "What business interests both Canada and Ulster?" and the invariable reply—apart from tourist traffic, which would hardly demand the presence of a Prime Minister—it would appear to be the only one—is "emigration." If this be true, it is a confession of weakness; for it pre-supposes that the unemployment question is temporarily unsolved. Canada may, and does, want men, and there can be no doubt that the Ulsterman makes a good emigrant, but Ulster is far from over-populated and her reservoirs of wealth are far from exhausted. However, it is too soon to discuss the question, and it is probable that a further announcement will be made before Sir James leaves.

GOSSIP FROM THE COURSE.

THE CUP.

SPARUS MAKES AMENDS.

INCHRORY'S SURPRISE.

FROM OUR TRAVELLING CORRESPONDENT.

LIVERPOOL, Friday Night.

The meeting closed on the same low note on which it began. The Cup was won by Sparus, and he was not winning out of his turn either. Here, however, he made ample amends to his patient owner, for he won in dashing style by four lengths and three-parts of a length from Invermark and Donzelon. Sparus has to be waited with, and then brought with one short, sharp run, and just for a moment in the straight it seemed as if Donoghue might be pocketed. However, he cleverly extricated his mount, and the moment he began his run he had the opposition cold.

Vermilion Pencil refused to face the tapes, and losing lengths at the start was last all the way. Donzelon ran better than he has done at any time this season, and there may be a race in him. He made the running until Invermark took it up. The latter ran a very good race for a horse who was bought out of a selling plate last month. Amethystine seems to have trained off.

To Taylor, who trains Sparus, also fell the Atlantic Cup, the most valuable race of the day, which Mr. Somerville Tattersall's Foliation won easily from the favourite, Delius, and Cimiez. This Tracery filly has made, as the Tracerys usually do, more than normal improvement in the summer months. She certainly made Cimiez, who was sixth in the Derby, look very small here. Sunny View finished fourth after coming into the straight about ten lengths behind the leader.

Mr. S. W. Beer thought he had a good thing for the Joliffe Two-Year-Old Plate in Presto, but the Phalaris colt was left at the post, and Casino, by beating Vanish Away and Parsee, credited a fugitive stake to the account of Mr. S. B. Joel.

Social Evening was an easy winner of the opening selling race, and then Evening Rose beat Knocklong Boy two lengths in the Croxteth Stakes. The winner made the running for the last half of the race, but an objection was lodged by the jockey of Knocklong Boy for crossing at the start. This was overruled. The objection, I understand, was not lodged until nine minutes after the jockey returned to weigh-in. Black Gown, who was favourite had one of his moody days, for after he had made the running for two furlongs he was not liking his task, and finished unplaced.

Piazzetta, a half-sister to the Derby winner, Sansovino, and St. Napolean, a full brother to the Eclipse winner, Polyphontes, were favourites for the Withins Welter, but both were well beaten by the outsider, Inchrory, who came in the straight to gain an easy five lengths' victory from St. Napolean.

Not a great deal of interest will attach to the racing to-morrow afternoon at Hurst Park. The Lambton Stakes will only produce a fair-class field, and I like as well as anything the chance of the lightly-weighted LIFT BOY, who may be too good for Dakota. None of those likely to run in the Hurst Park Two-Year-Old Stakes have won before, and the best of them may be SPORTING KIT. BATTLESHAFT, who is in the Stewards' Cup, might win the Vyner Handicap.

At Bogside, BERRYBOY may win the Fullarton Plate.

PHOENIX PARK.

TO-DAY'S SELECTIONS.

A special train leaves Broadstone for Ashtown at the convenient hour of 2.15 and returns at 6 o'clock. Selections are appended:

Kells Plate—White Coral.
Kilbride Plate—Foretell; if absent, Golden Battle.
Nugent Plate—Lavengro.
Kilcoole Plate—Tamarist.
Kildare Plate—Yac.

TAILTEANN AUGUST MEETING,
18th and 19th AUGUST, 1926.
The attention of owners and trainers is called to the fact that 10 Races, including four steeplechases, four flat races, and two hurdle races, CLOSE finally with Mr. F. Harold Clarke, 9 Hume street, Dublin, on WEDNESDAY, the 28th JULY.

Entry forms and full particulars may be obtained from Mr. B. W. PURDON, Secretary, Mallow Race Club, Mallow.—(Advt.)

TO-DAY'S SELECTIONS.

The valuable Two-Year-Old Stakes to-day looks like cutting up very badly, and those weighted at 8st. or over may be regarded as doubtful runners. Hay Fever is reported smart, but the best public credentials appear to be held by Talata Arbain and Sporting Kit, and the former may be returned the winner. For the Vyner Plate, in the probable absence of First Edition II., St. Becan and All Green, it will devolve on Grand Joy to concede weight all round. He has failed, however, to get placed out of four attempts this season. The race has a very open appearance. Chase Me Charlie and Esperos have both run consistently this season, and Esperos won over seven furlongs from a big field at Lingfield last May, a reproduction of which form would make him a source of danger to the best. Battleshaft should run prominently, but may not beat Esperos.

Selections:—
Surbiton Selling—Wootton's selected.
Surrey Selling—Foolish Lad.
Vyner Handicap—Esperos.
Lambton Stakes—Lift Boy.
T.Y.O. Stakes—Talata Arbain.
Hotham Stakes—Athos.

SPORTING PARAGRAPHS.

Toujours Juste, Mardor and Oleander have been struck out of all engagements.

Fun (2 yrs.) has been sold and has left Lambourn for Ireland.

Golden Sunspot (2 yrs.) has been purchased by Sir Thomas Dixon, and Easter Hero (6 yrs.) by Mr. F. Barbour.

H. Jelliss has been engaged to ride Priory Park, A. Burns to ride John Dennis, and M. Beary Sunstone in the Stewards' Cup.

Twenty-three English racehorses, comprising yearlings and two-year-olds, were shipped from Liverpool yesterday to Ottawa and Winnipeg by Major W. R. Lidington, of Thame, Oxford.

After the race for the Liverpool Cup yesterday, S. Donoghue, the rider of Sparus, complained that W. Alford, the rider of Genero, had crossed and bored his mount at the turn five furlongs from home. The Stewards severely cautioned Alford as to his future riding.

As Evening Rose was leaving the unsaddling enclosure after winning the Croxteth Stakes at Liverpool yesterday, she lashed out and kicked an onlooker in the face. It appears that the man in question was patting the filly vigorously on the quarters, and so startled her. After several stitches had been put in his forehead the injured man was able to return home.

GOLF.

BARTON SHIELD.

THE SEMI-FINALS.

There was a marked change in the conditions at Portmarnock last evening, when the semi-final round of the Barton Shield was decided. The wind had abated, but in its stead the players had to contend with heavy rain, and occasionally there were crashes of thunder.

Dun Laoghaire and Royal Dublin are the finalists, and an interesting match is thus staged for next Tuesday evening at 5.30. The Portmarnock leaders, H. M. Cairnes and Major Boyd, did not reproduce the golf they played in the first round against Milltown, and were beaten by J. L. Crabbe and T. F. Jameson by 4 holes, while the other match ended all flat. N. Manly and D. Collins (Royal Dublin) combined better than the Sutton pair, M. Crowley and B. J. Crinion, to win by 5 holes, and C. West and T. Kingsmill Moore had an easy victory over W. Chapman and W. J. Gill by 9 holes. Results:—

Going round in 69, he was only one shot outside the record for the course, and he beat Hocking by six strokes.

GAELIC GAMES.

MUNSTER CHAMPIONSHIPS.

LEINSTER JUNIOR TIES.

(BY PAT'O.)

The failure of the Army teams in the cup games of the Garda tournament continues to occupy Gaelic circles. Individually, the teams were well matched. In the football section the Army failure may be readily explained. A wide selection set the team-formers in a quandary, and, instead of playing men in their obvious places, they sought to "man" the Guards at every post. When Kildare played Dublin in the Leinster semi-final, John Higgins, playing at centre-half, was the outstanding man of thirty. He went "up-field" against Guards last week, and was at sea. Successful teams are always placed on intrinsic merit, irrespective of opposition. It is an indication of weakness to set a player out of his customary place to "negative" an opposing plan. Guards played each man in his usual place on Sunday, irrespective of opposition. Had the Army advisers built up their team on the same cohesive lines, better games would have been presented to spectators. Gough, a grand man at full back, was rambling aimlessly against Guards on the half-back line. Guards, on the contrary, placed their men in position, and each player knew his team strength in front and behind. In the hurling game for President Cosgrave's Cup, Guards played as a beautifully moving machine. Individually the Army men were, perhaps, superior; but they played as fifteen men who had never met before. It was the old story of smooth team understanding as against isolated effort.

The Leinster programme is light to-morrow. The second strings of Wexford and Meath meet at Croke Park in both codes. The footballers have played a drawn game recently, and, though Wexford have a stronger tradition in hurling as a county, Meath's recent form against Faughs in a friendly game must not be forgotten. Guardsmen from hurling districts are now diffused through the State. They have helped to pull obscure counties into the limelight, and have found sturdy material in Meath.

The Munster final in Senior football, fixed for Cork to-morrow, attracts wide attention. Tipperary team is drawn from the Southern half of the county, with a few Templemore men to help. They ran Kerry close last season, and some good local championship ties suggest an unusually powerful group. Kerry took chances against an improving Cork team at Listowel on Sunday last. They will be at full strength to-morrow, for they are "all out" to win the 1926 All-Ireland Championship, and travel to America in the autumn as an unbeaten side. The all-conquering Tipperary hurlers arrive in Cork Harbour during the week-end, and they hope to be present to cheer their county men in an all-important game against the Munster champions.

CRICKET.

HAMPSHIRE FORCE A DRAW.

SURREY'S UPHILL FIGHT.

Although Yorkshire declared before lunch at Bournemouth yesterday and set Hampshire to get 316 runs in four hours and ten minutes, the home side made no attempt to force a win, so at a quarter to five o'clock the match was abandoned as a draw, Yorkshire taking three points for the lead on the first innings. Holmes and Oldroyd each reached their hundred and increased their partnership of 146 to 192 for the second wicket in just over two hours and a half. Holmes, by brilliant driving, obtained his 108 out of 202. At tea-time Hampshire had lost only two wickets for 132, and the draw seemed inevitable. Newman and Mead added 91 in an hour and a half, and Hampshire, when the game was given up, were 163 behind.

Surrey had no prospects of winning the match when play was continued at Eastbourne. All that was left them to do was to force a draw, and this they accomplished after a great struggle, in which the later batsmen played a splendid part, the last four wickets producing 149 runs.

Somerset gave a feeble batting display in their second innings, and Lancashire won at Taunton by a quarter to four o'clock by an innings and eight runs.

The fourth innings on the Maidstone wicket found Leicester struggling for runs against Freeman and Wright, and instead of getting the 297 required for victory, they were beaten by 159 runs.

There was a summary finish to the match at Lord's, Notts, in their last innings, being all out for 120, and Middlesex, by a quarter to one, having gained a handsome victory by 75 runs.

All the excitement at Edgbaston on the concluding day was concentrated in the last hour, when Warwickshire, with only seventy minutes available, including an extra half-hour, required 104 for victory. Parsons and Kilner rose to the occasion and scored at a hurricane rate, reaching 30 in ten minutes and 50 ten minutes later. Kilner reached his 50 in forty-two minutes. Bates played on when 10 were wanted, and these were quickly hit off by Kilner and Santall, Warwickshire winning their second match of the season by eight wickets, with twenty minutes to spare.

Owing to the time lost on the opening day through rain, and stumps having to be drawn at five o'clock to enable Gloucester to reach Bournemouth, the match at Cheltenham ended in a draw. Worcestershire, however, took the points for the first innings' lead.

ROWING.

METROPOLITAN REGATTA.

GOOD RACING AT ISLAND BRIDGE.

At Island Bridge yesterday the first day of the Dublin Metropolitan Regatta opened in showery and generally unfavourable weather, but all that sort of thing is part and parcel of the luck of the game. There was very litte wind, and the river was in good condition, there being nothing between the stations.

The great point was that the regatta was held at Island Bridge; but who would have thought that this could have happened? There was a time, and that only a few years ago, when the thought alone of such a happening would have been considered akin to heresy, for in the minds of the great majority of Dubliners, the Metropolitan fixture was welded into that portion of the river which lies at Ringsend.

It may have had its disadvantages. Its supporters did not deny them, but to hold the fixture outside of Ringsend was unheard of, and so it remained there for generation after generation—until this year, in fact, when the great break-away occurred. The reason given was the unsuitability of the tides and reconstructional work on the site where the regatta enclosure was previously erected. As a matter of fact, if the change is a success, and there is no reason, granted fine weather to-day, why it should be otherwise, there is the possibility that Island Bridge will be the future venue of the fixture. It might be better, however, to hold it at Ringsend in alternate years, so that both the lower and the upper Liffey clubs will be satisfied.

The change, of course, did not deter the tidal clubs from competing, for the entries were better than last year, and yesterday we saw such crews as Lee R.C., Cork Harbour B.C., Shannon R.C., Dolphin R.C., and Drogheda R.C. meeting with success.

Carlow R.C. made a welcome re-appearance, but their only crew, an under-age four, was easily beaten by Belfast B.C. Another club we have not heard of for some time—Athlone R.C.—sent an entry, and their maiden four disposed of Commercial R.C. in the heat, but succumbed to Limerick B.C. in the semi-final.

Unfortunately, the stake boats were not ready for the first race—Heat A of the Pembroke Cup (Senior Eights)—and a flying start was necessitated. Despite this, the crews, Lee R.C. and Dublin University "A," got away well. The visitors took the lead after half a minute's rowing and at half-way led by nearly two lengths, but Trinity caught them at the enclosure, and after a ding-dong struggle down the straight failed by two feet to catch Lee.

Newry's Maiden Four met with their first reverse this season at the hands of Dolphin, who, after leading by two lengths for most of the journey, won by half a length in a good finish.

The Limerick Maiden Eight, who were opposed by Shannon R.C. in their heat, were disqualified early in the race for taking Shannon's water. In their last two meetings Boat Club won comfortably.

Racing starts to-day at 2.30 o'clock.

RUGBY.

THE INTERNATIONAL GROUND.

TERRACING AT LANSDOWNE ROAD.

With a view to affording further accommodation for patrons of the Rugby game, the Irish Rugby Football Union have decided to terrace the eastern bank and to erect a stand over the same at Lansdowne road. The stands and terracing will be carried out in reinforced concrete on the Hennebique system, and the roof over the stand will be formed in steel, with asbestos sheets.

The stand will accommodate 4,000 people, together with ample accommodation for the Press, and the terracing will accommodate 14,000. Access to the stand will be from the back by a series of concrete stairs, and more than half the terracing will be protected from the weather by the stand overhead.

The contract for the work has been secured by Messrs. Humphreys, Ltd., of St. Stephen's Green, Dublin, and the work will be completed in time for the match against Scotland in February, 1927. The architects for the scheme are Messrs. Donnelly, Moore and Keatinge, 14 Lower Sackville street, Dublin.

CHANGED INTERNATIONAL VENUE.

IRELAND AND WALES TO PLAY AT LANSDOWNE ROAD.

The Irish Rugby Union have informed Mr. Walter E. Rees, the Secretary of the Welsh Rugby Union, that the venue of the Ireland v. Wales International match, on March 12 next, has been changed from Belfast to Dublin.

CO. DUBLIN CHAMPIONSHIPS.

Showers during the morning worked up into a severe thunderstorm and heavy rain in the evening and seriously curtailed play in the County Dublin Championships at Carrickmines yesterday. The programme had to be shortened considerably, but the Executive hope to complete most of the events to-day, given anything approaching fair conditions.

The chief matches played yesterday were the semi-finals of the Women's Singles, Mrs. Miley v. Miss H. Wallis (holder) and Miss F. Pearson v. Miss N. Stoker. The former pair went into court in the early morning, and by so doing had much the best of the weather. It was a battle of styles, in which Mrs. Miley's volleying power gave her an initial advantage. After the first three games had gone with the service she broke through to lead 3-1, but Miss Wallis replied in kind and followed up with four games in succession for the set at 6-3. She was getting a better length on her forehand and passed Mrs. Miley coming in more than once. Again, in the second set, Mrs. Miley took the lead at 3-1, but she failed to press her advantage home, and the holder squared at 3-all. Miss Wallis should have gone out in the ninth—her own service—but she recovered well in the next to take set and match.

The second semi-final was robbed of much of its interest by the interruptions caused by rain, and the players suffered from the changing conditions. On a fairly fast court Miss Pearson romped right away, to win the opening set on a 6-2 score. In the second she led 3-1 and, playing steadier tennis, looked like qualifying in straight sets. However, Miss Stoker improved on the slower court and a run of three games gave her the lead. In the eighth the set was again squared, but Miss Stoker finished strongly to go out in the tenth. The final set proved very similar. Miss Stoker was more at home on the heavy court and just pulled off a close match.

A full programme is appended for to-day, and, with fine weather, the committee expect to put the first of the finals into court at 2 p.m. Details:—

FINANCIAL NEWS AND NOTES.

TONE AND COMMENT.

DUBLIN IDLE.

BANKS, GUINNESS, AND TOBACCOS HIGHER.

There was exceedingly little business current on 'Change yesterday, and, beyond the continued firmness and confidence in leading Industrials, even with the market much quieter, there was little in the day's price fluctuations to merit more than passing comment. Government National Loan weakened, as did one or two British Funds, but War Loan 5 p.c. rose slightly. Banks were quiet, with Nationals and Munster and Leinsters closing at an advance. Bank Stock also closed buyers. The feature in Breweries was the slightly better tone of the market in Guinness Ord. Shares on support for the 12th August account day. Dublin Distillers Pref. were flat, with offers to sell at a lower level, and Marconi Shares sagged further. Among Rails, Great Southern Ord. and Debs. again gave way, but the Pref. Stock was the turn harder. Parent Trust Pref. were still firm, though closing under best, and Dunlop Rubber Ord. were bid up to 28s. at the close. There was persistent support for leading Tobacco Shares at improved prices. Lever Bros. Pref. were also wanted. Courtaulds were firm, but closed a shade under initial prices. Shell Transports were depressed, and Chartered developed again a downward trend.

LONDON FIRMER.

BETTER TENDENCY ALL ROUND.

The volume of business transacted in the London Stock markets yesterday continued on a restricted scale, but, despite the paucity of interest, a rather more cheerful tendency was apparent, especially in investment circles. The firm tone evident in gilt-edged securities for the past few days was again manifest, but quotations were not altered to any material extent. Foreign Government Stocks experienced an uninteresting session, but prices were maintained. A firmer tendency developed in Home Rails, and several of the leaders finished the turn better. Colonial and Foreign Rails were not altered to any extent, but changes where they did occur were generally against holders. Irregularity prevailed among Oils, but in the Mining section Selukwes were quite a feature, the good quarterly report sending the quotation better. Among Industrials, Tobaccos, after early firmness, weakened again later, but Textiles again showed slight improvements in a few directions. A weaker tendency ruled in Rubbers.

WILL RUBBER OUTPUT BE CUT?

With little more than a week of the current quarter to go, interest in the rubber commodity market is growing daily. Recently business in this commodity has been better than for some time past, and for several days now there has been a disposition to buy rubber just before 3.30 p.m. This buying, it is believed, is on behalf of those interests who are desirous of preventing the 20 per cent. cut in the exportable quantity during the quarter commencing on August 1, and is engineered at the time stated to raise the price when it is officially taken for averaging purposes. Whatever happens during the next few days, it is certain that the question whether the price has averaged under 1s. 9d. per lb. for the three months ending to-day week will be decided by a very narrow margin. During the next few days the fight between the bulls and the bears will be very keen. Meantime, it looks doubtful if the cut to 80 per cent. will come into operation.

LOOKING FOR "SAFETY FIRST" SECURITIES.

The prolongation of the coal strike is largely responsible for the steady absorption of gilt-edged securities. Underwriters have now got rid of nearly the whole of the stock left with them during the last few weeks, and discounts on scrips have either disappeared and given place to premiums or are so small as to be scarcely noticeable. To the dealers this is a great relief, especially as the hopes previously entertained of a reduction in the Bank rate have had to be abandoned. They were rather building on a reduction to bring buyers to their market. The buyers have now come, but not from any favourable monetary development, nor from any improvement in the industrial situation. On the contrary, there is no early prospect of money becoming appreciably cheaper, and it is the knowledge that heavy losses are being experience in all our big industries, including Home Railways, that is driving investors into safety first securities.

AUSTRALIA AND THE EMPIRE.

In stressing the value of Australia's partnership with the Empire, Mr. Bruce, at the annual meeting of the Victoria League, declared the Empire was not only a bulwark and a shelter to the Commonwealth, but a firm platform wherefrom she might speak. If that platform did not exist, Australia would sink in a moment to the level of one of the smaller Powers, which, however great may be their contribution to civilisation, cannot exercise the influence which belongs to Australia as a British Commonwealth. Australians must realise they were wielding such an influence. It was no more than their own interests demanded that they should learn that any world affairs might affect their country, that any consideration, however remote, might have a bearing upon her future. If they had not learned that lesson in the last great war, then no words of his could be expected to impress it on their minds.

CANADA'S GOLD MINES.

The High Commissioner for Canada in London has received from the Dominion Department of Mines at Ottawa an article prepared by Dr. A. W. G. Wilson, of the Mines ranch, dealing with the increase in the gold production of Canada during the past few years. There has been a steady increase in the gold production of Canada, due largely to the discovery of the new goldfields in Northern Ontario. This rate of increase is likely to be sustained for some years to come. Last year (1925) the total production of all Canada was 1,740,386 fine oz. of gold, valued at 7,392,528 pounds sterling ($35,976,970). Approximately 84 per cent. of this production was obtained from the mines of Porcupine and Kirkland Lake, in Northern Ontario, and 13 per cent. from British Columbia. The present output is at the rate of nearly 20,000 pounds sterling ($100,000) per day, and this rate will probably continue to rise for some years. The discoveries made in the Porcupine and Kirkland Lake areas during the period 1905-1920 have disclosed the most important new gold-producing area found anywhere in the world during the last quarter century.

BRITISH CENTRAL AFRICA.

The British Central Africa Company, which is largely interested in the Shire Highlands Railway, Nyasaland, and the Central Africa Railway Company, and carries on a land and plantation business, reports a profit for the year to 30th September, 1925, of £784, as against £16,069 for the period February to September, 1924. After charging debenture interest of £11,040 and crediting £7,215 brought in, a debit balance of £3,040 is carried forward. The company owns all the issued capital of the Kubula Stores, Nyasaland. The report states that the capital of that company has been reduced from £240,000 to £144,000.

OIL IN ALBANIA.

The Anglo-Persian Oil Company, which is drilling near Valona, Albania, is reported to have struck a rich oil source of the best quality. It is stated that oil was struck at a depth of about 800 feet in large quantities.

U.S.A. PROPOSED RAILWAY MERGER.

The Kansas City Southern Railroad directors have approved a merger combining their system with the Missouri, Kansas and Texas and St. Louis South-Western systems. The approval of the Inter-State Commerce Commission is being sought.

LONDON MOVEMENTS.

Although the volume of business transacted in the gilt-edged market yesterday continued small, the firmer tendency evident for the past few days was again manifest, but, with dealings on small lines, quotations were not materially changed. Consols repeated 55¼, and War Loans and Conversion Loans were all the same as before. Sudan 5½ per cent. at 108 were finally a point better. Foreign Government Stocks were quiet, but the tone was steady to firm, and at the close of business overnight levels were generally repeated. French Loans were a trifle firmer at one time, as were Japanese on the improvement of the yen, but final values were without change from Thursday's levels.

RAILS IMPROVING.

A firmer tendency developed in Home Rails. Great Western Ord. went ½ better to 84½, and Midland Ord. at 10½ were also ½ to the good. North-Eastern 5 per cent. Pref.-Ord. repeated 50, but the Def.-Ord. at 16½ were ¼ harder. Metros. and Undergrounds were without movement, but among Southerns the Pref.-Ord. at 77½ were ½ to the good.

FOREIGN RAILS EASIER.

In common with the majority of markets, Colonial and Foreign Rails were quiet, but here a slightly easier tendency became evident, and price movements, where recorded, were against holders. Cordoba Central Ord and the 1st and 2nd Prefs. were all ½ lower. Antofagasta Ord. also eased, the final value of 81 being a full point below the overnight level.

RUBBER SHARES WEAKER IN TONE.

The announcement of the Anglo-Dutch dividend of 22½ per cent. for the year, against 13 per cent. for the previous twelve months, was regarded as disappointing, and this exercised an adverse influence on a number of Rubber shares. Here and there a slightly firmer tendency was evident, but the majority of movements were in the downward direction. A steady tone ruled in the commodity market, spot being quoted 1s. 8¾d. per pound. August at 1s. 8¾d., and September at 1s. 8¾d. per pound. Anglo-Dutch went back to 56s. on the dividend announcement, and Grand Central also weakened the turn. Jugra Land fell away a trifle, as did Highlands, while Ledbury and Membakut were also both the turn lower. Rubber Estates of Krian, on the other hand, were finally the turn better, while Kepong also improved a shade. Java Para were quoted ex the dividend at 60s., and Glenbervie at 58s. 9d. were also ex dividend.

TEA SHARES UNCERTAIN.

Business in the Tea Share market yesterday continued on a restricted scale, while an uncertain tendency was manifest. Here and there share values displayed a firmer appearance, but in other directions lower quotations were recorded at the close of business. On balance, however, the tendency was a trifle firmer. Amalgamated Estates went higher to 40, or 1/16 better, while Assam Dooars at 47 were 1/16 to the good. Budla Beta also finished 1/16 higher, while Consolidated Tea and Lands gained a similar amount to 30 1/16. Chulsa dropped 1s. 4½d. to 59s. 3d., and Lungla and Jetinga Valley were 1s. 9d. and 1s. 10d. lower, respectively. Moabund shed 1s. 1½d. to 54s. 4½d., while Pundaloya at 81s. and Upper Assam at 54s. 4½d. were 2s. 3d and 1s. 10½d. lower.

OIL SHARES GOOD.

Oil Shares finished the week in quiet fashion, there being very little public interest in the market yesterday. The firmer tendency which developed in international counters was attributable in the main to the absence of selling from the Continent, neither Paris nor Amsterdam being a factor in the day's business. At the close price movements were mostly of small amount, but in the upward direction. Shells, which were dull at 4¾ in the morning, met with support in the afternoon, when it was found that Paris was not selling, the demand being both local and on account of provincial centres. A rally occurred to 4 7/16, at which an improvement of 1/16 was recorded, the bearer shares being up to a like extent at 4 13/16. Royal Dutch advanced ⅛ to 31⅞. A distinctly firmer tendency became noticeable in Mexican Eagles, absence of selling from Paris also being a factor in regard to these shares. Quite a good demand arose for the shares in the afternoon, and they rose 3d. to 19s. 1½d.; the 7 p.c. Prefs. hardened to 16s. 4½d. A feature was provided among Trinidad issues by Trinidad Centrals, renewed buying of which resulted in a sharp upward movement in the quotation. At the close an advance of 1s. 6d. was registered at 15s. 3d. Oropuche hardened to 1s. 4½d.

INDUSTRIALS FAIRLY SATISFACTORY.

Although business in the Industrial market yesterday remained on a small scale, the tone, on the whole, was satisfactory, with a few bright spots observable. Electrical Equipment issues attracted most attention, the feature being Siemens, which changed hands up to 31s., and closing 2s. 6d. up at 29s. 6d. on reported favourable developments, in connection with which some statement may be expected on Monday. Other Electrical Equipment issues moved up in sympathy, with the exception of Callenders, which eased to 63s. 6d. In the Coal, Steel and Engineering department a demand sprang up for William Corys, which recovered the dividend deduction at 2 1/16, otherwise this section was idle. Little disposition was shown to support Textiles, and Courtaulds slipped back to the extent of 1/16 at 5 11/16 ex-dividend, with Snias offered around 1 13/16. Bradford Dyers, Calico Printers and Fine Spinners scarcely moved, but J. and P. Coats hardened to 61s. 6d., and Wardle and Davenports further strengthened to 3 1/16; Celanese Ord. were steadier at 3s. 10½d. Profit-taking continued in Carreras, which fell away ⅜ to 14⅝, with the "A" shares offered down to a similar figure. R. and J. Hill also encountered sellers, and were marked down to the extent of 1/16 to 2 1/16. "Bats" were a doubtful market, and closed 6d. lower at 92s., with the new Ordinaries dealt in between 71s. 9d. and 73s. 6d. prem. The bonus shares fluctuated between 90s. 9d. and 92s. 6d., with the Fractions dealt in between 24s. and 29s. "Imps" were the only really firm spot, touching 113s. 3d., and closing 9d. up on balance at 112s. Godfrey Phillips were dull, shedding 1/16 at 5 1/16.

Quite a good business was witnessed in the Brewery department, where City of London Ord. continued their advance to 4¼, changing hands at 85s. 10½d. Courages were also in demand on the increased interim dividend, touching 57s., and closing 1s. 3d. up on the day at 56s 3d Ind Coope rose 9d. to 65s. 6d., and Distillers put on 1/16 to 2 1/16. Sellers again appeared for Watney Defd., which changed hands at 279 and 282, closing with a net loss of a point at 281½. Bank descriptions were quiet, and inclined to droop. After being out of favour for some time, Newspaper Shares were revived under the lead of Associated Deferred, which spurted to 6 11/16, an advance of 1/16, followed by "Mirrors," which gained ⅛ at 6 1/16; Industrial Newspapers Pref. improved 9d. to 15s. 3d., and "Pictorials" had buyers at 3½, with "Daily Mails" at 2⅜.

In the Land Group, Duff Development further improved 1s. to 26s. on dividend prospects, and Sudans hardened 1/16 to 4 7/16. Shipping and Insurance descriptions were little changed. Marconis relapsed in the Wireless group, the Ordinary to 17s. 6d. and the Pref. to 1¼, despite the important concession with the postal services of Bolivia. The official notice as to the absence of dividends on the Ordinary for 1925 was not known until after hours. Marines were comparatively firm, 6d. harder at 20s. Motor Shares maintained a firmer appearance, Dennis putting on 1s. 1d. at 3⅞, and Rolls Royce 3d to 35s.; Thomas Tillings held their advance at 2 1/16, ex dividend. Of the Miscellaneous descriptions, Dunlops strengthened to 28s. 3d., an improvement of 4½d., and Swedish Match "B" had a steadier appearance at 15 1/16. James Finlays had buyers at 78s. 3d., and Lever 8 per cent. were bid for at 18s. 6d. Cement descriptions were harder. Among recent new issues, Morris Motors Prefs. were lower at 1s. discount, but Stagg and Russell Pref. gained 6d. at 2s. 6d., with Duophone Record Pref. slightly harder at 2s. 3d. discount. Dealings commenced in Ship Canal Portland Cement Debs. on the basis of 3 to 3½ discount.

THE MONEY MARKET.

CHEAPER TREASURY BILLS.

LOANS VERY EASY.

As anticipated, in view of the easier tendency of money, yesterday's Treasury Bills were placed on more favourable terms for the Government. The amount offered was £35,000,000, and tenders dated Monday to Friday next at £98 18s. 4d. receive about 40 p.c., above in full. Tenders dated Saturday at £98 18s. 7d. and above receive in full. These figures indicate an average rate of just under 4 7/16 p.c., compared with £4 7s. last week. Owing to the usual week-end release of funds credit remained in plentiful supply yesterday, and borrowers were able to obtain accommodation until to-day at 3¼ to 3½ p.c. Towards the close balances were offered on even lower terms. Fixtures were continued at 4 p.c. for a day or a week. There was very little doing in discounts, but the Continent was still understood to be inquiring for fine commercial bills, which were generally quoted at 4¼ to 4 5/16 p.c. The banks bought some August Treasuries at 4⅛ p.c., and the "hot" bills were also changing hands around that figure.

The Bank of England announced the export of £18,000 of sovereigns to Spain and £15,000 to Holland. Nothing of interest developed in the silver market, prices remaining at 29 11/16d. for spot and 29⅝d. per ounce for two months' delivery. The market price of gold was unchanged at 84s. 10½d. per fine ounce.

The French rate further declined to 206, which was almost the best of the day, and the Brussels quotation to 202, while the Italian rate receded to 149½. Pesetas were worse at 31.34½, and there was some depreciation of the currencies of Poland, Holland, and Greece.

COMPANY MEETING.

PARENT TRUST & FINANCE COMPANY, LIMITED.

INVESTMENT POLICY OF THE BOARD.

COVENT GARDEN AND FOUNDLING HOSPITAL ESTATES.

The twenty-ninth ordinary general meeting of the Parent Trust and Finance Company, Ltd., was held yesterday at the Hotel Cecil, Strand, London, W.C.—Sir Arthur Du Cros, Bt. (the Chairman), presiding.

The Secretary (Mr. E. Morrissey) having read the notice convening the meeting and the auditors' report,

The Chairman said—Ladies and gentlemen, the holding of this meeting was delayed for a short period, because certain important transactions, which materially affected the figures of the published balance sheet, were outstanding, and the Board desired to be in a position to inform the shareholders that they had been satisfactorily concluded, which is now the case. These transactions are partly reflected in the £723,000 of contingent liabilities and other obligations which appear on the balance sheet, and of which the company has since been relieved to the extent of something approaching half a million pounds, or so, in addition to other realisations. The delay affected no one but the Deferred shareholders, who will receive their final dividend just three weeks later than last year, while, on the other hand, they received an interim dividend for the first time for some years.

I am glad to say that the net profit, before deducting income tax, of £252,754 earned during the past year compares favourably with the best previous records of the company. The profit shown on last year's balance sheet was £523,000 in round figures, but, as then pointed out in the directors' report, approximately one-half of those earnings had accrued in previous years. The profit shown this year fully equals the amount of the earnings applicable to last year, although business has been more difficult than usual and somewhat anxious at times. Under all the circumstances, the Board are satisfied with the year's results, and with the fact that they are enabled to and are justified in maintaining the Deferred share dividend.

The fixed dividends on the Preference and Ordinary capital up to the end of the financial year have already been paid, and the usual formal resolution confirming these payments will be submitted for your approval.

A dividend of 7½ per cent. has also been paid on the Deferred capital, and the directors recommend a further dividend of 12½ per cent. on these shares, making a total of 20 per cent. for the year, and a resolution to this effect will also be submitted for your sanction. These payments will leave a balance to be carried forward to next account of £69,000, as compared with £63,000 last year.

The Board has now decided that dividends declared in future on the Preference and Ordinary Shares will be paid on fixed dates—that is, on 30th April and 31st October in each year—and that the future interim dividends on the Deferred Shares will be paid on the 31st December of each year.

BALANCE SHEET FIGURES.

The balance sheet figures show considerable variations as compared with last year. The two items of general investments and investments in allied companies show an increase, taken together, of some £100,000, which is partly accounted for by capital requirements which were anticipated in connection with the satisfactory development of the cotton ginning plants in Southern Rhodesia, to which I referred last year as being one of our industrial investments. These plants are now in operation, and under normal climatic conditions should join the ranks of our remunerative investments during the current year. The balance of the increase consists of investments in three new industrial undertakings of an interesting and promising nature. Our investments in allied companies are, as previously explained, mainly in the nature of prior securities.

An important change has been made in the character of some of our investments to which I desire to refer. Last year we held a large investment in Preference Shares of the D.R. Cotton Mills, Ltd., which was taken into our accounts at £863,000. This, as shareholders were aware, was in effect a short-dated security, it being at the option of the Dunlop Rubber Company to call upon us to resell the shares to them at certain dates, and the Board were bound to take into consideration that this option might be exercised. We desired, therefore, to re-invest this money in securities which would be completely under our own control, and, as the opportunity of doing so occurred during the year, we negotiated with the Dunlop Company for the immediate redemption of the shares. The whole of the proceeds have since been re-invested in freehold London real estate, or, rather, in securities mainly based on freehold London real estate, and the shareholders will be interested to know that the company's present cash investments in landed securities now amount to approximately £1,200,000.

BOARD'S POLICY WITH REGARD TO INVESTMENTS.

The policy of the Board in regard to the company's investments may be stated again in general terms as having for its object (1) the retention of the whole of the company's issued capital of approximately £2,350,000 in sound basic securities, the income return from which will be sufficient to meet in full the fixed dividends upon our Preference and Ordinary capital, and provide, in addition, a dividend on the Deferred Shares; and (2) providing the funds for the finance branch of our business, which supplies the balance of our profits, mainly by the utilisation of surplus assets—that is to say, assets which we hold in excess of the amount represented by our issued capital, and also by the use of the credits which are at our command.

In pursuance of this policy, the directors during the past year availed of opportunities of acquiring interests in real estate under favourable conditions. On the other hand, the sale of the D.R. Cotton Shares, together with certain other fixed dividend-bearing securities for this purpose, temporarily diminished the company's fixed revenue from its investments, and will continue to do so until sufficient time has elapsed to receive the benefits which are anticipated from these new interests. They are capable of profitable development, and the directors are confident that they will become an important source of strength to the company. The change over has been a recent one, and, while we were satisfied to make a temporary sacrifice of revenue for the greater return which we believe will accrue to us in the future, this point should be borne in mind in comparing the results of the past two years.

COVENT GARDEN ESTATE.

Public reference has been made to our association with the Covent Garden estate and the Foundling estate, the former of which occupies some 5½ acres in the heart of London, while the latter extends to some 56 acres in the Bloomsbury district. Interests in these properties, among others, do, in fact, form part of our investments. In the case of Covent Garden we have a large holding in the company owning this property. In the case of the Foundling estate we hold practically the whole of the securities of the Foundling Estates Company, which owns the property subject to the payment of the balance of the purchase money. This estate was purchased with the intention of breaking up and re-selling the major portion of it, and such sales as have already been effected have been made at prices quite satisfactory to the Board.

It is well known that the Foundling Hospital itself and its grounds, which occupy nearly nine acres of the 56 acres of that estate, have been definitely offered to the Covent Garden Estates Company, who regard this site as being a particularly suitable one for the re-establishment of Covent Garden Market, the removal of which has been proposed. The question of the suitability or otherwise of the site for this purpose is not one for the Foundling Estates Company to decide, their position in the matter simply being that, if called upon to fulfil their obligations, they will transfer the property upon terms which have already been provisionally agreed. On the other hand, should any better site become available, the two companies would be at liberty to re-arrange their plans, and in that event the Foundling Estates Company would at once proceed to put into operation one or other of the several alternative schemes for the development of this part of the estate which they have in mind.

FOUNDLING HOSPITAL ESTATE.

Many public references have been made to the future of the Foundling Hospital, and criticisms and opinions have been freely expressed upon the subject. I have noticed that these criticisms have been directed not so much against the vendors of the estate, who disposed of it unconditionally and free of all restrictions, as they had a perfect right to do, but, oddly enough, against the purchasers, who had acquired the property in the open market, where any individual or public body might have bid for it, had he or they so desired.

While I am in genuine sympathy with the desire which has been expressed to preserve an historic building and the open amenities of an interesting part of London, my hope of doing so is becoming rather a slender one. I am inclined to think that the merits of the building itself have been somewhat exaggerated, apart from the fact that all the interior features which possess any artistic or sentimental value will be removed bodily by the hospital authorities and installed in their new home. However that may be, the feelings of my colleagues and myself in this matter must of necessity be governed by the fact that we occupy the position of trustees to shareholders who are the owners of the property, and the duty devolves upon us of reconciling the business side of the case with its sentimental aspects. Although these considerations must be made to square in some reasonable degree, yet so far we have received no business suggestion of any kind from those who have been interesting themselves in the preservation of the hospital, and I would suggest to them that the practical side of the question should not continue to be wholly ignored. Even if a decision were made to place Covent Garden Market in another locality (which is by no means an impossible contingency), this would not solve the problem of the future of the Foundling Hospital; in fact, it would only have the effect of hastening the utilisation of that site for other purposes.

I should make it clear that, while approximately 90 per cent. of this company's landed investments apply to London, we are also substantially interested in two freehold land development projects abroad—one in the City of San Paulo in Brazil and the other in the City of Durban in Natal. The directors hold a high opinion as to the position and prospects of both those undertakings. The balance sheet of the City of San Paulo Improvements and Freehold Land Company will be published in a few weeks' time, and I recommend shareholders to examine and appraise it for themselves. I personally visited San Paulo at a time when we were contemplating an increase of our investment in this particular company, and Mr. Sidney Van Den Bergh, another of your directors, also visited Brazil at a later date.

As a result of my investigations, which were confirmed by Mr. Van Den Bergh, we increased our holding in the San Paulo Land Company, which owns and is successfully developing extensive tracts of freehold land in and around the important City of San Paulo, the capital of the great and wealthy State of San Paulo, and generally acknowledged to be the commercial and industrial capital of Brazil as well. The expansion of San Paulo in recent years forms a striking example of progress in the history of such developments. The shares of the San Paulo Land Company should appreciate during the next few years, and your trust and its associates are amongst the largest holders.

Your managing director, Mr. J. H. Guy, visited South Africa, and personally investigated the possibilities of a somewhat similar land development scheme in connection with the City of Durban, the result being that the investment to which I have referred was made by the company.

The company has some interests, mostly in the form of debentures or other prior securities, in the anthracite trade, which is a small and specialised section of the coal industry, and does not suffer from the intrinsic difficulties of the soft coal trade, in which we are not interested. The production of anthracite coal is limited, and the product has shown itself capable, even in bad times, of finding a market, paying adequate wages and securing adequate returns on capital. It is connected, on the other hand, with the main industry, inasmuch as it is controlled by the same bodies, both of employers and employed, and in times of strike suffers with the rest of the industry.

DUNLOP PREFERENCE SHARE HOLDING.

I gather from letters which I have received from shareholders that they are under the impression that we have sold all our Dunlop investments. This, of course, is not the case, nor have we any present intention of doing so. To the best of my knowledge, we are still by far the largest individual holders of Dunlop Preference Shares.

Loans by the company show an increase over last year of £265,000. These are constantly changing, as the routine of business demands, and the item is regarded by the directors as a satisfactory one.

The balance sheet shows an increase in the cash balance of £62,000, and a corresponding decrease in debtors of a like amount. On the other side creditors have decreased by £41,000, which represents the net improvement in the liquid cash position.

Forward commitments show a decrease of £71,000, but, this, as I explained last year, is a somewhat fortuitous item, depending upon the amount of new business which happens to be in progress at the date of the balance sheet. The item of forward commitments is always balanced by new assets on the other side or by securities which have been contracted for.

The published reserve account shows the increase of £22,000, which was sanctioned by the shareholders at the last annual general meeting, and now stands at the same figure as the Deferred share capital of the company.

There is a decrease in the balance to the credit of profit and loss account of £55,000, caused mainly by the resumption of the interim dividend on the Deferred Shares. On the other hand, the dividend on the Deferred Shares now payable is less by approximately that amount.

Loans to the company show an increase of £521,000, which occurred in the normal course of business, and is balanced, or practically balanced, by the reduction of creditors and forward commitments on the one side of £112,000, and by the increase of investments and loans by the company on the other side of £375,000.

Another item of a variable nature is that of contingent liabilities. A year ago they stood at £200,000, and this amount was subsequently discharged in the ordinary course of business. In the balance sheet before us to-day the contingent liabilities stand at £723,000 on guarantees given, covered either by counter-guarantees received or by securities in connection with new business. Since the date of the balance sheet the item has been greatly reduced, as I have already mentioned, without, of course, the company being called upon, the meaning of this being that business which was in progress at the close of the financial year has since matured, and, I am glad to say, for the benefit of the company.

These liabilities arise in connection with new business which is either completed or is under negotiation, and are invariably fully covered by securities or satisfactory counter guarantees. The guarantees given by the company are one of its sources of income, and is a form of business which the Board is disposed to encourage.

The shareholders will appreciate that the figures of the balance sheet show this company to be in a very strong position, but the future outlook of business must give some cause for uneasiness, so long as the coal strike is unsettled at home and currencies remain unstable and erratic abroad. These conditions are, in our opinion, a passing, if unwelcome, phase; but, while they continue, the directors are disposed to approach all new business on even more cautious and conservative lines than usual, notwithstanding that this may for a time involve some slowing down of the company's activities. This policy is already reflected in the decrease of forward commitments shown on the balance sheet.

I now have the pleasure in formally moving the adoption of the report and accounts.

Sir Arthur Lowes Dickinson, M.A., F.C.A., seconded the resolution, which was carried unanimously.

The dividend recommendations on the various classes of shares were duly confirmed. The retiring directors (Mr. Harvey Du Cros and Sir Arthur Lowes Dickinson, M.A., F.C.A.) were re-elected, and Messrs. Maurice Jenks, Percival and Co. were re-appointed auditors.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Chairman and directors for their able management of the company's affairs during the past year, and the proceedings terminated.

The eighty-first ordinary general meeting of the shareholders of the Munster and Leinster Bank was held at the head office, South Mall, Cork, yesterday afternoon. The Right Hon. Sir Stanley Harrington was moved to the chair. The directors present were—Messrs. Dominic Justin Daly, Edward Hallinan, Francis James Lillis, Charles Eustace Murphy, and Alfred Robinson MacMullen.

The shareholders present were—Sir John Scott, Messrs. Michael Hurley, Jeremiah Donovan, E. B. Dillon, John Dwyer, J. P. Howard, Jerome J. Beechinor, T. P. Dowdall, William T. O'Sullivan, James W. Harold, John Dorgan, John F. Corkeran, Denis Fitzpatrick, Henry Leader, J. J. Mahony, Andrew Kelleher, William Harrington, Arthur W. Murphy, Denis Scanlan, John O'Regan, Thomas Purcell, Francis Hanrahan, John T. O'Regan, J. C. Foley, Patrick D. O'Brien, Patrick Collins, John J. McCarthy, Doctor Walsh, Mrs. Lily Twomey, and Miss Eily O'Clery.

The Chairman moved the adoption of the report of the directors and the balance sheet taken as read, and that a dividend at the rate of 18 per cent. per annum be paid for the half-year ended 30th June, 1926, free of income tax, upon £500,000, the paid-up capital of the bank, to those shareholders whose names were now upon the register.

Mr. F. J. Lillis seconded, and it was passed unanimously.

CHAIRMAN'S STATEMENT.

The Chairman said:—Ladies and gentlemen,—Our audited accounts have been in your hands for some days, and, with your permission, the report and balance sheet will be taken as read. They speak for themselves, and have, no doubt, been carefully studied by you. It is with much pleasure that we present to you this record of the bank's stability and satisfactory position. I shall ask your attention while I briefly review the figures.

Our profits for the half-year at £90,747 have been well maintained, and, as you are aware, they are arrived at after writing off all debts ascertained to be bad and making full provision for everything considered doubtful. If we add to that figure the balance brought forward we are left with a sum of £141,189. Out of this we have transferred £30,000 to reserve and applied £30,000 in reduction of premises account. Having provided these allocations, we propose, with your approval, to deal with the item in which shareholders generally take special interest by paying the same dividend as in the two previous half-years—viz., at the rate of 18 per cent. free of income tax, equal to £45,000. You will notice that the addition referred to brings reserve fund to £1,200,000, a sum equal to two and two-fifth times the amount of the paid-up capital. It is a most gratifying thing to learn therefrom that our ratio of reserve to paid-up capital is equal to 240 per cent., a figure that is unapproached by any other bank in Ireland or Great Britain.

The allocation to premises account is £10,000 more than in previous half-years. In addition to the sums which we allocate to premises at each balance a certain percentage is written down automatically, and, as we emphasised at our last meeting, the figure for premises—now £336,157—represents an expenditure of over £1,000,000.

DECREASED DEPOSITS.

Our deposits and credit balances, like those of other banks, have during the year experienced a shrinkage, and now stand at £24,541,240, compared with £25,391,429 a year ago. Considering the particularly lean trading season through which we have passed, with bad markets and low prices for cattle and produce generally, it is not a matter for surprise that our farming and trading clients were obliged in many cases to draw upon their deposit savings.

Turning to the assets side of the sheet, cash with money at call and short notice and together at £2,339,649, and investments at £9,066,072. This means liquid assets equal to 46 per cent. of the bank's liabilities to the public. The surplus in value at to-day's prices of our investments beyond the sum at which they appear in our sheet still continues.

Advances stand at £14,590,549, and show a decrease of £160,434 on the year.

This, ladies and gentlemen, concludes my survey of the balance sheet figures, showing, as I have remarked earlier, the stability and satisfactory condition of our business.

A DIFFICULT HALF-YEAR.

The concluded six months have been difficult for trade generally. The effects of the stagnation in business in England owing to the general strike and the prolonged coal deadlock are serious for this country, and have left their mark. Taxation is still too high. The corporation tax, though modified in the last Budget, is still affecting us unjustly.

We are, however, we think, justified in looking forward to better times. A bountiful harvest is anticipated and promised, and the records of some of the recent cattle fairs show a fairly lively business. In evidence of this I have learned that the shipping of cattle and sheep since 1st June last from the port of Cork has been particularly heavy, and considerably in advance of the numbers during corresponding period of last year.

I think that with peace in the land has come a spirit of enterprise and determination. Our people are evidently tired of political issues, and, with mutual good-will and resolution, are seeking to achieve in all trades a better and bigger output.

The Banking Commission established by the Government, after sitting for nearly six months, has, we understand, sent in its report and recommendations. We hope the Government decisions on the deliberations of this important Commission will be made known with as little delay as possible.

We had the claim of this bank to a share of the Government's business fully explained to the Commission, and, considering the extent and importance of our interests in the affairs of all classes of the community, we think you will agree that this claim is irrefutable and should be favourably entertained. (Applause.)

IMPORTANT PART PLAYED BY THE BANK.

Sir John Scott said as an original shareholder he was pleased to hear the important and highly satisfactory statement made by the Chairman. The report of the directors was a very good one, and, from a shareholders' point of view, highly satisfactory. A generous dividend was being paid, and the business of the bank and its many branches was being well looked after. As had been remarked more than once, banks are playing, and must continue to play, a very important part in connection with the revival of trade and commerce in Southern Ireland. When he said this he did not by any means wish to convey that large advances—perhaps, entailing risks—were to be undertaken, but he felt sure the meeting would agree with him when he said that it was highly important to have people in a moderate way of business assisted just now in order to tide them over the present very difficult times. (Hear, hear.) Trade and commerce in the South of Ireland had received more than one rude shock, and was now suffering from very keen competition; capital was necessary in order to assist and promote an extension of business. It was melancholy to see so much idleness and unemployment wherever one went, and it should be the aim of those who had it in their power to do everything to lessen unemployment. The directors of their bank generally took a sensible view not alone of the existing situation, but they also frequently gave a very useful forecast as to the probabilities of the future to the shareholders and the public. Of course, agriculture and farming interests demanded serious attention at all times, and just now they were thankful to know that the prospects appear to be good. The country was enormously over-taxed, and relief from this excessive taxation should be demanded and obtained from those in authority. It was the duty of a Govern-pressed upon the subject. I have noticed that these criticisms have been directed not so much against the vendors of the estate, who disposed of it unconditionally and free of all restrictions, as they had a perfect right to do, but, oddly enough, against the purchasers, who had acquired the property in the open market, where any individual or public body might have bid for it, had he or they so desired.

While I am in genuine sympathy with the desire which has been expressed to preserve an historic building and the open amenities of an interesting part of London, my hope of doing so is becoming rather a slender one. I am inclined to think that the merits of the building itself have been somewhat exaggerated, apart from the fact that all the interior features which possess any artistic or sentimental value will be removed bodily by the hospital authorities and installed in their new home. However that may be, the feelings of my colleagues and myself in this matter must of necessity be governed by the fact that we occupy the position of trustees to shareholders who are the owners of the property, and the duty devolves upon us of reconciling the business side of the case with its sentimental aspects. Although these considerations must be made to square in some reasonable degree, yet, so far we have received no business suggestion of any kind from those who have been interesting themselves in the preservation of the hospital, and I would suggest to them that the practical side of the question should not continue to be wholly ignored. Even if a decision were made to place Covent Garden Market in another locality (which is by no means an impossible contingency), this would not solve the problem of the future of the Foundling Hospital; in fact, it would only have the effect of hastening the utilisation of that site for other purposes.

I should make it clear that, while approximately 90 per cent. of this company's landed investments apply to London, we are also substantially interested in two freehold land development projects abroad—one in the City of San Paulo in Brazil and the other in the City of Durban in Natal. The directors hold a high opinion as to the position and prospects of both those undertakings. The balance sheet of the City of San Paulo Improvements and Freehold Land Company will be published in a few weeks' time, and I recommend shareholders to examine and appraise it for themselves. I personally visited San Paulo at a time when we were contemplating an increase of our investment in this particular company, and Mr. Sidney Van Den Bergh, another of your directors, also visited Brazil at a later date.

As a result of my investigations, which were confirmed by Mr. Van Den Bergh, we increased our holding in the San Paulo Land Company, which owns and is successfully developing extensive tracts of freehold land in and around the important City of San Paulo, the capital of the great and wealthy State of San Paulo, and generally acknowledged to be the commercial and industrial capital of Brazil as well. The expansion of San Paulo in recent years forms a striking example of progress in the history of such developments. The shares of the San Paulo Land Company should appreciate during the next few years, and your trust and its associates are amongst the largest holders.

Your managing director, Mr. J. H. Guy, visited South Africa, and personally investigated the possibilities of a somewhat similar land development scheme in connection with the City of Durban, the result being that the investment to which I have referred was made by the company.

The company has some interests, mostly in the form of debentures or other prior securities, in the anthracite trade, which is a small and specialised section of the coal industry, and does not suffer from the intrinsic difficulties of the soft coal trade, in which we are not interested. The production of anthracite coal is limited, and the product has shown itself capable, even in bad times, of finding a market, paying adequate wages and securing adequate returns on capital. It is connected, on the other hand, with the main industry, inasmuch as it is controlled by the same bodies, both of employers and employed, and in times of strike suffers with the rest of the industry.

DUNLOP PREFERENCE SHARE HOLDING.

I gather from letters which I have received from shareholders that they are under the impression that we have sold all our Dunlop investments. This, of course, is not the case, nor have we any present intention of doing so. To the best of my knowledge, we are still by far the largest individual holders of Dunlop Preference Shares.

Loans by the company show an increase over last year of £265,000. These are constantly changing, as the routine of business demands, and the item is regarded by the directors as a satisfactory one.

The balance sheet shows an increase in the cash balance of £62,000, and a corresponding decrease in debtors of a like amount. On the other side creditors have decreased by £41,000, which represents the net improvement in the liquid cash position.

Forward commitments show a decrease of £71,000, but, this, as I explained last year, is a somewhat fortuitous item, depending upon the amount of new business which happens to be in progress at the date of the balance sheet. The item of forward commitments is always balanced by new assets on the other side or by securities which have been contracted for.

The published reserve account shows the increase of £22,000, which was sanctioned by the shareholders at the last annual general meeting, and now stands at the same figure as the Deferred share capital of the company.

There is a decrease in the balance to the credit of profit and loss account of £55,000, caused mainly by the resumption of the interim dividend on the Deferred Shares. On the other hand, the dividend on the Deferred Shares now payable is less by approximately that amount.

Loans to the company show an increase of £521,000, which occurred in the normal course of business, and is balanced, or practically balanced, by the reduction of creditors and forward commitments on the one side of £112,000, and by the increase of investments and loans by the company on the other side of £575,000.

Another item of a variable nature is that of contingent liabilities. A year ago they stood at £200,000, and this amount was subsequently discharged in the ordinary course of business. In the balance sheet before us to-day the contingent liabilities stand at £723,000 on guarantees given, covered either by counter-guarantees received or by securities in connection with new business. Since the date of the balance sheet the item has been greatly reduced, as I have already mentioned, without, of course, the company being called upon, the meaning of this being that business which was in progress at the close of the financial year has since matured, and, I am glad to say, for the benefit of the company.

These liabilities arise in connection with new business which is either completed or is under negotiation, and are invariably fully covered by securities or satisfactory counter guarantees. The guarantees given by the company are one of its sources of income, and is a form of business which the Board is disposed to encourage.

The shareholders will appreciate that the figures of the balance sheet show this company to be in a very strong position, but the future outlook of business must give some cause for uneasiness, so long as the coal strike is unsettled at home and currencies remain unstable and erratic abroad. These conditions are, in our opinion, a passing, if unwelcome, phase; but, while they continue, the directors are disposed to approach all new business on even more cautious and conservative lines than usual, notwithstanding that this may for a time involve some slowing down of the company's activities. This policy is already reflected in the decrease of forward commitments shown on the balance sheet.

I now have the pleasure in formally moving the adoption of the report and accounts.

Sir Arthur Lowes Dickinson, M.A., F.C.A., seconded the resolution, which was carried unanimously.

The dividend recommendations on the various classes of shares were duly confirmed. The retiring directors (Mr. Harvey Du Cros and Sir Arthur Lowes Dickinson, M.A., F.C.A.) were re-elected, and Messrs. Maurice Jenks, Percival and Co. were re-appointed auditors.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Chairman and directors for their able management of the company's affairs during the past year, and the proceedings terminated.

CLAIM TO SHARE OF GOVERNMENT BUSINESS.

The eighty-first ordinary general meeting of the shareholders of the Munster and Leinster Bank was held at the head office, South Mall, Cork, yesterday afternoon. The Right Hon. IMPORTANT PART PLAYED BY THE BANK.

Sir John Scott said as an original shareholder he was pleased to hear the important and highly satisfactory statement made by the Chairman. The report of the directors was a very good one, and, from a shareholders' point of view, highly satisfactory. A generous dividend was being paid, and the business of the bank and its many branches was being well looked after. As had been remarked more than once, banks are playing, and must continue to play, a very important part in connection with the revival of trade and commerce in Southern Ireland. When he said this he did not by any means wish to convey that large advances—perhaps, entailing risks—were to be undertaken, but he felt sure the meeting would agree with him when he said that it was highly important to have people in a moderate way of business assisted just now in order to tide them over the present very difficult times. (Hear, hear.) Trade and commerce in the South of Ireland had received more than one rude shock, and was now suffering from very keen competition; capital was necessary in order to assist and promote an extension of business. It was melancholy to see so much idleness and unemployment wherever one went, and it would be the aim of those who had it in their power to do everything to lessen unemployment. The directors of their bank generally took a sensible view not alone of the existing situation, but they also frequently gave a very useful forecast as to the probabilities of the future to the shareholders and the public. Of course, agriculture and farming interests demanded serious attention at all times, and just now they were thankful to know that the prospects appear to be good. The country was enormously overtaxed, and relief from this excessive taxation should be demanded and obtained from those in authority. It was the duty of a Government to provide the money necessary for the erection of dwellings for the working classes, not as a free grant, but on business lines, repayments of principal and interest to be spread over a number of years. (Hear, hear.) In by-gone days, which are now frequently referred to as the "good old times," the Government arranged in this way spreading repayments over forty years, thereby enabling the houses to be let at rents of from three shillings to four shillings per week. It would seem that the Free State Government wished to put this responsibility on the banks, but it would not be fair to expect the banks to have large sums of money locked up in bricks and mortar for such a lengthened period. The scarcity of houses in Cork was really deplorable and called for public attention; a few houses here and there would be no relief whatever. The matter should be taken up in a really earnest manner by the Government, and arrangements should be made to have some hundreds built in the City of Cork for the workers without delay. (Hear, hear.) The Government of a country have facilities for financing public projects. The houses recently built in Cork, with a system of repayment within fifteen years, had to be let at rents of 13s. and 14s. per week, entirely beyond the power of the labouring classes to pay. Their bank was fortunate in having such an excellent and loyal staff. This applied not only to the young gentlemen, but also to the young ladies, and some of the customers were looking forward to the time when, by getting their well-deserved promotion, some of the higher offices would be occupied by ladies, which he (Sir John) thought would likely result in increased business to the bank. (Hear, hear.)

Mr. Patrick Collins, a shareholder, referred to a particular advance of £4,000, and said that certain rumours were going around the country with regard to advances on land.

The Chairman said this was not the proper time to discuss the details of advances. It would not be lost sight of by the directors.

Sir John Scott said that he wished to add that the Chairman's suggestion with regard to the bank getting a share of the Government's business ought to be pressed. It was the duty of the Government to help those who had helped them, and this bank had very materially helped the Free State Government more than once, and this was a legitimate demand.

The Chairman said the directors had never lost sight of this matter, and were continually pressing on the Government the advisability and the fairness of giving the bank a share of their business. He could assure them they were well looking after the matter.

The report was then unanimously adopted.

TRIBUTE TO DIRECTORS.

Mr. T. P. Dowdall, proposing that the best thanks of the meeting be tendered to the bank's officers for their efficient services during the past year, said the statement of accounts was an admirable one, and the results obtained in the face of grave difficulties were excellent. But for their difficulties they would have even a better balance sheet. The general strike and the coal strike had effected the deposits. He quoted the case of butter, which had fallen from £168 per ton last year to £153 to-day. The farmers were suffering this loss, as they were getting so much less for their goods, and they had to withdraw their deposits. The bank had been consistent in its building up of a very substantial reserve, which was larger proportionately to its capital than any bank in Ireland or Great Britain.

Mr. J. W. Harold seconded, and bore tribute to the courtesy of the staff to the bank's customers. It was a good omen for the institution to have such a loyal and good staff. It spoke well for the bank's future.

The Chairman thanked Sir John Scott and the other speakers, and the general manager also returned thanks on behalf of the staff.

LONDON MINING MARKET FIRM.

SOME BRIGHT FEATURES.

In the Mining market yesterday business was on a small scale, but, all things considered, the tone kept quite firm, and the market could still boast some bright features. As regards Kaffirs, there was a little public inquiry for one or two specialities, but the effect upon values was light, and thus Central Mining, Anglo-American, Union Corporation, Rand Mines, and the leading Far Eastern descriptions were without quotable alteration. The Platinum issues were not much in evidence, but there was a modest Johannesburg demand for Transvaal "Devels," and the price improved. Although there was not a great deal of business passing in the Rhodesian department, the tone kept very firm. Cam and Motor were a steady market, and Selukwe came into request. One of the most active sections was that devoted to Diamond shares, and, despite the somewhat disturbing nature of Paris advices, a big business was in progress in most of the usually active counters. The appointment of Sir Ernest Oppenheimer to the board of the De Beers gave an additional fillip to this department, and, incidentally, emphasised the growing importance of Cons Diamonds, the shares and options being in good request at steadily rising prices. De Beers Def. also went ahead, but the Pref. were subject to profit-taking. The price of tin continued steadily on the up-grade, a further rise of 13s. 9d. to £287 11s. 3d. being recorded. The demand for shares, however, was not so extensive as might have been expected, but this was probably due to the approach of the week-end. Coppers were dullish, and Tintos closed without alteration, while in the Canadian list there was a disposition to secure profits. Elsewhere Camp Bird weakened the turn, but the other Mexicans and Burma Corporation were well maintained. Closing prices:—

PRODUCE AND FOOD.

CATTLE.

BIRKENHEAD.—A smaller supply of Irish cattle met a firmer trade for all classes. Best small bullocks and heifers made 9½d., in a few cases this figure being exceeded; secondary and stronger sorts 9d. to 9¼d., and cows and bulls 5½d. to 7d. The supply of lambs was also smaller, and a better demand was experienced; prices ranged from 1/- to 1/1. Canadian cattle were also a better trade at 9d. to 9½d. per lb. sinking the offal. Supplies—1,123 Irish cattle, 514 Canadian, and 3,017 lambs.

GRAIN.

DUBLIN CORN EXCHANGE.—There is quite a mark-time feeling in business for grain, awaiting harvest developments. Operations are well advanced in several South of England districts, and some lead to new values may be expected to be reflected here shortly. Practically no attendance at our corn market, and values of oats remain nominally as previously quoted.

FLOATING GRAIN CARGOES (The Baltic).—WHEAT—Cargo market dull in absence of demand, but sellers were not pressing and reacted generally late rates. No. 1 Northern Manitoba 15th July-15th August sellers 61/-, No. 3 do. 59/9; white Pacific August-Sept. 54/-, No. 2 hard winter afloat 53/6, July 53/3, August 52/6, Australian afloat 59/-, Baril 61lbs. afloat 56/-, choice white Karachi July 57/6. MARK LANE CORN.—There was a fair attendance of buyers at the week-end market, but business proceeded quietly. Breadstuffs ruled easier in sympathy with recent forward weakness, but feeders reservedly offered, and occasionally the turn dearer. WHEAT easier; No. 1 Northern Manitoba quoted 62/6, No. 2 do. 61/3; No. 2 mixed Durum 57/-, Barusso (61lbs.) 58/6, Australian 61/-, all ex ship; choice white Karachi 61/6 landed per 496lbs. LIVERPOOL CORN.—American and Argentine cables were disappointing, and forward deliveries of WHEAT here showed a moderate decline at the outset, then recovered to Thursday night's level. Prices afterwards fluctuated moderately according to offerings, but, with a better demand for c.i.f. parcels and encouraging afternoon cables, final rates marked a decided advance on Thursday night. C.i.f. parcels No. 1 Manitoba due sold at 58/9, No. 2 afloat 57/9, July 57/3 to 57/6, No. 2 hard winter July 52/9, No. 1 hard winter due July 26 55/-, No. 2 Manitoba tough July 55/9, No. 2 mixed Durum August 6 52/3, and Baril (61lbs.) arrived 54/7½ per qr. C.i.f. parcels MAIZE River Plate nearly due sold at 34/-, June-July 30/10½, August 29/7½ to 29/9 per qr. Wheat on the spot was quietly steady. Maize spot parcels firm and dearer for River Plate at 7/7 to 7/7½ per cental. FLOUR quiet, but steady and unaltered. Graded wheat futures opened ½d. per cental lower, but soon recovered the decline; then prices were subjected to frequent and moderate fluctuations, as buyers or sellers preponderated, but firmed up during late afternoon, the market closing firm at ½d. to 1d. over Thursday night. Maize options closed nominally unchanged.

WAKEFIELD.—Light show of English grain. Wheat and oats remain firm; no English barley on offer; maize dearer on week; feeding stuffs firm; mill offals unchanged. The crops in this locality still continue to show favourable promise, with the exception of oats, which are laid owing to the recent heavy storms.

DERBY.—Very little grain on offer, and trade quiet. Wheat firm at 66/-, barley offered at 42/-; oats unchanged at 32/-. Crop prospects still reported as good, though home fields have been badly laid by heavy rainstorms and strong winds.

PROVISIONS.

LIVERPOOL.—Irish and Danish BACON again meets only a moderate demand, but no quotable change is made in prices, while Canadian is steadily held for recent currencies. American selections of bacon have remained quiet, and holders generally are easy to approach, Cumberlands being reduced a further 1/- to 114/- to 117/- per cwt. for light and 113/- to 117/- per cwt. heavier averages. HAMS steady and short cut meet a moderate inquiry, with late prices repeated for all descriptions. Shoulders still quiet for squares, with New Yorks and picnics nominal in the absence of supplies. LARD on the spot quiet at the recent decline for prime steam, but American refined the turn easier at 80/- to 81/6 per cwt., buyers again operating merely for their actual needs. CHEESE quiet and prices favour buyers, though no actual decline has taken place in values. BUTTER continues to harden, though only moderately inquired for, Danish being raised to 180/- to 182/- and Swedish 168/- to 170/- per cwt. EGGS steady at 11/9 to 13/6 for Irish fresh hen, 9/6 to 10/- duck, and 8/6 to 8/9 per 120 Polish.

CHEESE—General trade remains very quiet, and Colonial, particularly coloured, is quite neglected. Dutch firmer, though business is very limited. English remained unchanged. Canadian coloured 78/- to 84/-, white 82/- to 88/-, New Zealand coloured 80/- to 84/, white 86/- to 88/-, Dutch Edam (40 p.c.) 62/- to 69/-, 30 p.c. 54/- to 60/-, 20 p.c. 44/-; Gouda, 45 p.c. 68/- to 81/-, 40 p.c. 56/- to 73/-, 30 p.c. 54/- to 59/-, 20 p.c. 43/- to 48/- per cwt. MANCHESTER.—BUTTER—Danish official quotation wired 11 kroner higher: top stands at 300 kroner per 100 kilos against 281 the previous week and 426 at same period last year. Germany reported to be buying all Scandinavian makes freely, and spot market firm at advanced prices in consequence. Irish creameries also steady. Choicest qualities quoted—Danish 180/- to 182/-, special dairies extra; Swedish 174/- to 176/-, Finnish 174/- to 176/-. Irish creameries 162/- to 165/-. DUBLIN FRUIT AND VEGETABLE.—Imported fruits, etc., in ample supply, but trade very slow and discouraging to shippers. Tasmanian and New Zealand apples 9/- to 16/- per case, Sunkist oranges 30/- to 32/- per case, ordinary qualities 19/- to 28/-, Cape 21/- to 26/- per case; Californian pears 35/- to 37/6 per box, gages 19/- to 22/- per half-bushel, French plums 15/- to 16/- do., Italian 5/- to 6/- per box, black grapes 1/6 to 2/- per lb., cherries 20/- to 30/- per half-bushel, melons 24's 21/-, 36's 20/- to 22/- per case; lemons 18/- to 25/-, English tomatoes 7d. to 8d., Dutch 4d. to 5d. per lb.; Northern strawberries 8d. to 1/- per punnet, raspberries 6d. to 7d. DUBLIN POTATO.—County Dublin farmers sent in a fair supply of potatoes, which with some carry-over from previous deliveries were readily cleared at from 5/- to 5/6 and 6/- per cwt. according to class and quality.

DUBLIN POULTRY.—Heavy supplies of live and dead poultry came in this week, and trade kept fairly well in touch with a clearance; in fact, choice fat chickens and ducks made a quick sale. Best chickens 1/3 to 1/4 and 1/5 per lb., small 1/6 to 2/- each; hens 1/6 to 2/-, fat 2/6; extra good fat ducks 4/- to 4/6 and 5/-, medium-sized 3/- to 3/6, stores 1/6 to 2/6, old ducks 10d. to 1/- each; fresh rabbits 1/6 to 1/10 each, grazers 6/- to 12/- and 14/- per dozen. In marketing dead fowl proper handling and cooling should be attended to, besides packing.

DUBLIN BUTTER AND EGG.—Market for butter shows a firmer tone, and some advance in Danish official quotations is calculated to strengthen the position of Irish creamery shippers. Creams generally are coming in in better order, but there are still some unsuitable grades to reckon with. Fine creams 1/5½, pyramids 1/5¾ to 1/6; fair quality dairies 1/5 to 1/5¼, indifferent occasionally less. Factories still slow, 1/3 to 1/3½. Farmers' arrivals of butter are fair, but quality irregular; prices 11d. to 1/2; separators 1/3 to 1/4; inferior stuff neglected. EGG supplies are freer, but trade is steady, and the undertone rather firmer; ordinary and selected case arrivals 12/9 to 14/- per 120, heavily picked and repacked lots 14/9 to 15/- and 15/3. Duck eggs—Examined and repacked 11/- to 12/-.

Trade fair for everything except lobsters. Salmon 1/9 to 2/1 per lb., grilse 1/3 to 1/6 per lb. Large live lobsters 10/- to 15/- and 17/6 per 13, and others 2/6 to 5/- and 7/6 per lot. MEATH SHOW.

LARGELY INCREASED ENTRIES.

SPLENDID YOUNG HORSES.

FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.

NAVAN, Friday.

The annual Show of the County Meath Agricultural Society—one of the finest fixtures of its kind in Ireland—was held at the spacious grounds of the Society here to-day. During the early hours of the show there was heavy rain, but the weather remained fair afterwards, except for a somewhat blustery wind, which in no way detracted from the pleasure of the very large number of visitors who attended.

In all respects the show indicated a marked improvement on that of last year; gate receipts, classes and entries all showing large increases. Altogether there were 150 classes, the total entries being 922, as against 642 at the last show. It was gratifying to find that the increases in entries were not confined to the minor exhibits. Horses, cattle, sheep and pigs numbered 358, as compared with 294 in 1925. In seventeen cattle sections there were 143 animals entered, and the quality in all, as in the case of the horses, was of the very highest standard. The Society has arranged to hold a Fat Stock Show in December next, and, consequently, beasts of this type were not exhibited to-day. In their place there were several classes for pure-bred stock and young cattle, which were extraordinarily well filled.

One would have liked to have seen larger sheep and swine sections, but there was no doubt about the usefulness of the exhibits. The entries in the flowers, fruit, vegetables and farm produce classes were large and varied, as were also those of the poultry, dairy and industries classes.

The oragnisation of the show was perfect, a fact which reflects great credit on the Secretary, Mr. J. P. Cuddy, and the honorary Secretaries, Messrs. A. J. Lowry and H. J. Cullen.

Mr. Hanly, one of the judges, spoke to me in the most enthusiastic manner of the horses exhibited. After Ballsbridge, he said, the horses shown at Navan were the best in Ireland. There were magnificent animals at to-day's show, he declared, and the young horses were particularly good. The four-year-olds, to carry 13 or 14-stone, were superb animals.

"I keenly regret," Mr. Hanly added, "having to turn away such animals of such merit, as would easily have obtained red rosettes at any show that I have attended this year."

COMMENTS.

High water (Dublin Bar) to-day at 11.45 a.m.

So much turns upon the weather being suitable that it is impossible to comment freely beforehand on to-day's chances. The strong west to nor'-westerly breeze had lightened very considerably yesterday, and that alone was the sole comforting fact facing Corinthians. Another blow like that of Wednesday, however, or of Thursday for that matter, would mean probably another reduction of sailing such as was witnessed at the Royal St. George Y.C. Regatta yesterday.

THE R.A.Y.C. CRUISER HANDICAPS.

At the moment of writing it has not transpired whether Verve has entered or waited for to-day's R.A.Y.C. match for yachts over 10 tons. Without her Lady Edith, Cariba, Mavourneen, Kismet, and Espanola are left, all considerably "speeding-up" as a result of the ample racing they have had during the past three weeks. The under 10 tons match is the Corinthian Handicap for this class which has been brought forward from August 14th so as to avoid a clashing with Seapoint Regatta on that date.

D.B.S.C. MATCHES.

Nothing out of the way catches the eye in the D.B.S.C. list of matches. Punctilio is expected to start in the 25-Footers' Handicap, which race, by the way, is the second and concluding tie for the Irish Times prize. The absence of four boats at the Shannon Regattas will considerably weaken the water wags match, but there are sufficient left to make up a race.
